Recertification of Sherman county for Bang's and T.B. is continuing, states T. W. Thompson, county agent. Half dozen operators south of Grass Valley still need to test, reports Dr. G. M. Murrug, federal veterinarian. Arrangements to complete these operators are being made as weather permits.

The Livestock committee of the Sherman Cattlemen's Association and local ranchers received special thanks from the state and federal veterinarian's office this week through A. G. Beagle, head state-federal office of the animal disease division. Recertification for the county for a three-year period will be recommended as soon as the remaining operators test, Beagle reported.

Testing to date has covered 93 herds for a total of 2,468 cattle. Three bang's reactors and one infected herd have resulted during this test period.

Taxorama

Probably no area of income tax preparation raises more questions than the problem of dependency credits, according to the internal revenue service, the Oregon tax commission and public accountants who specialize in tax practice.

For federal purposes, each dependent must meet all five of the following conditions:

1. Dependent must have received over one-half of his support from you in 1959.
2. Dependent did not have over $600 income in 1959, unless the dependent was your child or step-child under 19 years of age, or if over 19 years of age, a full time student, in which case the dependent child can earn any amount as long as you actually provide over one-half of the cost of support.
3. Dependent is not claimed by any other taxpayer. For instance, do not list a dependent married daughter who files a joint return with hubby.
4. Dependent must be a citizen of the United States or a resident of the United States, Canada, Mexico, the Republic of Panama or the Canal Zone.
5. Dependent must be closely related to you or be anyone else who meets requirements 1, 2, 3, and 4 and had your home as his principal place of abode and was a member of your household, even if not related to you.

If dependent has worked part time and earned less than $600 in 1959 or was your child under 19 or over 19 and a student, and income tax was withheld from such earnings, dependent should file a tax return to secure a refund of the tax withheld. And, the earlier he files for refund the sooner he will receive that welcome check.

This will in on way prevent you from also claiming the exemption for the dependent—provided, of course, that the dependent meets all five of the basic conditions.

Dependency regulations for state purposes follow the federal ones fairly closely. They are set forth clearly in the instructions.

Also for federal purposes, you can claim the dependency exemption for someone where you have contributed as little as 10 per cent of the cost of support, if you can qualify as follows:

Over half the support of the dependent will be treated as received from you if—

1. No one person contributed over half of the support.
 2. Over half of the support was received from persons who, but for the fact they did not contribute over half of such support, would have been entitled to claim the dependent for 1959.
 3. You contributed over 10 per cent of such support.
 4. Each person besides yourself who contributed over 10 per cent of the support files a written declaration (multiple support agreement form 2120), and the one who is claiming the exemption then attaches the 2120 forms to his tax return when he files it.
- Prior to 1954 the dependency credit could not be claimed by anyone. Now you can take turns, or one can claim it every year. You still cannot pro-rate the credit between you. One must claim the full credit.

WHAT'S DOING

Safety's always in style at the telephone company. And though telephone man R. L. "Bob" Maier of The Dalles may not look it, he's dressed for safety from the top of his hard hat to his climbing boots. Those glasses aren't to correct his eyesight, they are strictly for protection. So are the insulated rubber gloves, safety belt, and other equipment he carries. The special safety devices Bob and other phone men have for each job pays off for them and their families, of course. Pays off for you, too, because safe jobs are good jobs—and good jobs attract the capable men like Bob Maier who keep your service working right.

If you were to guess what is being held in this hand, what would you say it is? A new kind of paper clip? A hairpin? Actually, it's a thermistor, and I'm told it is one of the most sensitive temperature measuring devices known to science. Thermistors first saw the light of day back in the 1930's at the Bell Telephone Laboratories. And they are used by the millions in the telephone business as automatic volume regulators for your telephone service. Recently, thermistors have been carried in satellites and used by medical scientists to take temperatures inside human hearts. Proves that not all space-age ideas are new ones and, when you read about thermistors, you realize how many different ways telephone science works for all of us.

When was the last time you had a phone visit with an out-of-town relative or friend? And how many times have you meant to write, but just never got around to it? Well, nothing's easier than picking up the phone right now and catching up on all the news. I'll bet you'll both get a big kick out of a phone call.

Some folks even set aside a certain night every week or so just for a phone visit. That way their call is expected and they can save on the even lower station-to-station rates after 6 p.m. Pacific Telephone
