Here's what PP&L customer Mrs. Art Johnson says about electric living . . .

"Electricity does more to help us live better than anything else we buy"

"When I think of the many, many ways electric appliances work for us, I really appreciate the big value we get from our electric service. My dishwasher alone saves me hours of time every week as do my washer and dryer. And I'm thankful to have that extra time to devote to family and to civic activities. When you count up all the jobs electricity does for us, you can see why I call it our biggest value."

Like Mrs. Johnson, thousands of Pacific Powerland homemakers are finding more and more ways to put PP&L electricity to work for better living these days.

Be sure you're enjoying the full benefit of your PP&L electric service. See the many modern appliances at your dealer's soon.

From where I sit... by Joe Marsh

Shorty Made No "Bones" About It

Folks thought it was a big joke when Shorty Johnson came back from Center City with a new St. Bernard for his kids.

And the truth was, Shorty did look kind of funny. The pooch practically filled the whole back seat of Shorty's car, and, when he let it out, it stood darn near as high as Shorty did!

But Shorty didn't mind the ribbing. As he explained, "I know I look pretty silly with a dog like this. But when you've got eight kids like I do, and you get 'em a dog, you get one big enough so they can all play with it at once!"

From where I sit, folks should "size up" a situation before jumping to conclusions. For example, because Shorty likes coffee, I used to feel he'd disapproved when I'd have a glass of beer. But after I got to know him, I realized he was a tolerant man—one who'd never think of challenging his neighbor's right to his own opinions. This attitude is typical of most of the folks in our town—one of the things that makes them so "dog-gone" wonderful!
