

LADIES:

Basket social Saturday night, February 24 at new Legion Hall in Moro. Open House to Everyone. So—Fancy up a box and fill it with food—you're probably going to eat with a strange man. (Put in spoons and forks because the Legion doesn't have any so far.

There will be dancing, the kind you watch and the kind you do; there will be cavorting by the old who remember how and by the young who are learning how.

All in a brand new hall that will be the meeting place of the community for years to come. Be there so you can brag about it.

Moro Personals

Ernie Woods came up from Portland Monday bringing his mother and returned Tuesday. He looks pretty good for having parted with two-thirds of his stomach and says he feels good also.

Mr. and Mrs. Wendell Balsiger came home last Thursday after three weeks spent in the south, including a few days in Mexico. Mr. and Mrs. Collis Moore came home Sunday being delayed a little longer than the Balsigers. Thus the wild geese start coming back.

Mr. and Mrs. Harry Dutton were up from Portland where he is editorial columnist on the Portland Reporter, to spend Saturday night with the McKeanes.

Mr. and Mrs. Wes Hadley and daughters are going to return to Auburn, Washington, where he has been offered a partnership with his brother in business. This means the closing of the Moro Floor Covering shop which the Hadley's operated.

Mr. and Mrs. A. Douma were in Prineville recently to attend the funeral of Mrs. Douma's father, John Morgan Elliot, who was 96 years old. Born in Nebraska he came to central Oregon 85 years ago when Prineville was more hope than town. He survived the vigilante times and the cattle and sheep wars to live out his time on his own acres.

Here last week end from Ellensburg and the Central Washington college were Gary Thompson and Walt Reed, two students.

Jack Lawrence underwent an operation in a Portland hospital and is recuperating as expected. He will be home in a week or so.

Mr. and Mrs. Bob Jones drove up from Portland Saturday to spend the night visiting her parents, Mr. and Mrs. E. E. Barnum and other relatives.

Mr. and Mrs. Bob Bernards and children drove to Mt. Angel over the weekend to visit her mother.

A crew from the Power & Light company and Patty O'Meara put in some new electric service in the new office of the company in the corner of the Barnum building, originally the Ginn brick.

Loads and loads of rock were pushed into the ditch near the new Legion building Monday as a means of stopping possible erosion of the bank that could undermine the foundation. Veterans are also hauling dirt and rock to build up the area around the building and leveling off the parking area.

BORN: To Mr. and Mrs. Martin Zimmerman, Wednesday, February 14 in The Dalles, a son, Stuart, who joins a brother and sister. Lloyd Henrichs is getting along very well at home after an operation to limber up a stiff toe and repair the damage done to his veins by a spell of phlebitis last year.

Work has started on the construction of the new home for Mr. and Mrs. Irving Hart on the location of the old Hosford house in Moro. The ground is being leveled and the slab will be poured as soon as the weather warms up a little.

Lorentz Bruun and his crew of carpenters, washers, painters and paper hangers finished the job of putting the Odd-Fellows building back into presentable shape Thursday, the downstairs looking clean and even smelling clean; the upstairs washed and done over to remove evidence of the smoke damage from the December 1 fire.

Hon. R. R. Raymond and wife came through town Wednesday on their way to Bend to take part in the Republican legislator's argument for their side in the coming legislative battle.

Leo Mayers dropped into Moro Wednesday while pursuing his duties as appraiser for the U. S. Engineers out of the Walla Walla office.

Republicans Irving Hart, Mr. and Mrs. Frank von Borstel, Mr. and Mrs. Paulen Kaseberg, Mr. and Mrs. Giles French and Mrs. Frank Reid from Sherman county attended the dinner in The Dalles Wednesday night and heard legislators talk about state problems.
