Rufus News

The Rufus Grade school held graduation exercises last Tuesday May 29 at the Rufus gym. The stage was beautiful with colored sand flowers in their various colors, and other domestic flowers to make the setting complete for the eleven students who received their eighth grade diplomas. They were as follows: Susan Diane Ballard, Donna June Eberhart, Yvonne Violet Holcomb, Barbara Lee Medler, Sharon Ann More, Keith Roger Morris, William R. Myers, Wesley E. Pardue, Samuel Richard Prince, Rudy L. Rutherford, and Robert M. Sitton. The flower for the class was a rose and the class colors were blue and white.

The program started with the processional played by Mrs. Roy Gayman, wife of the principal, who also was the fourth grade teacher in the school last year.

Joe Morris, chairman of the Rufus school board read a "Father's Prayer"; Wesley Pardue gave the Welcome, Lee Robinson, director of the band, directed the Rufus students in several numbers. Keith Morris gave the class history. The eighth grade class sang several numbers accompanied by Mrs. Gayman on the piano. Bill Myers read the class will, Barbara Medler played a piano solo, Sam Prince read the class prophecy, Donna Eberhart played an accordion solo. Barbara Medler read the farewell to the school. Wesley Pardue and Robert Sitton sang a solo accompanied by Mrs. Gayman.

The address was given by Mr. Joe Daley who spoke on what the future will be like in forty years time at the rate the world is traveling now with all its inventions.

The principal Roy Gayman presented the class and Joe Morris, presented the diplomas. Then the class song "May The Good Lord Bless and Keep You" was sung. After the recession, the class formed a line in the back of the gym to receive the well wishes of the family and neighbors.

Last week was a week of activities for the children and teachers of Rufus school. The week ended with a big picnic last Friday on the Rufus school football field.

Every season, George proves it...

MILK IS THE MOST NUTRITIOUS DRINK

Pour yourself a cool glass of milk right now. Pour it to the brim, from a chilled, frosty pitcher. Taste the natural, sweet goodness. Feel the energy-giving, nerve-soothing benefits. Milk belongs on your daily menu. Milk travels so fast from pitcher to glass to your good health!

George Shaw, veteran Minnesota Vikings quarterback, and 1961-1962 Oregon Dairy Princess Barbara Steinfeld, toast good health with a tall glass of milk. George relies upon the quick energy milk gives him during the season... and after the season when he's home in Portland working with June S. Jones Investment Company.
