Moro Personals

Captain Bob Hoskinson and wife are here to visit his parents while he is in process of being transferred to an air base in Utah from his station in Japan where he has been.

Mr. and Mrs. Giles French were in Portland Friday to attend the annual meeting of the Oregon Historical society and were in the midst of the big blow that did so much damage, probably the lesser part of which is assessable or possible to put a monetary value on.

Mr. and Mrs. Clyde Gillmor spent the weekend in Portland the weekend in Portland and she is telling about the damage done to that town. Their daughter, Gertrude Harms had a good day at bowling with a score of 750. Gertie was always a good athlete.

Mrs. Doris Bayer is now working at the ASC office, replacing Mrs. Jerry Miller, who has gone to be with her husband. Miss Sandra Zachary drove down with Mrs. Miller earlier this month and has returned.

Ordie Hoye, returning from a conference at John Day Tuesday night, drove off the highway east of the John Day river and did some damage to his new car. He hitchhiked into Wasco and borrowed a car to get to Moro and some friends went over Wednesday to bring back the car.

Mrs. Elaine Esselstyn, secretary for the Mid-Columbia Planning council headquartered in Pendleton, was in Sherman county Wednesday on some business concerned with the coming report about the area's industry.

BORN: To Mr. and Mrs. Robert Bernards, Wednesday, October 17 at The Dalles hospital, a son weighing over nine pounds. Mother and son doing well.

CARD OF THANKS

I want to tell the friends who remembered me while I was in the hospital for an appendectomy that their cards, flowers and visits were very gratefully received and heartily enjoyed

Sherman countians are dropping in at the Pacific International in goodly numbers, the wheat being shown and time being plentiful. This county has fewer steers in the show than in former years because of the sale held at the Sherman County fair. Orville Ruggles and Orval Patnode have a pair of Shorthorn steers at the show for their children.

Mr. and Mrs. James Tiwater returned Tuesday evening from Reno, Nevada where they had spent several days on their wedding trip. She was Mrs. Leta Eslinger and is owner of the Moro Hotel while he is engaged in sanitation work that takes him about the country. This will be their home, says Mrs. Tiwater.

Nineteen members of the third grade class of Wasco and their teacher, Mrs. Grace Zevely, watched the Sherman County Journal roll off the press and dance the twist through the paper folder with all the interest and inquisitiveness of the first ten years of life. Then, home again, they sat down to their desks and wrote cordial and polite notes of thanks to the editor and pressman who showed them around.

Mr. and Mrs. Jack Smith were here Tuesday from Condon to get around on behalf of his candidacy for the state legislature and visit with Al Ullman who was here for lunch. The Smiths have recently bought her family (Parman) ranch near Condon, Hub Kirkpatrick, a brother in law, having decided to retire.

Family Planning

Information that can lead to better planning for your family in the years ahead can be found in a new Oregon State University circular.

Most families pass through five stages in a 50 to 60 year lifespan. These are the "family founding, child bearing, child rearing, child launching and empty nest" stages. Each stage presents particular challenges and tasks to be accomplished, says author Mrs. Robert Frasier, extension family life specialist.

A young couple starting marriage can predict about a two-year interval before the birth of the first child. The last baby will probably be born about six years after marriage. Parents can expect their youngest to marry soon after their 25th wedding anniversary.

Parents may feel they spend most of their years with their children but surveys show that more than half of their married years will be spent after children are grown and away from home, points out Mrs. Frasier. The husband is likely to precede his wife in death, leaving her a widow for about 16 years.

Rufus News

By Mrs. George Fox

The Home Ec Club of the Rufus Grange met October 11 at the Rufus Grange hall for a no-host luncheon. After lunch Mrs. Otto Petersen, chairman, called the business meeting to order. Mrs. Petersen asked all to bring their White Satin Sugar labels to the Grange meeting Oct. 18, and they will be counted

The club doesn't plan a rummage sale this fall, but will plan a bazaar for next fall in Rufus. The Grange will sponsor a dues paying dinner Nov. 15 at 6:30 p. m.

The club will plan on having a dinner and lunches to serve on Election day at the hall. This has been a custom for several years, so more and more are expecting the service.

A card party was announced for Oct. 30. This is the first party this fall and there will be pot luck refreshments with the grange furnishing the coffee. Mrs. Joe Morris won the drawing. The next meeting will be Nov. 5 at the home of Mrs. Harland McDonald.

The St. Mary's Altar Society met Monday, in Wasco at the parish house. Mrs. Bill Macnab, president, called the meeting to order while Mrs. Stuart Macnab was the secretary. Plans were made for a fun night and card party to be held at the little Legion hall or at the house of the rectory Nov. 16. All adults in the county that belong to the Grass Valley and Wasco parishes are invited, and there won't be any charge. Mrs. George Fox is chairman. The group also discussed having a Christmas party Dec. 9 which will be a potluck dinner and be right after the late church. A film is planned and treats for the children. The hostesses for refreshments were Mrs. Ed Cardinal and Mrs. Morris Burnett. Mrs. Fred Hill and Mrs. George Fox will serve refreshments for the Nov. 19 meeting. Present for the meeting were the Rev. Father Condon, Mesdames Bill Macnab, Stuart Macnab, Morris Burnett, George Macnab, Ed Cardinal, Tom Macnab, Fred Hill, Don Mitchem and George Fox.

Everyone wanted more moisture here in the county and that is just what we got last week with it raining every day. The wheat is getting green and the grass has been growing also. The ones that deep seeded the first of September have a velvet look to their fields.

Relatives and friends of the natives living in this area were contacted in the Willamette Valley area to see what damage was done during the storm last Friday night. Everywhere there were tales of destruction, the likes of which was never heard of here before. We've been reading about the eastern and central states having storms, so now we know what it means to them.

Mrs. Della Patterson, a sister of Mrs. Bill Macnab, who lives in The Dalles, spent the weekend at the Bill Macnab farm home.

Roy Gayman, principal of Rufus school spent Monday and Tuesday at the principals meeting in Salem this week. Mrs. Jim Fox acted as substitute teacher for Mr. Gayman while he was away.

Mr. and Mrs. Win Roberts are operating the Superior Gas Station just east of Rufus. They took over October 1 from Mr. and Mrs. Norval Bevans, who plan on making their home in Bend. Win has worked for the State Highway department for the last few years and Mrs. Roberts has done substitute work at the Rufus postoffice.

Mrs. Otto Petersen of Rufus heard this week that her daughter Ann, a sophomore in Fresno City college in California, had been elected vice-president of her class and also vice-president of the Fresno branch of the California state teacher's association.

Eastern Oregon College freshmen home for the weekend were Jean Hockett, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Bill Hockett, and Tony Capaci, son of Mrs. Bob Nisbet.

The Wasco Boy Scouts ushered for the Oregon-Washington football game in Portland last week end. Members of the troop, Maurice Root, Mike Foss, Mike Weedman, Bruce Lane, Sandy Spencer, Lee Rathbun and Albert Dormaier, were invited by the Portland District Boy Scout Council. After the game their Scout Master Eldon Lane showed the boys around the Pacific International Exposition where they saw the evening show.

Mrs. Pat Macnab, Mrs. David Richelderfer, Mrs. Doug Shull and Mrs. Dave Miller drove to Portland last Monday for an afternoon of shopping.

The Thursday night Pinochle Club met October 11 at the home of Mrs. Leo Roberts. Co-hostess for the evening was Mrs. Bill White. High score prize went to Mrs. Bob Nisbet, guest player, and low scorer was Mrs. Bill White. Other members of the club are Mrs. Doug Shull, Mrs. Dave Miller, Mrs. Charles Decker, Mrs. Lloyd Gosson, and Mrs. Ladd McGowan. Mrs. Miller will hold the next party Oct. 25 with Mrs. Roberts assisting.

Mr. and Mrs. Floyd Smoiners have moved to the Leona Van Gilder ranch home previously occupied by the Bill Broughtons, who now reside in Prineville.

Sunday afternoon dinner guests of Mr. and Mrs. Carl Ziegler were Mr. Ziegler's sister and brother-in-law, the Robert Dragas of Portland. Since there was no electricity in the Portland area, the Dragas brought along their neighbors who had also been without a hot meal since the big blow. Mrs. Draga used the opportunity to visit her mother, Mrs. Herman Ziegler.

C. A. Hockett, principal of the Wasco Grade School, attended the Oregon Elementary Principals Association meeting at Salem last Monday and Tuesday. Mrs. Nadine Medler substituted in his sixth grade class.

Mr. and Mrs. Vern McGowan from Pilot Rock were guests at the Ladd McGowan home last week. Mr. McGowan is principal of the PR Grade School and attended the meeting in Salem while his wife, Martha, visited with her son, daughter-in-law and grandson, Greg.

Captain and Mrs. Robert Hoskinson, formerly of Moro, were guests of Mr. and Mrs. Carl Zeigger last week. The Hoskinsons have been in Japan for three years and are now stationed in Ogden, Utah.

PFC Milton Fridley was home from Fort Lewis, Wn., last week end to visit his parents, Mr. and Mrs. Kenneth Fridley.

Leland Schwendel and Mr. and Mrs. Bob Byars took a Saturday afternoon drive to Natchez, Wn., last weekend. The Byars formerly lived in the Goldendale area and they enjoyed seeing familiar countryside and picking apples.

Mrs. Don Slawson entertained many guests at two greeting card display parties at the home of her parents, Mr. and Mrs. Bob Byars. The parties were held last Thursday evening and Friday afternoon when Mrs. Slawson took orders for all-occasion and Christmas cards, all-occasion and Christmas wrapping paper and ribbons, novelty gifts, household items, candy and other items.

Mr. and Mrs. Jack Wallace have moved to Wasco from The Dalles and are residing in the Rich apartment on Main street. Mr. Wallace is an apprentice plumber with his father Mr. Glenn Wallace, who was recently appointed City Marshal.

Mr. and Mrs. Lewis Hastings went to Vancouver last Sunday to visit Mrs. Hasting's mother, Mrs. Sadie McKean, who is in a nursing home there.

Mr. and Mrs. Dick Skiles went to Portland last weekend for the Oregon-Washington football game.

Mrs. Nadine Medler took her children to visit her parents, Mr. and Mrs. Frank Zaniker last weekend in West Lynn.

There's an interesting piece of antique machinery near the Miller Garage, but not so antique that it doesn't have some life left in it. Last Sunday afternoon spectators watched a 1912 J. I. Case steam engine in action. It was purchased in Yacolt, Wn., by E. E. Shull, and was used in its day to run a stationary threshing machine.

Mr. and Mrs. B. A. Enswor.n of Olean, N. Y. have been visiting at the Arthur Sargent home the past few weeks. While here the Sargents have taken their company to see Peterson Rock Gardens, to Corvallis to visit their daughter and family and Friday to the coast where they ran into the big storm.

Idah Everett's daughter and husband, Mr. and Mrs. Gary Deal arrived Saturday for a visit. They were in the heart of the storm and stopped in Salem for the night.

Bob Mills came up from Scappose to try his luck at hunting. While here he stayed with Jim White, an old school friend.

We are all glad to see Regina Gamble home after several months stay at the Shrine Hospital in Portland.

Mr. and Mrs. Carl Tuggle left Monday for the Seattle Fair and a visit with relatives.

Jean Hockett spent the week end with her parents. She is attending school in La Grande.

Mr. and Mrs. Wm. McClennan and baby from Portland spent Sunday with Mrs. McClennan's mother, Mrs. L. P. Haven.

Joe Hines and Andy Anderson from San Francisco, Calif., spent their vacation with Joe's mother, Mrs. Elva Dehler.

Marvin and George Hines from Lookout, Calif., spent the night with their sister, Mrs. Leona Van Gilder one day last week.

Mrs. Paul Patrick and Mrs. Keith McDonald attended installation of officers of the Wamic unit in Tygh Valley October 12.

LET'S SEND CHANDLER TO CONGRESS!

"WE OREGONIANS east of the mountains need a man in Washington who can express —and press for— our point of view. He has to know us well to represent us well. And Bob Chandler measures up. He's a newspaperman. He knows how we live, how we work, how we think. He has an editor's incisive, hard-headed ability to interpret the facts and draw valid conclusions. He's exceptionally prepared to serve our needs. Let's send Bob Chandler to Congress!"
