Whom the gods wish to destroy they first make mad, and they have got the Spaniards in Cuba nearly mad enough for annihilation.

The society for Christian Endeavor is undoubtedly a peaceful organization, but it looks as though its convention at San Francisco would lead to a railroad war.

Signs of the times indicate that the president will soon announce the administration's Cuban policy. Also that it may soon be necessary to form an Hawaiian policy.

We are indeed sorry that it become necessary to suspend that admirable immigration periodical The Pacific Northwest. The February number, its expiring issue, was an invaluable messenger to send abroad to people contemplating a home in The Waiting Empire of Oregon.

Stockmen who lock their barns after the horse is stolen begin to realize the situation they have placed themselves in by selling out cattle slick and clear. Beef will command a better price in Portland next year than it does in Omaha or Chicago. There it will be plenty, here it will be scarce.

A tent, with a capacity for seating 10,000 people, has been secured to accommodate the masses who are expected to assemble in Pendleton July 13th to hear the Boy Orator of the Platte, William Jennings Bryan. He will fill but one appointment in Eastern Oregon and the democratic state committee selected Pendleton.

"A small red insect" about Dufur in Wasco county, and "a worm or pest of some sort" about McKay creek, in Umatilla county, is working havoc with the grasshoppers. On all sides may be seen thousands of the hoppers which have been killed by the pest. Farmers are hoping the pests will continue the good work and make an end of the destruction being wrought on the grain crops.

Yesterday H. S. Wilson assumed his duties as receiver of The Dalles National bank. The last statement published by the bank of its financial condition showed it to be on a solid basis and it is believed the establishment will meet all demands of its creditors in full and will possibly leave something for the stockholders so that outside of retarding business for the present nobody will be loser.

Ambassador Hay's address on the unveiling of Walter Scott's bust in Westminster Abbey, was quite a success in a very risky class of effort. Lowell was about the neatest at this sort of performance on the other side. Col. Hay made no attempt at rhetorical flourishes. He spoke of a manly man in a manly way, and with a true American spirit which was very welcome to his hearers. They know his "Jim Bludso" better than his "Life of Lincoln," and if ever he cares to recite it in the cause of charity he can draw the largest crowds at high rates, but he appears to have put away frivolous pen-work as fitter for common folk whose living depends on the sableness of their output. He is now the fine gentleman, who can handle his own fine horses in Rotten Row with the smartest of the aristocracy.

FINE PIECE OF DENTAL WORK.

We called at Dr. Siddall's office today, says the editor of The Dalles Chronicle, and saw him adjusting a piece of "crown and bridge work," consisting of ten teeth and crowns placed upon three roots and one molar, or jaw tooth, without any plate covering to the roof of the mouth. By this means the teeth are retained in the mouth as solidly as natural ones, being cemented to the roots and teeth, and is certainly the best manner of wearing artificial teeth when the mouth will permit.

The doctor attends the dental colleges every two or three years and is thereby able to give the public the benefit of everything new to the profession, and has the only known appliances for repairing "crown and bridge work" without removing the same from the mouth, which saves much annoyance and inconvenience, especially if hard to remove, which is the old way of repairing.

In his work he uses his own invention of dental elevators for the extraction of roots when they are broken off very low down in the jaws. On these instruments he holds patents in this country, Great Britain and Canada, and they are used by many of the leading dentists in all of them, as they will do the work with ease to the operator, and relieve the patient when all others known to the faculty may fail. He also uses the latest and most scientific means for painless operations, as nearly as is possible, by the use of eucaine and cocaine, applied by electricity and known as cataphoresis.

The doctor has been with us nearly twenty years and has always let his work speak for itself, which it does most eloquently. Of late years, however, dentistry has made such vast strides that modern methods have superseded the old in a manner that few realize, and mention of what is and can be done, is a matter of legitimate and interesting news. Doctor Siddall is prepared to give his patrons the benefit of everything modern and at such reasonable prices as to be within the reach of all who wish to have the highest grade of first-class work.

A "crown" we may add, is simply a gold thimble fitted over a broken tooth or root, that cannot be saved by any other means. The piece of work to which we have alluded, can be seen in the window at Mr. Garretson's jewelry store.

In Oregon City at a recent meeting of the AOUW one of the speakers defined the meaning of the symbolic letters to be that the A. O. U. W. "Always Overshadows Unprotected Womanhood."

Travel, a monthly publication issued in Chicago has a well written sketch from the pen of Charles Grissen, McMinnville, entitled "Calamity Sawmill," evidently Jones' mill on the little Nestucca, and the author does some very pretty descriptive writing in the sketch.

Maj. Sprowl of San Francisco, one of our visitors last week, was quite enthusiastic over what was to be seen in Sherman county. It is like God's country up here, he said before leaving for home. You seem to have everything here that man can desire. A climate almost unsurpassed, rich soil, good grazing land, good water and wild game almost at your very doors. What more can one desire? In truth we do not all appreciate the rich natural blessings which we possess in Sherman county.

Sherman county wheat is filling nicely and the grain is farther advanced this year than last. If it has no set back will be harvested from two to three weeks earlier than common. Much of this years wheat is shorter in the stem than is ordinarily the case and we have noticed repeatedly that short wheat does not suffer from hot winds near so much as the long wheat. But so far the weather has been just the thing for wheat. We are confident that Sherman county's wheat crop this year will be very large, and a good price will be obtained for it.

It has been a pleasure to meet in Moro the past week many intellectual visitors from abroad who freely and voluntarily express themselves "in love at first sight" with Sherman county. We may sometimes appear to be ecstatic on this point, but the truth justifies any seeming exuberance. To become convinced that the conditions here are as we have described them, one has but to visit this region and notice its wonderful resources. There has been more substantial improvements made in Sherman county, and on the farms in the vicinity of Moro this year, than for the last five years. As a consequence of all this everybody is busy and there is plenty of work.

District Epworth League Convention

The third annual convention of The Dalles District Epworth League of the Columbia river conference met in The Dalles June 4th and 5th, 1897.

Owing to illness our district president, E. W. Daggett, could not be present with us, which we all regretted very much. Rev. J. H. Wood of The Dalles, read a letter from Mr. D. stating his regrets. Asa Schwartz of North Yakima, was chosen to fill his place. The regular order of the programme was carried out, Mr. Schwartz leading the 8:30 a.m. devotional.

The paper on "How the league may help the pastor," was read by Mrs. Evens.

Miss Mattie Barnes of Prineville, opened the discussion on "Can a league be maintained where there are few or no Christian young people," in which all took great interest and decided that if the older Christians would do their duty in this work it could.

The paper on "Why are some leagues spiritually dead," by W. D. Root of Wasco was well discussed by the convention.

A paper on "What can be done with the literary department in small chapters," was read by Grover Smith of Heppner, which made all the leaguers who did not carry on this department take new courage and determine to do all in their power in future.

The 7:30 devotional was lead by A. N. Wright of Monkland, after which Rev. Evens of North Yakima delivered a sermon

June 5th, devotionals lead by W. D Root of Wasco. The deferred delegates gave in their reports, all favorable bu. Prineville which had not been in active league work for some time but gained new courage and returned home with a determination to again take up the work in that place.

A written report from district president Daggett was read by the secretary.

First vice president Edwin Hill of The Dalles reported having visited Goldendale, Cascade Locks, Hood River and Belmont leagues, all of which were in a prosperous condition.

Vleda Dunlap, corresponding secretary, reported not being able to get the correspondence chain letters around owing to deficiency in the mail service.

The treasurers report showed the financial condition of the work to be good.

Following is a list of officers elected for the ensuing year: President, Asa Schwartz of North Yakima; vice presidents, Grover Smith of Heppner, Almeda Baker of Goldendale, Miss Mattie Barnes of Prineville; corresponding secretary, Miss Vleda Dunlap of Wasco; secretary and treasurer, Miss Mabel Riddell of The Dalles; executive committee, E. N Daggett of Arlington, Robt. Warner of The Dalles, G. M Jenkins of Ellensburg.

The convention instructed Secretary Mabel Riddell to send Christian greetings to E. N. Daggett in behalf of the district league, expressing sympathy and hoping that he and his wife may soon recover.

Goldendale was chosen as the next place of meeting.

Mr. Chipp of The Dalles, opened the discussion on "Junior League Work," what it is and how it may be attained, which brought out some very instructive points how to interest children.

Miss Meda Baker of Goldendale read a paper on the "Christian in Society" which was thoroughly discussed.

Miss Edith Randall of The Dalles read a paper on "Mercy, and Help work" that might be practiced with profit to all the leagues. She gave some illustrations of work done in The Dalles.

Chapter department work has been neglected in many leagues of the district but after hearing what has been done in The Dalles the work will be revived, no doubt, in home leagues.

Rev. J.N. Flesher of Heppner addressed the convention on "League Power," and work.

A 10c per capita tax was levied to defray expenses of the district league.

The evening devotionals were lead by G.M. Archer of Yakima after which officers were installed. After the meeting was dismissed a dainty lunch was enjoyed in the league room.

June 6th—Sunrise prayer meeting was well and profitably attended. At 9 30 love feast, then an interesting sermon by Rev. Flesher after which all attended the Sunday school and listened to a short explanation of the lesson at the close by Rev Hawk. At 3 p. m. Junior League convened lead by Mr. Chipp and Mabel Riddell. At 5 30 the Young Peoples' prayer meeting was held, at which the power of God was manifest. At 6.30 the League service, led by Ethel Dunning and Miss Whiting, was a source of help to all present. All then adjourned to the audience room where Rev. Hawk delivered the closing sermon of the convention. Another call was there made to which two applicants answered and were gloriously converted before leaving the church.

Sketch of Moro and Vicinity.

Fraternally Submitted by Mrs. Isaet Fillson.

We wanted to tell you that your part of Sherman county is beautiful, with its rolling hills of green fields that promise a bountiful harvest. You have plenty of real estate and seem to be willing to share it with your fellows—judging from the generous supply we carried away in our ears, eyes and noses. But laying all jokes aside, we were in love with Sherman county.

Moro is a harmonious, progressive little city. We found this to be true because your citizens maintain a friendly feeling for one another, and a proof that it is a progressive town lies in the fact that Moore Bros building is lighted so well by the new light that is quite as good as electric light. Your residences are pretty and home like, showing that your people are of refined natures. We were pleasantly entertained by Neighbor Wm. Holder and his estimable wife at their home while in your city—their kindness was duly appreciated. We organized a Pacific Circle in Moro June 12th, with 12 Beneficiary members and some Socials.

It is comparatively a new thing for women to insure their lives in order that their little ones or some one depending upon them for the necessities of life should come to want because of the wife and mother's taking off, but life insurance for women is daily becoming more and more of a necessity. Your people grasped the idea at once and will prove wide awake in the work of the order. A good corps of officers were elected.

Get Mr. Brown, the stage driver, into the Circle so we can initiate him when we return June 24th, to put on the floor work with our team. By the way, do you have many story tellers like this same Brown and Sheriff Holder. I thought I could tell "whoppers" but these gentlemen carry away all the honors in this respect. With the greatest respect for Moro and its people I am, fraternally,

The Dalles, June 14. INEZ FILLSON.
