"Come, let us reason together," says the blackmail editor. "Yes, yes" responds the goulish politician.

The bicycle leg is being much discussed. If it gets more conspicuous than need be somebody will be pulling it till it will be longer than it really ought to be.

Gov. Budd will bring mandamus proceedings against Warden Hale, if necessary, to compel him to hang Durrant July 9th. This should settle the fate of the girl murderer.

It is said that a multi-millionaire, whose name ought to be published, gave Durrant's attorneys $100,000 to begin with and promised $500,000 if they cleared the culprit. His motive appears to have been to test American law.

Most of the tariff oratory now being packed away in the Congressional Record may be put to excellent service. Use it liberally without kerosene, put the kindling wood on top and cover over with a light top of coal.

Two hundred Swedish girls, working as serving maids in Chicago, go back to Sweeden this summer to take part in King Oscar's jubilee. They bought first class tickets and will carry back from $500 to $1000 each in cash earned and saved.

Not a solitary Jew vote was cast in the recent Chicago election. It was a Jewish feast day and by rabbinical interpretation the act of placing the cross on the ballot came under the ban of Jewish law. So the franchise was sacrificed to religion.

President McKinley recently visited Orchard Knob, a historic spot on one of the most famous fields of the late war. The knob was captured from the enemy without much bloodshed, on the first day of the battles at Chattanooga. It then became the point of observation from which the other battles were directed. It was from this point that the order for the grand charge up Missionary ridge was given.

The assets of the First National bank of Arlington were sold at auction last week. Several parties bought their own paper for a song, several thousand dollars worth going for two or three dollars. Frick's paper, $40,000, sold for $29. Notes of several hundred dollars were bought for 25 and 50 cents. Thus closes the last chapter in the history of the bank. During the three years since it closed a dividend of fifteen per cent has been paid.

D.H.Smith of Fossil, paid Astoria a visit last week, for the first time in 38 years. Mr.S. came to Oregon on the Sylvia de Grace from San Francisco. The fare at that time was $125 to what is now St. Helen. On arrival here the Sylvia stuck on a sand bar and Mr.S. was obliged to find other means of reaching his destination. The Sylvia, on her return, went on the rocks and sank just above Astoria. She was loaded with lumber for California, which then commanded fabulous prices. The accident caused her master to lose his mind. The wreck has been permitted to remain in the channel until this day and is now a menace to commerce.

The Guarantee Brokerage Co., Los Angeles, must put up good references before any of its advertising appears in THE OBSERVER.

THE OBSERVER would not give a 2-cent postage stamp for a rating in Geo. P. Rowell's or any other (so called) Newspaper Directory.

The Glacier has evidence that pigeons flying about a place protects fruit from birds. The latter take the pigeons for hawks and keep away.

To see the hay that was "dug up" in the park from that old sowing of alfalfa, 11 years ago, one could but call it the king of Eastern Oregon crops. If alfalfa should be cutivated in Sherman county farmers would wonder where they could find space to stack it all.

The secret service department is hunting for counterfeiters who are flooding the country with half dollars of pure silver really worth two and a half cents more than genuine ones issued by the government and the counterfeiters make about two bits apiece out of them. It is a curious state of affairs to make this possible.

The Elks all over the country are making great preparations for the national convention or reunion, to be held in Minneapolis. Each lodge will have a separate car, decorated with the distinct uniform. The special train from Portland will be one of the features of the conclave. Every man on the train, from the car-sweeper to the engineer, will be an Elk. Portland will bid for the next reunion and grand lodge.

The Portland creamety has stopped importations of butter. It started manufacturing 200 pounds of butter per day. The plant has been increased several times and now uses 900 gallons of cream per day, representing the milk of 2000 cows or about 5000 gallons, from which are made 1800 to 2000 pounds of butter every day. Much of the milk is separated at the dairies and only the cream sent to the city. There are few more extensive creameries in any section.

Owing to the excessive hot winds in California this season, the wheat crop there will be extremely short and a large number of the ships booked for San Francisco will undoubtedly be towed to the Columbia river to load Oregon wheat. It is anticipated that the ocean tug Fearless will be busy all summer bringing ships from San Francisco. The Oregon wheat crop is much larger than usual and it is predicted that it will be better than the average in quality. It is fortunate, therefore, that we can draw on San Francisco for tonnage.

The inquiries addressed by President Gompers to the affiliated unions represented in the federation which he is the head, will direct attention, more generally than heretofore, to the immigration question and thereby possibly hasten the passage of the measure which Senator Lodge has so long and so ably championed. If they do not do this they will do good in another direction, for the more people think about it the more generally they will be convinced that the time has come to keep out those who seek to come here only to make mischief.

Some of our exchanges, especially in the Wallamet valley, are railing at the railroad commission and calling the members thereof parasites, etc. This line of argument may be popular in that part of the state, but thinking people ordinarily require some reason before condemning or approving public officials. At the time of the creation of the commission there was a great clamor against the railroads and a demand for maximum freight and passenger rates. An assemblage of 90 men, and they might be better than the 90 of last winter, could not in forty days, unless it were an accident, frame and enact a law that would be acceptable to the people and just to the railroads. As a compromise a commission was provided for and through it the people of the state and of eastern Oregon especially have obtained the relief prayed for at that time; namely, a reduction on grain rates to the seaboard of $2.00 per ton. That object has been gained through the commission and when the hundreds of thousands of tons of wheat shipped out of this part of the state annually is taken into consideration and the $2.00 for each ton added up the cost of the commission is a mere bagatelle by comparison with the benefits received. Sherman county alone will ship 130,000 tons this year and the people feel that the railroad commission is about the best paying investment that they have.

KEEP your blood pure, your appetite good, your digestion perfect by taking Hood's Sarsaparilla, which has power to keep you WELL.

A Fish Story.

A man there was who wished
For a creek where none had fished
Ere he came.

So he sought this whole state o'er
And the coast he did explore
All in vain.

But one day at last he thought
That the tackle he had bought
Might be wrong

So he went to Ginn's and got
Of rods and flies a fancy lot
Then trout from every stream he caught
Six feet long.

Monkland Letter.

J.B.Gregg was up from The Dalles last week.

G.A.Brock and family are spending a few days at Hood River.

Thomas Morrison will commence building his new barn shortly.

Robt. Newton's new house is quite an improvement to his farm.

O. P. Hulse has purchased the Smith threshing machine outfit.

Misses Vesta and Flora Dillinger returned from The Dalles last week.

Morrow Bros. passed here the other day with a threshing outfit purchased from Moore Bros.

All prospects are for a fine crop so far, if nothing bothers. Grasshoppers are doing no damage.

Fairview school closed on the afternoon of the 12th with a nice programme. Quite a number were present.

J.H.Fraser has rented his farm to Frank Belding. Mr. F. will move to Yakima soon where he will make his future home. We are sorry to lose them.

MISS S. B. BUTTERFLY.

Rutledge Topics.

Where is Tom Tug? We don't hear from him any more.

J. W. Engberg made a flying visit to this vicinity last week.

A cold wave again. Wonder if the weather is never going to improve?

Mrs. J. C. O'Leary and Miss Edythe have returned from The Dalles.

Mrs. Goetjen, senior, who has been ill for the past few weeks is slowly improving.

J. V. O'Leary is building a new house in Grass Valley. C.D.O'Leary has the contract

O.P.King has started his meat wagon and all are glad to see it, as fresh meat is hard to get.

Mrs. Walter Rutledge has gone to Portland to visit her sister, Mrs Rollins. She will be absent about two weeks.

J. V. O'Leary has gone to the mountains again. He moved his family to Grass Valley where they will make their future home. Sorry to lose such good neighbors.

Our school is prospering under the guidance of Mr. Estes. There are 26 pupils enrolled and the average attendance is about 20. Pretty good for a summer school.

Crops this way look fine considering the dry spell. If we can have a good rain there will be an abundance of wheat. It looks better than for years. [The rains came.]

Brazil Lecture Course.

As we go to press this week the above lecture course by Rev. Frank Spaulding is on in Moro. Farewell Scenes. Meditations—contrasts. First views of large cities St. Paul, Chicago, New York. Out from New York harbor. Steamship Gregory and old Ocean. The mouth of the Amazon. Mistaken notions. The mighty river. The city of Para. Metropolis of north Brazil and one of the important commercial cities of America. What the people do there. How they live and what openings there are for you. Up the Amazon. Animal and Bird life. Insectivora. The land—its immensity—its wealth, verdure, monotony and gloom.

Closing lessons.

Society. Life, high and low. Dress, ceremony, morals. Amusements—Schools, professions. Pride, politeness, culture. Home life. Birth, Death and the Graveyard. The government—What it professes to be—The actual facts. Its policy, revenue, protection. The Military and the part they play. Its future. Shall we go there and seek a home?

3d. Brazil; the mission field

The land. Its dearth. No song, no seriousness—no conscience. Romanism as there seen. Utter indifference to anything the Gospel has to offer. Absolute hopelessness of the pros sect to human vision. How shall we live? Forebodings, trials, shadows. Openings of the work. Glimpses of day. Sunlight. Striking personal experiences. Adelaide, Dona Louisa, Dona Leodora. Warm personal friends. Gods nobleman Aranjo More shadows. Strange providences Thoughts of home. Final decisions. Heart aches. Tears. Good bye.

* * *

Following is a condensation of the News comments on the delivery of the course in Wasco: "Mr. Spaulding is always appreciated. He is a rapid thinker and a master of English He spoke about 80 minutes each evening and the vast amount of information he gave in that length of time was something wonderful. It was something never to be forgotten. He was exact in his language, pathetic. Showed a result of close observation. He gave a minute description of his impressions of the country. The second evening, on missionary lines, he told how they had labored and succeeded. From his talk one could but get the impression that bigotry, superstition, and almost idolatry, is rampant. In this lecture he appeals to the heart of his hearers. He is always earnest and eloquent, but in this one he perhaps shows at his best. The third night he tells of the gradation of society, its peculiarities as compared with the United States. He expresses himself willing to return to Brazil, should duty call.
