MORO CITY OFFICIAL PAPER.
OFFICIAL PAPER OF SHERMAN CO.
MORO, OREGON.

D. C. IRELAND & SONS, EDITORS.
FRIDAY, JUNE 2, 1899.

Dealers in bunting would like to have Dewey come home two or three times.

The man who is setting up a claim to "the heart" of Chicago would do well to amend his petition by asking for the gall.

Wizard Edison says he will not be satisfied until he has perfected a wireless telephone system. Then, talk will be cheap!

In the Wolverine fight at Lansing in the McMillan-Alger contest many republican leaders are prepared to receive sealed proposals.

Dewey is asked by Pacific coast cities to sail east, and by Atlantic cities to head west. The points of compass on American territory are not as simple as they used to be.

We are pleased to hear that Mayor M. J. Anderson has "reformed" as the village blacksmith in Dufur and joined the ranks of impetuous country jakes who print newspapers, keep a cow and suck eggs for a living. Milton, we welcome you; with open arms.

It doesn't matter to Markham how many have poetized The Man with the Hoe, it was his that brought the painting and the subject before the civilized world. It is not a matter, so far as Americans are concerned in it for criticism of Prof. Markham, the picture represents a French peasant, without a hope, whose parallel has no counterpart in this nation. Not yet; but as to what may come, rests with the trusts, and such things.

In the current number of The State, Washington's model magazine, A. H. Brown makes an assertion that cannot be successfully disputed; that this Inland Empire is now undergoing "a greater amount of development than any other section of the world." He further proves that the more rapid development is carried on in localities "where every man depends upon himself and seeks to mind his own business."

The shocking mutilation of the American dead by Filipinos, and the many other deeds of savagery perpetrated by them, as well as their violations of every confidence reposed in them, confirms The Observer's view of the situation in the Philippines, expressed months ago, that the battles with them is about the same as we have had at home with the Indians and Mormons in territory acquired from Spain by former treaties. But few snakes of the copperhead variety opposed those conquests.

We have often told the story of a hail storm which struck a train we were in, crossing Nebraska in the spring of 1880, en route to the convention which nominated Garfield for president, and have as often been suspected of "yarning" about it. But history repeats itself, and last Sunday a tornado quite like the one described struck pretty much the same territory, and it is reported that hail stones as large as tin cups fell. A strip of country 100 yards wide and 65 miles long, was completely devastated.

J. V. O'Leary, J. Harvey Smith and perhaps two others, appear to be the only sheep men sufficiently interested in their business to exert themselves in the effort to bring order out of chaos in the matter of pasturage in the forest reservation state. They are usually seen at all meetings held for mutual advantage, representing this county ably and persistently. The Dalles meeting, held last week, was one of particular importance but the work in hand could not be finished because of the indifference of tardy people. The only portion of the reservation from which stock is now excluded is that portion north of White river and east of the summit in Wasco county, but allotments to stock-owners are delayed pending applications from negligent owners.

Deafness cannot be cured.

By local applications, as they cannot reach the diseased portion of the ear. There is only one way to cure deafness and that is by constitutional remedies—deafness is caused by an inflamed condition of the mucous lining of the eustachian tube. When this tube gets inflamed you have a rumbling sound or imperfect hearing, and when it is entirely closed deafness is the result and unless the inflammation can be taken out and this tube restored to its normal condition hearing will be destroyed forever—nine cases out of ten are caused by catarrh which is nothing but an inflamed condition of the mucous surfaces.

We will give one hundred dollars for any case of deafness, caused by catarrh, that cannot be cured by local applications. Send for circulars, free. F. J. Cheney & Co., Toledo, Ohio. Sold by druggists.

Halls' family pills are the best.

WILL SUCH EXTORTION STAND?

Representatives of a number of Sucker plow manufacturers met in Chicago recently and formed a trust capitalizing $65,000,000, and taking in the principal plow plants of the United States. This trust is the initial step in the formation of a great combination which will include the manufacture of all farming implements, says the Inter Ocean, adding: "Like the great steel trust, the plan is to accomplish the organization of each branch of the industry and include all in one great combination. Manufacturers of farming implements have steadfastly denied that such a plan was in contemplation, and plow manufacturers denied that they were forming a trust. But here you have it. The consummation of their trust is proof of the eventual intentions of the implement manufacturers. A harvester trust, now in process of formation, will be a second step in the organization of the scheme."

The value of the properties purchased is estimated at $15,000,000. The other $50,000,000 represents the value of the combination. The estimate is not too high if the report proves true that the price of plows will be increased by $15. We do not know the exact number of plows sold each year in the United States, but any probable number multiplied by $15 would much more than pay legal interest on the $50,000,000 of fictitious capital. An eastern contemporary asks this pertinent question: "What do the iron and steel trust managers think will be the effect upon the votes of farmers of a stiff rise in the price of plows and farm machinery and implements, generally speaking? Will it be conducive to the safety and profits of such corporations? Will it not tend to destroy them utterly unless they early cease to extort all the money they can from the people who are necessarily outside of trusts and all monopolistic combination of capital? No wonder politicians are coming to something very like unanimity in their belief that the trusts will be so unpopular that no organization can afford to be suspected of tolerance for them."

June opens grandly. May bid us adieu in a flood of tears.

The EOLCo cases have been again continued by the U.S. Supreme ct., by stipulation.

Holders of life insurance policies will be interested in our 4th page to day in an article concerning a division of the spoils. The question is just beginning to assume shape for a vigorous shake up.

Inspector of U.S. Mails and interior post-offices was here on the 26th. The Moro office is the only office in Sherman county giving perfect satisfaction to the department. In fact this office does two many favors for the public good to be entirely appreciated by all whom it serves.

W. T. Sherman Post, GAR., were greeted by a large assemblage at the memorial services in Moro M. E. ch. Sunday. This is right. Old-timers, who recollect the incidents of '61-'65 do not need these lessons, as others do, to keep in grateful remembrance the cost and sacrifices made in preserving us a nation.

Is Baby Too Thin?

If so, there must be some trouble with its food. Well babies are plump; only the sick are thin. Are you sure the food is all right? Children can't help but grow; they must grow if their food nourishes them. Perhaps a mistake was made in the past and as a result the digestion is weakened. If that is so, don't give the baby a lot of medicine; just use your every-day common sense and help nature a little, and the way to do it is to add half a teaspoonful of

to the baby's food three or four times a day. The gain will begin the very first day you give it. It seems to correct the digestion and gets the baby started right again. If the baby is nursing but does not thrive, then the mother should take the emulsion. It will have a good effect both upon the mother and child. Twenty-five years proves this fact.

SCOTT'S EMULSION, Chemists, New York.

GEN. WILLIAMS' REVIEW.

After reviewing the history of Oregon at Salem last winter, the occasion being the 40th anniversary of its statehood, Hon. Geo. H. Williams closed his remarks in these words, which we find on page 53 of the pamphlet just received from Secretary of State F. L. Dabhar: "My task ends here. Many, and indeed a large majority, of those I have named in this paper have finished their earthly career, and the evening shadows are rapidly closing around those who survive. I trust those who come forward to take our places will think kindly of what we have done, and strive to improve upon our work. I have had my full share of the ups and downs incident to political life, but there are no sore places in my memory. I am grateful to the Giver of All Good and good things I have enjoyed here, and my earnest desire is that God will bless this beautiful state in all its years and in all its borders with plenty and peace, and that righteousness, justice and truth may characterize and exalt its future history."

SHERMAN COUNTY TREES.

Something like a year ago Hon. E. Schanno, member of the state board of horticulture took a quantity of soil from C. W. Barzee's Sherman county farm, which he sent to the experiment station of the Oregon state agricultural college for analysis. April 27th Prof. G. W. Shaw chemist, at the chemical laboratory, made the following returns to Mr. Schanno: "I have examined the soil samples you sent and find that they do not seem to be deficient in plant food. Plant food seems to be well supplied but the soil from below the ground will not think hold moisture well; not sufficiently to supply that essential for strong healthy growth. Experiments conducted in the laboratory with it would indicate that, I think, trees are better off such soils than on them. I may do well for a few seasons, but I am of the opinion that they will ultimately die of thirst. I know of no remedy that could be economically applied that would change the condition of this subsoil although applications of gypsum might do some good in helping to cement the soil particles together and thus compact it somewhat."

We reproduce this for the benefit of all who may be concerned. All parts of Sherman county are not just alike. W. S. Barzee, for instance, raises as fine fruit as anybody in this state anywhere; and there are thousands of healthy trees growing on the high lands of Sherman county that furnish abundant proof of the successful results of cultivation. Indeed, many Sherman county farmers report to us that some of their orchard trees seem to grow too fast—but we have yet to see or hear of a winter killed fruit tree in the county. No young orchard anywhere ever looked better than The Observer trees in Moro; yet, after all said and done, as Prof. Shaw suggests, they may in time be "better off than so." Still, we shall continue the cultivation—and advise others to do so. Every failure of a timber-culture in this county dates back to the lack of intelligence in congress which formulated a nonsensical and arbitrary system of culture, so termed—and from neglect or a careless appreciation of trees—more than from conditions of soil. Carl Preetz' forest, at his home place, is in evidence to substantiate this view.

PROVING HIS POINT.

How the Mesmerist Convinced His Audience of His Power.
Several prominent people were talking together recently in the billiard room of the principal hotel in a large provincial town in the north—a well-known conjurer and mesmerist came to see if the bill poster had left any of his programmes, says the Scotch Nights. Two or three gentlemen began to joke fun at the professor and initiated the latter was some tricker in his performance.

Finally the mesmerist professor stood upon his dignity and offered to give a free exhibition of his skill then and there. He said that he would so place one of the party under his influence that when he had caused the subject to grasp his own nose he could not leave the room without taking his fingers from his nose.

The wager was accepted and one of the party, an alderman gave himself up to the influence of the mesmerist, who placed him by the side of an iron column at the end of the room, told him to close his eyes, and made a few passes over his head. The mesmerist then took the man's arm, brought it round the column and put his nose between his fingers. After a few more passes the professor said:

"Now, sir, you cannot leave the room without taking your finger from your nose."

The victim opened his eyes and at once saw the point of the joke.

THE MARINE ENGINEER.

An Officer with Ten Years' Experience for Which He Seldom Gets Credit.
From time, less than 60 years ago, when the first steam vessel crossed the Atlantic the evolution of the marine engine has been rapid, but he is the class of marine engineers that, above all others, has kept pace with the developments of this fast speeding age, and he stands today the most finished product of a century that has created more new types and more new occupations than any that has preceded it, says the Pall Mall Magazine. The marine engineer to-day is more important than any deck officer, but his importance is as little recognized by the nonsensical marine structure, and on the warship he is even responsible for the manipulation of heavy guns. The eyes that steer the ship are those of the officer of the watch, but the brain that guides the ship to her destination and regulates her internal economy is the brain of the marine engineer. He is the real responsibility, and, we are afraid, his is the least share of the honor that is given to those who serve their country or their employers with courage and devotion on the sea.

THE NEW JUDGE'S TRIALS.

He Did Well on the Bench But Missed His Latin.
Some years ago one of the laymen who find places on the bench of the highest court of New Jersey, thanks to political influence and accommodating governors, was a builder or contractor living in the northern part of the state, and utterly ignorant of law and uninitiated for any judicial position, says the New York Post. Not long after his appointment a judge of a federal court who knew the man met him, and with rather an amused smile, asked: "Well, judge, how do you get along on the bench?" "Oh," was the reply, "I get along very well. You see, I have been on the grand jury a good deal and so had picked up considerable amount of law. But, judge," he went on rather earnestly, "I find I've got to study Latin."

"Indeed! That's rather a serious business for a man of your age to take up, is it not?"

"Yes, but I've got to do it. You see, there are so many words I don't understand. Now, look here, what do they mean when they say laches?"

He pronounced the word "laches," and as he spoke he made a motion with his index finger as if of a man lifting a latch.

The future course of the judge's study of Latin is not recorded.

DISLIKES NAME OF SING SING.

Residents of Penitentiary Town Want It to Be Renamed "Ossining."
The matter of changing the name of Sing Sing village to some other that will relieve it of the odium of "prison" is again being agitated. The president of the village, William Brandreth, says of the Sing Sing name, "I don't understand how the name came from the New York Central and Hudson River Railroad company if the people will change the name of the place the company will establish a new station on the prison grounds, to be known as "Sing Sing station," and use it only for transportation to and from the prison. The people have grown tired of seeing in the newspapers that such and such a criminal has been "sent to Sing Sing," the important word "prison" being habitually left out.

Again, a large number of the wealthy citizens make Scarborough, the first station south, about 1 1/2 miles, their station, and, coming here from their business in New York, leave the train at the pretty little suburb and drive home in their smart traps. The name of Ossining, the appellation of the town in which Sing Sing is located, seems to meet with the most favor as the new name for the village.

Farmers, Think a Moment!

WITH ONE OF
HOLT BROS. ORIGINAL LINK BELT COMBINED HARVESTERS

You can cut, thresh, reel and sack your grain at about the same cost as to head and stack the old way, thereby saving each year your threshing bill. You not only save your threshing bill, but you make a further saving of from four to eight bushels of grain on each acre harvested.

This saving will pay for the Harvester the first season. Then why not place your orders early and secure a machine? Nine hundred and forty farmers are using Holt Bros. Combined Harvesters and they all pronounce them a success. Write to the office for testimonials of leading farmers all over the Pacific Coast. For further information, address
