

Evidently Filipinos who think they have the Americans beaten have not been reading Gen Orlis' dispatches.

The king of Samoa has to board himself and buy his clothes on $50 a month. But then paper collars are cheap.

It takes the annual gold product of Oregon to pay for the case goods imported every year, cabbage, cauliflower, cucumbers, etc., in pickles.

As a punishment for interfering with its plans the Standard Oil company has reduced Ohio to a way station and removed the company headquarters closer to New Jersey.

As Carnegie has stated that he would give away $200,000,000 in charity and other good works, we would like to suggest that he reimburse the Celio Indians for that dance performed at his request in 1893.

Gov. Geer has received an invitation from Gov. Sayers, of Texas, to attend an anti-trust conference, to be held in St. Louis next fall. Gov. Geer looks with favor upon the proposition but has not signified an intention to attend.

Gov. Roosevelt has offered the president all the soldiers he wants for the Philippines from New York alone. But other states will be given a chance to provide a share of the new soldiers, and Roosevelt's example will stimulate them to do so.

The Times-Mountaineer is considering the starting of a swimming rink in The Dalles. It has five feet of water in its basement, which is a most admirable location for aquatic sport.

At the suggestion of J. A. Johnson, U. S. forestry expert in Oregon, something will be done to find, if possible, of what use are ferns? Ferns are more luxuriant than any other plant in Oregon. They flourish on every hillside. If some commercial use can be found for them Oregon will have added another star to her crown of enterprises.

The milk men of Chicago had to combine to save their cows which were being killed without judgment to furnish tests made by tuberculosis hunters at the instigation of a syndicate that had fixed the price on milk. Read this over again—understand it! Isn't that a pretty proceeding? Fully 83 per cent of the farmers shipping milk into Chicago are renters whose property consisted solely of cows. If a whole herd of a poor man's cattle were condemned it would be robbing him of the means of making a living.

The Minnesota high school council lately held a big meeting in Minneapolis in which, among the papers that occasioned acrimonious discussion was one in which the writer deplored the inefficient preparation of teachers and declared that only 4 per cent held first-grade certificates, while 40 per cent held third-grade. He assumed that only 30 per cent of the teachers of Minnesota were really qualified to teach, and asserted that fully "nine-tenths of them could not read fairly a selection, analyze a sentence, or catch a thought in a stanza of Whitier, Holmes or Longfellow."

It is not probable that it is true of Oregon? And if it is true should it not be remedied? The natural answer is "yes." But considering the importance of the teachers work, would not one of the best ways to remedy the trouble be a system of greater rewards to the teachers who are capable by local applications, as they cannot reach the diseased portion of the ear. There is only one way to cure deafness and that is by constitutional remedies—deafness is caused by an inflamed condition of the mucous lining of the eustachian tube. When this tube gets inflamed you have a rumbling sound or imperfect hearing, and when it is entirely closed deafness is the result and unless the inflammation can be taken out and this tube restored to its normal condition hearing will be destroyed forever—nine cases out of ten are caused by catarrh which is nothing but an inflamed condition of the mucous surfaces.

We will give one hundred dollars for any case of deafness, caused by catarrh, that cannot be cured by the catarrh cure. Send for circulars, free. E. J. Cheney & Co., Toledo, Ohio. Sold by druggists, 75c.

COMING STATE ELECTIONS.

Elections for state officers will be held in November of this year in eleven states, as follows:

Iowa—Governor, state officers and legislature.

Kentucky—Governor and other state officers.

Maryland—Governor and both houses of the legislature.

Massachusetts—Governor, state officers and both houses of the legislature.

Mississippi—Governor state officers and legislature.

Nebraska—Justices of the Supreme court and two members of the board of regents of the state university.

New Jersey—Eight state senators and sixty members of the assembly.

New York—Two justices of the Supreme court in the 1st judicial district, one justice in the 8th district, three justices in the 8th district and 150 members of the general assembly.

Ohio—Governor and all state officers.

Pennsylvania—State treasurer, two judges of the Supreme court and one judge of the Superior court.

Virginia—Secretary of state, treasurer and minor state officers and legislature.

Governors, it will be seen, are to be elected in Iowa, Kentucky, Maryland, Massachusetts, Mississippi and Ohio. Legislatures which will elect United States senators are to be chosen in Iowa, Virginia and Mississippi. The state senators elected next fall in New Jersey will have a voice in the selection of a United States senator to be chosen at the succeeding session of the legislature. Of these elections, interest will be keenest in the contests in Ohio, Nebraska and Maryland. Ohio is the president's state and the republican ticket recently nominated is an administration ticket. The outcome of the election there will be taken, therefore, as an expression of opinion on national issues.

In Mr. Bryan's state, Nebraska, the contest will be primarily a test of party strength and as such will be watched with interest by the entire country. Maryland, long considered a reliable democratic state, is now in the hands of the republicans. At the recent municipal election in Baltimore the democrats succeeded in regaining control of that city from the republicans, and they are looking forward to the fall elections with hope of securing control in the state. Such an outcome would greatly strengthen Gorman and the anti-silver element of the democracy in the national councils of the party. The elections of next fall, though comparatively few in number, are sufficiently well distributed to afford a fair index of national sentiment. For that reason they may be expected to exercise an important influence upon the presidential campaign of 1900.

Gen. Tuttle let a rail fall upon the Salem hog last week. No matter; letting the rail drop saved Oregon tax-payers $14,000, without any detriment to the O.N.G.; the companies camping in Portland, as a guard of honor at the reception of the regiment from Manila.

When we came to Oregon the name of Col. W. G. T. Vault was as familiar in this state as household words. Now it is only incidentally mentioned. He was the editor of the first paper printed on the Pacific coast. His daughter, Mrs. Lizzie Kenny, of Jacksonville, was a visitor in Portland last week.

Hon. J. A. Smith of Gilliam was a visitor this week. Mrs. A. C. Sanford is visiting relatives this week in Wasco county. Fire will do the rest, to 200,000 brick at Hoover's yard, after next Tuesday.

Geo. P. Higginbotham will build a large warehouse in Moro. J. O. Elrod has the contract.

The circus in Moro took well yesterday. It reminded us old codgers of the days of Dan Rice and John Robinson, before the trespasses of steam and electricity upset simplicity and started old mother earth to bowling so rapidly that one must look at three rings to catch a glimpse of what a circus is now. We thank Leondor Eros for shifting the scenes back 40 or 50 years. They have only one act in the ring at one time, but they give three hours of solid amusement and it shows that the people prefer a one ring show, so that when the performance is over one may leave the tent knowing that what he paid for had been seen.

Trespass Notice. Notice is hereby given to all persons to keep off and stop going through the ranch known as the Hurlbert place located in Grass Valley canon. Particular notice is given to all parties to stop tearing or pulling down the fences thereon. I. D. Pike, Moro, Or.

MR. HUNTINGTON'S IRON DEAL.

C. P. Huntington has purchased the famous Iron mountain at Durango for $800,000 and now he will erect a series of furnaces and a rolling mill at its base. This famous deposit has never been utilized to any extent, although it has been known for three centuries. At one time or another in the mist of the ages, a wandering star dropped a bunch of iron weighing many millions of tons, which lit upon a fertile plain in northern Mexico, and has remained half-buried in the soil. The surface is covered with iron gravel, if such a term may be used—round particles, almost pure, of various shapes and weight, resembling the gravel that is found in the pits of the north. Underneath this surface covering is an immense mass of metal that appears to have been molten at one time, and resembles a meteorite. A furnace was erected there several years ago, but lack of transportation facilities has prevented the deposit from being generally utilized as mineralogists say it is not suitable for making ordinary commercial iron without mixing with other ores. As Mr. H. owns the railway, and controls the transportation facilities he will be able to get more out of it than any one else. He had been trying to purchase it for several years, but its owners held it at about the price it would be worth if it were situated in San Francisco.
