

GENERAL NEWS.

New York is giving liberally to the Porto Rico relief fund.

The twentieth annual meeting of the League of American Wheelmen is in session in Boston.

The bubonic plague is epidemic in Oporto, Portugal. A strict quarantine has been declared against the port.

Mrs. John Wabmaker, now visiting in Paris, was robbed of $40,000 in cash and jewels at the Elisee Palace hotel.

There is an epidemic of yellow fever at Waxan, a town on the Mexican coast, between Veracruz and Tampico.

Fire at Westchester, N. Y., Tuesday destroyed St. Peter's Episcopal church and most of its contents. Loss, $200,000.

A case of yellow fever has appeared among the United States marine guarding government property at Havana.

The yellow fever epidemic, at Hampton, Virginia, is practically at an end. The quarantine has been raised.

Emperor Nicholas, of Russia, has declared Talmer, Chinese poet, free on equal terms to all ships of all nations.

The brickmakers strike in Chicago is ended. The workmen have secured no concessions and the yards have resumed work.

The supreme grand lodge of the Independent Order of Red Men is in session in San Francisco. There is a large attendance.

The resolution appropriating $100,000 for the Dorey reception was passed by a vote of 53 to 1.

The fourth class German cruiser Geier, Commander Jacobson, arrived at San Francisco, Sunday, on a cruise, 10 days from Apia.

A very rich copper mine has been discovered on the Yukon. It has been bought by an English company and development work commenced.

In the international baseball league games, Brooklyn beat Boston, Philadelphia and Baltimore a close second, third and fourth.

Mules are being sent to Manila in large numbers for the purpose of moving the army equipment to the Philippines from the railroad in the Philippines.

August Mosell, under arrest at Vienna, Austria, has confessed to stealing government securities from France and Russia.

"Foggy," the pug dog mascot of the Maine coast, died of the blowing up of the battleship at Kiel. She fell in a sewer in Boston and was drowned a few days ago.

The Anti-Imperial League in Boston has received the blowing up of the battleship at Kiel. She fell in a sewer in Boston and was drowned a few days ago.

The Pennsylvania railroad is to be the first in the country to establish a system of old-age pensions for its employees. Details of the scheme are now being arranged.

Canadian authorities are considering the advisability of building a railway to Dawson, which will be done if the United States does not grant concessions.

Senator M. L. Hayward, of Nebraska, was stricken with apoplexy Tuesday when about to make a speech before the Senate. It is feared he will not recover.

The Empress of Japan brings news to Vancouver, B. C., that a British cargo boat on the Galton river was hoisted by the wind and carried away a cargo worth $100.

The reported shipment of $200,000 from London banks is believed to be due to the enormous purchases by the Transvaal government of ammunition, provisions and food.

Whitcomb took George Hensen, from his home in Paradise valley, Montana, and severely beat him. He was to be a witness for the prosecution in an assault case.

General Juan Leizaola Jimenez, the aspirant to the presidency of the republic of San Marino, says he has received news of numerous recent successes of his partisans.

The miners are beginning to gain confidence in the ability of the Mexican government to hold the Yaquis on the reservation. Mines in the territory are being operated again.

Five hundred business men of Cleveland, Ohio, held a meeting at which a fund of $5000 was collected to help criminals who are dynamiting cars and creating discord in the city.

Rev. Josiah Strong, who married Perry Belmont's daughter, Sloan, has died of worry consequent on the criticism heaped on him because he performed the marriage ceremony.

Joseph Bonnot, a French Canadian, who had lived in California for 20 years, dying there a few days ago, leaves an estate of $200,000, nearly all of which is willed to local charities.

William Crozer, capitalist and real estate dealer of Rockford, Ill., died on the other day of lockjaw, as the result of an injury to his head sustained in being thrown out of his carriage a week ago.

THE OREGON VOLUNTEERS.

Our boys bring home a fine record of health, courage and military endurance, says the Portland Oregonian.

Why have they made exceptionally healthy, healthy, energetic, dashing soldiers? Many answers might be made to this question.

Several of the assigned national guard battalions of the First National bank of Portland, Ore., taken by the Union Pacific robbers in June, are in circulation in Nebraska towns, being of $19, $20 and $50 denominations. It is held by legal authorities these bank notes are legal and must be redeemed by the bank.

The national revenue in July 1899 was $107,150 larger than in July, 1898. Of this increase, the gain in internal revenue was $21,511,877, the gain in customs was $1,801,774, and the gain in excise taxes and miscellaneous receipts, the expenditures show a decrease of, in round figures, $18,000,000.

The New York yacht club cruise for July 1899, ended on Saturday night at Newport, R. I. The Columbia, the American cup defender, kept her lead by outstripping all the other yachts over the line, but defeating the Defender 10 minutes and 4 seconds, classed first.

N. Y. Coleman, an ex-guy on the battleship Iowa, who was to have been court-martialed on a charge of having been intoxicated while the vessel was under way, was released on Saturday night by shooting with a navy revolver at San Francisco Thursday.

It is reported that three republican members of the senate finance committee are afraid to put the gold standard bill to a vote.

A very rich copper mine has been discovered on the Yukon. It has been bought by an English company and development work commenced.

In the international baseball league games, Brooklyn beat Boston, Philadelphia and Baltimore a close second, third and fourth.

Mules are being sent to Manila in large numbers for the purpose of moving the army equipment to the Philippines from the railroad in the Philippines.

August Mosell, under arrest at Vienna, Austria, has confessed to stealing government securities from France and Russia.

"Foggy," the pug dog mascot of the Maine coast, died of the blowing up of the battleship at Kiel. She fell in a sewer in Boston and was drowned a few days ago.

The Anti-Imperial League in Boston has received the blowing up of the battleship at Kiel. She fell in a sewer in Boston and was drowned a few days ago.

The Pennsylvania railroad is to be the first in the country to establish a system of old-age pensions for its employees. Details of the scheme are now being arranged.

Canadian authorities are considering the advisability of building a railway to Dawson, which will be done if the United States does not grant concessions.

Senator M. L. Hayward, of Nebraska, was stricken with apoplexy Tuesday when about to make a speech before the Senate. It is feared he will not recover.

The Empress of Japan brings news to Vancouver, B. C., that a British cargo boat on the Galton river was hoisted by the wind and carried away a cargo worth $100.

The reported shipment of $200,000 from London banks is believed to be due to the enormous purchases by the Transvaal government of ammunition, provisions and food.

Whitcomb took George Hensen, from his home in Paradise valley, Montana, and severely beat him. He was to be a witness for the prosecution in an assault case.

General Juan Leizaola Jimenez, the aspirant to the presidency of the republic of San Marino, says he has received news of numerous recent successes of his partisans.

The miners are beginning to gain confidence in the ability of the Mexican government to hold the Yaquis on the reservation. Mines in the territory are being operated again.

Five hundred business men of Cleveland, Ohio, held a meeting at which a fund of $5000 was collected to help criminals who are dynamiting cars and creating discord in the city.

Rev. Josiah Strong, who married Perry Belmont's daughter, Sloan, has died of worry consequent on the criticism heaped on him because he performed the marriage ceremony.

Joseph Bonnot, a French Canadian, who had lived in California for 20 years, dying there a few days ago, leaves an estate of $200,000, nearly all of which is willed to local charities.

William Crozer, capitalist and real estate dealer of Rockford, Ill., died on the other day of lockjaw, as the result of an injury to his head sustained in being thrown out of his carriage a week ago.

EQUILIBRIUM IN THE FAR EAST.

As storms and disturbances in the physical world are induced by the forces of nature to attain a balance of force, or equilibrium, so in the world of politics, intrigue and the progress toward stability and balance of power.

The war Japan forced on China for the sake of Corea broke up the old order in the far East. It proclaimed the rise of a new power, but it also revealed the impotence of the world's most ancient empire.

Europe tetraded her position into the confusion in the shape of a ultimatum by Russia, Germany and France, and forced upon the new island power a self-imposed isolation.

These following, as all the world knows, the sudden change in the political order in the far East, the rise of a new power, but it also revealed the impotence of the world's most ancient empire.

The Second Oregon has been mustered out, returned to the state, given the regimental colors, disbanded and, as an organization, became a part of the regular army.

The Second Oregon has been mustered out, returned to the state, given the regimental colors, disbanded and, as an organization, became a part of the regular army.

The Second Oregon has been mustered out, returned to the state, given the regimental colors, disbanded and, as an organization, became a part of the regular army.

The Second Oregon has been mustered out, returned to the state, given the regimental colors, disbanded and, as an organization, became a part of the regular army.

The Second Oregon has been mustered out, returned to the state, given the regimental colors, disbanded and, as an organization, became a part of the regular army.

The Second Oregon has been mustered out, returned to the state, given the regimental colors, disbanded and, as an organization, became a part of the regular army.

The Second Oregon has been mustered out, returned to the state, given the regimental colors, disbanded and, as an organization, became a part of the regular army.

The Second Oregon has been mustered out, returned to the state, given the regimental colors, disbanded and, as an organization, became a part of the regular army.

The Second Oregon has been mustered out, returned to the state, given the regimental colors, disbanded and, as an organization, became a part of the regular army.

The Second Oregon has been mustered out, returned to the state, given the regimental colors, disbanded and, as an organization, became a part of the regular army.

The Second Oregon has been mustered out, returned to the state, given the regimental colors, disbanded and, as an organization, became a part of the regular army.

The Second Oregon has been mustered out, returned to the state, given the regimental colors, disbanded and, as an organization, became a part of the regular army.

The Second Oregon has been mustered out, returned to the state, given the regimental colors, disbanded and, as an organization, became a part of the regular army.

The Second Oregon has been mustered out, returned to the state, given the regimental colors, disbanded and, as an organization, became a part of the regular army.

The Second Oregon has been mustered out, returned to the state, given the regimental colors, disbanded and, as an organization, became a part of the regular army.

The Second Oregon has been mustered out, returned to the state, given the regimental colors, disbanded and, as an organization, became a part of the regular army.

The Second Oregon has been mustered out, returned to the state, given the regimental colors, disbanded and, as an organization, became a part of the regular army.

The Second Oregon has been mustered out, returned to the state, given the regimental colors, disbanded and, as an organization, became a part of the regular army.

The Second Oregon has been mustered out, returned to the state, given the regimental colors, disbanded and, as an organization, became a part of the regular army.

The Second Oregon has been mustered out, returned to the state, given the regimental colors, disbanded and, as an organization, became a part of the regular army.

The Second Oregon has been mustered out, returned to the state, given the regimental colors, disbanded and, as an organization, became a part of the regular army.

The Second Oregon has been mustered out, returned to the state, given the regimental colors, disbanded and, as an organization, became a part of the regular army.

The Second Oregon has been mustered out, returned to the state, given the regimental colors, disbanded and, as an organization, became a part of the regular army.

The Second Oregon has been mustered out, returned to the state, given the regimental colors, disbanded and, as an organization, became a part of the regular army.

The Second Oregon has been mustered out, returned to the state, given the regimental colors, disbanded and, as an organization, became a part of the regular army.

The Second Oregon has been mustered out, returned to the state, given the regimental colors, disbanded and, as an organization, became a part of the regular army.

The Second Oregon has been mustered out, returned to the state, given the regimental colors, disbanded and, as an organization, became a part of the regular army.

THE DREYFUS CASE.

The Dreyfus case, the most celebrated case of the century, is in course of retrial at Rennes, France.

Under the text of the judgment rendered by the court of cassation, Dreyfus is not to be tried on a charge of treason, but upon the question whether he committed the particular act of treason specified in the judgment.

The judgment of the court of cassation annuls the sentence of condemnation passed December 22, 1894, by the first court-martial, and sends back to the second court-martial at Rennes on the following issue: "Is Dreyfus guilty of having committed the act of treason specified in the judgment?"

The judgment of the court of cassation annuls the sentence of condemnation passed December 22, 1894, by the first court-martial, and sends back to the second court-martial at Rennes on the following issue: "Is Dreyfus guilty of having committed the act of treason specified in the judgment?"

The judgment of the court of cassation annuls the sentence of condemnation passed December 22, 1894, by the first court-martial, and sends back to the second court-martial at Rennes on the following issue: "Is Dreyfus guilty of having committed the act of treason specified in the judgment?"

The judgment of the court of cassation annuls the sentence of condemnation passed December 22, 1894, by the first court-martial, and sends back to the second court-martial at Rennes on the following issue: "Is Dreyfus guilty of having committed the act of treason specified in the judgment?"

The judgment of the court of cassation annuls the sentence of condemnation passed December 22, 1894, by the first court-martial, and sends back to the second court-martial at Rennes on the following issue: "Is Dreyfus guilty of having committed the act of treason specified in the judgment?"

The judgment of the court of cassation annuls the sentence of condemnation passed December 22, 1894, by the first court-martial, and sends back to the second court-martial at Rennes on the following issue: "Is Dreyfus guilty of having committed the act of treason specified in the judgment?"

The judgment of the court of cassation annuls the sentence of condemnation passed December 22, 1894, by the first court-martial, and sends back to the second court-martial at Rennes on the following issue: "Is Dreyfus guilty of having committed the act of treason specified in the judgment?"

The judgment of the court of cassation annuls the sentence of condemnation passed December 22, 1894, by the first court-martial, and sends back to the second court-martial at Rennes on the following issue: "Is Dreyfus guilty of having committed the act of treason specified in the judgment?"

The judgment of the court of cassation annuls the sentence of condemnation passed December 22, 1894, by the first court-martial, and sends back to the second court-martial at Rennes on the following issue: "Is Dreyfus guilty of having committed the act of treason specified in the judgment?"

The judgment of the court of cassation annuls the sentence of condemnation passed December 22, 1894, by the first court-martial, and sends back to the second court-martial at Rennes on the following issue: "Is Dreyfus guilty of having committed the act of treason specified in the judgment?"

The judgment of the court of cassation annuls the sentence of condemnation passed December 22, 1894, by the first court-martial, and sends back to the second court-martial at Rennes on the following issue: "Is Dreyfus guilty of having committed the act of treason specified in the judgment?"

The judgment of the court of cassation annuls the sentence of condemnation passed December 22, 1894, by the first court-martial, and sends back to the second court-martial at Rennes on the following issue: "Is Dreyfus guilty of having committed the act of treason specified in the judgment?"

The judgment of the court of cassation annuls the sentence of condemnation passed December 22, 1894, by the first court-martial, and sends back to the second court-martial at Rennes on the following issue: "Is Dreyfus guilty of having committed the act of treason specified in the judgment?"

The judgment of the court of cassation annuls the sentence of condemnation passed December 22, 1894, by the first court-martial, and sends back to the second court-martial at Rennes on the following issue: "Is Dreyfus guilty of having committed the act of treason specified in the judgment?"

The judgment of the court of cassation annuls the sentence of condemnation passed December 22, 1894, by the first court-martial, and sends back to the second court-martial at Rennes on the following issue: "Is Dreyfus guilty of having committed the act of treason specified in the judgment?"

The judgment of the court of cassation annuls the sentence of condemnation passed December 22, 1894, by the first court-martial, and sends back to the second court-martial at Rennes on the following issue: "Is Dreyfus guilty of having committed the act of treason specified in the judgment?"

The judgment of the court of cassation annuls the sentence of condemnation passed December 22, 1894, by the first court-martial, and sends back to the second court-martial at Rennes on the following issue: "Is Dreyfus guilty of having committed the act of treason specified in the judgment?"

The judgment of the court of cassation annuls the sentence of condemnation passed December 22, 1894, by the first court-martial, and sends back to the second court-martial at Rennes on the following issue: "Is Dreyfus guilty of having committed the act of treason specified in the judgment?"

The judgment of the court of cassation annuls the sentence of condemnation passed December 22, 1894, by the first court-martial, and sends back to the second court-martial at Rennes on the following issue: "Is Dreyfus guilty of having committed the act of treason specified in the judgment?"

The judgment of the court of cassation annuls the sentence of condemnation passed December 22, 1894, by the first court-martial, and sends back to the second court-martial at Rennes on the following issue: "Is Dreyfus guilty of having committed the act of treason specified in the judgment?"

The judgment of the court of cassation annuls the sentence of condemnation passed December 22, 1894, by the first court-martial, and sends back to the second court-martial at Rennes on the following issue: "Is Dreyfus guilty of having committed the act of treason specified in the judgment?"

The judgment of the court of cassation annuls the sentence of condemnation passed December 22, 1894, by the first court-martial, and sends back to the second court-martial at Rennes on the following issue: "Is Dreyfus guilty of having committed the act of treason specified in the judgment?"

The judgment of the court of cassation annuls the sentence of condemnation passed December 22, 1894, by the first court-martial, and sends back to the second court-martial at Rennes on the following issue: "Is Dreyfus guilty of having committed the act of treason specified in the judgment?"

The judgment of the court of cassation annuls the sentence of condemnation passed December 22, 1894, by the first court-martial, and sends back to the second court-martial at Rennes on the following issue: "Is Dreyfus guilty of having committed the act of treason specified in the judgment?"

The judgment of the court of cassation annuls the sentence of condemnation passed December 22, 1894, by the first court-martial, and sends back to the second court-martial at Rennes on the following issue: "Is Dreyfus guilty of having committed the act of treason specified in the judgment?"

The judgment of the court of cassation annuls the sentence of condemnation passed December 22, 1894, by the first court-martial, and sends back to the second court-martial at Rennes on the following issue: "Is Dreyfus guilty of having committed the act of treason specified in the judgment?"

The judgment of the court of cassation annuls the sentence of condemnation passed December 22, 1894, by the first court-martial, and sends back to the second court-martial at Rennes on the following issue: "Is Dreyfus guilty of having committed the act of treason specified in the judgment?"

The judgment of the court of cassation annuls the sentence of condemnation passed December 22, 1894, by the first court-martial, and sends back to the second court-martial at Rennes on the following issue: "Is Dreyfus guilty of having committed the act of treason specified in the judgment?"

The judgment of the court of cassation annuls the sentence of condemnation passed December 22, 1894, by the first court-martial, and sends back to the second court-martial at Rennes on the following issue: "Is Dreyfus guilty of having committed the act of treason specified in the judgment?"

THE PEOPLE OF OREGON.

The people of Oregon had a right to expect 20 things, in camp or on the field, from the soldiers they have given to maintain the nation's honor.

The people of Oregon had a right to expect 20 things, in camp or on the field, from the soldiers they have given to maintain the nation's honor.

The people of Oregon had a right to expect 20 things, in camp or on the field, from the soldiers they have given to maintain the nation's honor.

The people of Oregon had a right to expect 20 things, in camp or on the field, from the soldiers they have given to maintain the nation's honor.

The people of Oregon had a right to expect 20 things, in camp or on the field, from the soldiers they have given to maintain the nation's honor.

The people of Oregon had a right to expect 20 things, in camp or on the field, from the soldiers they have given to maintain the nation's honor.

The people of Oregon had a right to expect 20 things, in camp or on the field, from the soldiers they have given to maintain the nation's honor.

The people of Oregon had a right to expect 20 things, in camp or on the field, from the soldiers they have given to maintain the nation's honor.

The people of Oregon had a right to expect 20 things, in camp or on the field, from the soldiers they have given to maintain the nation's honor.

The people of Oregon had a right to expect 20 things, in camp or on the field, from the soldiers they have given to maintain the nation's honor.

The people of Oregon had a right to expect 20 things, in camp or on the field, from the soldiers they have given to maintain the nation's honor.

The people of Oregon had a right to expect 20 things, in camp or on the field, from the soldiers they have given to maintain the nation's honor.

The people of Oregon had a right to expect 20 things, in camp or on the field, from the soldiers they have given to maintain the nation's honor.

The people of Oregon had a right to expect 20 things, in camp or on the field, from the soldiers they have given to maintain the nation's honor.

The people of Oregon had a right to expect 20 things, in camp or on the field, from the soldiers they have given to maintain the nation's honor.

The people of Oregon had a right to expect 20 things, in camp or on the field, from the soldiers they have given to maintain the nation's honor.

The people of Oregon had a right to expect 20 things, in camp or on the field, from the soldiers they have given to maintain the nation's honor.

The people of Oregon had a right to expect 20 things, in camp or on the field, from the soldiers they have given to maintain the nation's honor.

The people of Oregon had a right to expect 20 things, in camp or on the field, from the soldiers they have given to maintain the nation's honor.

The people of Oregon had a right to expect 20 things, in camp or on the field, from the soldiers they have given to maintain the nation's honor.

The people of Oregon had a right to expect 20 things, in camp or on the field, from the soldiers they have given to maintain the nation's honor.

The people of Oregon had a right to expect 20 things, in camp or on the field, from the soldiers they have given to maintain the nation's honor.

The people of Oregon had a right to expect 20 things, in camp or on the field, from the soldiers they have given to maintain the nation's honor.

The people of Oregon had a right to expect 20 things, in camp or on the field, from the soldiers they have given to maintain the nation's honor.

The people of Oregon had a right to expect 20 things, in camp or on the field, from the soldiers they have given to maintain the nation's honor.

The people of Oregon had a right to expect 20 things, in camp or on the field, from the soldiers they have given to maintain the nation's honor.

The people of Oregon had a right to expect 20 things, in camp or on the field, from the soldiers they have given to maintain the nation's honor.

The people of Oregon had a right to expect 20 things, in camp or on the field, from the soldiers they have given to maintain the nation's honor.

The people of Oregon had a right to expect 20 things, in camp or on the field, from the soldiers they have given to maintain the nation's honor.

The people of Oregon had a right to expect 20 things, in camp or on the field, from the soldiers they have given to maintain the nation's honor.

The people of Oregon had a right to expect 20 things, in camp or on the field, from the soldiers they have given to maintain the nation's honor.

INGERSOLL'S VIEW OF DEATH.

"What do you think of death?" The question was put to Colonel Ingersoll by an old friend, as he sat in his arm chair on the broad veranda of his home at Dubbo, on a recent afternoon.

"What do you think of death?" The question was put to Colonel Ingersoll by an old friend, as he sat in his arm chair on the broad veranda of his home at Dubbo, on a recent afternoon.

"What do you think of death?" The question was put to Colonel Ingersoll by an old friend, as he sat in his arm chair on the broad veranda of his home at Dubbo, on a recent afternoon.

"What do you think of death?" The question was put to Colonel Ingersoll by an old friend, as he sat in his arm chair on the broad veranda of his home at Dubbo, on a recent afternoon.

"What do you think of death?" The question was put to Colonel Ingersoll by an old friend, as he sat in his arm chair on the broad veranda of his home at Dubbo, on a recent afternoon.

"What do you think of death?" The question was put to Colonel Ingersoll by an old friend, as he sat in his arm chair on the broad veranda of his home at Dubbo, on a recent afternoon.

"What do you think of death?" The question was put to Colonel Ingersoll by an old friend, as he sat in his arm chair on the broad veranda of his home at Dubbo, on a recent afternoon.

"What do you think of death?" The question was put to Colonel Ingersoll by an old friend, as he sat in his arm chair on the broad veranda of his home at Dubbo, on a recent afternoon.

"What do you think of death?" The question was put to Colonel Ingersoll by an old friend, as he sat in his arm chair on the broad veranda of his home at Dubbo, on a recent afternoon.

"What do you think of death?" The question was put to Colonel Ingersoll by an old friend, as he sat in his arm chair on the broad veranda of his home at Dubbo, on a recent afternoon.

"What do you think of death?" The question was put to Colonel Ingersoll by an old friend, as he sat in his arm chair on the broad veranda of his home at Dubbo, on a recent afternoon.

"What do you think of death?" The question was put to Colonel Ingersoll by an old friend, as he sat in his arm chair on the broad veranda of his home at Dubbo, on a recent afternoon.

"What do you think of death?" The question was put to Colonel Ingersoll by an old friend, as he sat in his arm chair on the broad veranda of his home at Dubbo, on a recent afternoon.

"What do you think of death?" The question was put to Colonel Ingersoll by an old friend, as he sat in his arm chair on the broad veranda of his home at Dubbo, on a recent afternoon.

"What do you think of death?" The question was put to Colonel Ingersoll by an old friend, as he sat in his arm chair on the broad veranda of his home at Dubbo, on a recent afternoon.

"What do you think of death?" The question was put to Colonel Ingersoll by an