A Legend of Easter Day.

The aisles in velvet darkness lay,
The pews in shadow slept,
The rows of gilded organ-pipes
Majestic silence kept.
Thro' painted panes a moon beam stole
Along the altar-rail,
And showed upon the steps a group
Of kneeling angels pale.

Each swung a censer as she prayed,
An alabaster cup,
Star-shaped, and lined with purest gold,
With fragrance brimming up.
And as she swayed it to and fro;
Behold! The chilly gloom
Grew soft with airs of Paradise,
And heavy with perfume.

A sound disturbed the seraph band,
They vanished in the night;
But one forgot, and left behind
Her censer pearly-white.
So when the worshippers arrived,
The church was dim and stilly,
But lo! Upon the altar-steps,
They found an Easter lily.

A little incident occurred on the hill which was funny to the witness at least, and if we knew the little woman we would like to pat her on the back says a Hood river paper. Drink and the gang drinks with you, swear off and you go it alone; for the bar-room bum who drinks your rum has a quenchless thirst of his own. Feast and your friends are many, fast and they cut you cold. They'll not get mad if you treat them bad when their stomachs have all they can hold. Steal if you get a million, for then you can furnish bail, it's a great big thief who gets out on leave while the little one goes to jail. Advertise and the dollars will come, quit and they fail to arrive; for how are men who have money to spend to know you are still alive.

POLITICAL BOUQUETS.

Wafted Hither and Thither on Zephrs Fanning the Breeze to Come.

Pendleton East Oregonian.

With warm personal friends and political workers in every precinct in every county in the state, with the record of having been shamelessly turned down by the legislature after having been elected as the peoples' choice for US Senator, with perhaps the widest personal and business acquaintance of any man in the state, Theodore T Geer ex-governor of Oregon, feels that he stands the best chance for the nomination for governor at the coming primary election. Mr Geer has one unique record in Oregon political history, that is: that he has made a personal campaign in every county in the state, several times. In every precinct in every county he is personally acquainted and knows just how each precinct has voted in the past, how it feels now and practically how it will vote at the primaries and feels absolutely certain of the nomination for the governorship.

Polk County Enterprise.

J. R. Whitney, state printer, is asking a renomination at the hands of the republican voters at the primary election in April, is following a well founded custom of the party in Oregon, that when a state officer performs his duties acceptably and make a creditable record he is given a second term. Mr Whitney is a lifelong republican and edited the Albany Hearld for nearly twenty years, a paper known throughout the state for its unswerving course in behalf of the republican ticket and candidates nominated by the party. He is a native Oregonian, a graduate of the University of Oregon, and a practical printer. Since assuming charge of the state printing office he has devoted his entire time and attention to the affairs of the office, and with his long experience in the printing business he has been able to give the state a good, clean, businesslike administration. Mr Whitney is conducting a straightforward primary campaign, and his many friends are confident that he will be renominated by a large majority.

That much we can say for Mr Cake, and much more too if necessary. As president of the Portland Commercial Club, a live, energetic organization, he comes in touch with people of standing and influence from all over Oregon, consequently he will develop a big following in a short time.

Royal Baking Powder

Absolutely Pure

Made from Pure Grape Cream of Tartar

In baking powder Royal is the standard, the powder of highest reputation; found by the United States Government tests of greatest strength and purity.

It renders the food more healthful and palatable and is most economical in practical use.

Housekeepers are sometimes importuned to buy alum powders because they are "cheap." Yet some of the cheapest made powders are sold to consumers at the highest price.

Housekeepers should stop and think. Is it not better to buy the Royal and take no chances—the powder whose goodness and honesty are never questioned?

Is it economy to spoil your digestion by an alum-phosphate or other adultered powder to save a few pennies?
