Sherman County Courts.

Circuit Court, Hon. W. L. Bradshaw, J.,—3d Monday in March, and 1st Monday in October, annually.

Probate Court, Hon. G. B. Bourhill, J.,—1st Monday in each month.

County Court, G. B. Bourhill, J., A. M. Wright, Wm. Walker Commissioners,—1st Wednesday in January, April and October.

To Patrons and Correspondents.

All locals will be run till ordered out, unless otherwise specified.

Don't send us for free publication anything of an advertising character.

Don't ask us to send you names and addresses of correspondents. That is a private matter between them and us.

Copy for ads, changes, etc., must be in the office before 2 o'clock p. m. Wednesday to insure proper care and attention.

Church and Society notices FREE, except when for money making purposes. Such notices at regular rates at the option of the publishers.

Don't send us articles on politics, temperance or religion. Discussion of such subjects only leads to violent and abusive language in the end.

Avoid personalities. Compliments delicately given are always acceptable, but even they must not be overdone, as the charge of incincerity is apt to follow a shower of pretty nothings spread broadcast.

Before coming to the city to trade readers are requested to examine The Observer advertising columns. Its tie active, wide-awake business man who advertises, consequently he is the most economical advertiser, gets the cheapest, and deals the most liberally in every way.

Republicans in and about the Capitol are beginning to doubt the sincerity of His Excellency in his strenuous opposition to another term.

Writing about the National Educational association annual convention in San Francisco July 7, 14, Prof. Ackerman says: "The value of these meetings is well known of those interested in education throughout the state are anxious to have our teachers participate, because it will be many years before another National Educational Association will be so accessible, and because our standing educationally will be judged largely by the attendance of Oregon teachers at this convention. Railways and steam boat lines have granted liberal rates and the local committee at San Francisco assures us that there will be no advance in the regular rates at hotels, rooming houses and restaurants during convention week. Any data or information in any way relating to the meeting can be obtained by addressing Prof. J. H. Ackerman, Salem, Oregon."

One of the most picturesque figures thrown up by the agrarian discontent and populist upheaval of the mid nineties was a silver-tongued congressman from Colorado, rejoicing in the quaint name of Life Pence. A placer miner by occupation, a politician by accident, after the total eclipse of Windy Willie of Lincoln, he drifted from one mining camp to another until he struck Portland at the time of the Lewis and Clark centennial. With the practiced eye of his calling he noted the huge hills fringing the pretty lake where gondolas glided and launches ran to and fro amid the cadences of carnival music and the laughter of happy thousands. He paraphrased an old saying, "If Mahomet would not come to the mountain the mountain should go to Mahomet." In other words, he conceived the construction of huge serpentine slides way to carry those picturesque hills by the kindly diverted aid of Balch creek and other streams, down into that sun-kissed lake, thereby to make vast areas of level land suitable for manufacturing and warehouse purposes. Soon after the close of the fair he started this great work, has persevered through many discouragements and mishaps until today the hissing giants are licking the crumbling hillsides into coffee colored foam, and on the one hand level elevations suitable for charming scenic home building have succeeded the towering hills, and on the other he has made the lake so that man, without divinity, may walk upon the water unaided. It is a great work. One worthy of a master mind. A creative work. One that rises up the visionary populist of '96, the rough and ready chaser after the yellow sunbeams of many an isolated placer camp, and enrolls him among makers of communities, among the benefactors of Greater Oregon.

WOODEN STRUCTURES PASSING.

Structures of any architectural design, to be erected, so to speak, in a day, and ready in a few hours for the installation of the plumbing and heating apparatus, and to be much cooler in the summer and warmer in the winter than anything now known, and to cost but a tenth of what anything of like accommodation costs now, is the sample program announced by Thomas A. Edison. It's not a secret. It is to be accomplished with concrete cement and movable molds. Easy as pouring pancakes into a griddle. Mr Edison is the inventor of a new kind of cement, and has established works in Jersey, where that cement is being made according to his formula and sold like the proverbial hot cakes referred to. He isn't booming the sale of the cement to any appreciable degree, because it is selling out faster than it can be made. But on the subject of cement houses he is full of enthusiasm and wants somebody to get at it quick, being himself too busy with other things.

In effect, Mr Edison asserts that a series of movable, interchangeable molds for houses of varying designs, and all the paraphernalia for using it, would be easily within the compass of a corporation or firm with a capital of $100,000. From these molds, and with semifluid concrete made with cement and poured into the molds, houses could be built in a few hours, ready to have all the windows, heating pipes and water and illuminating fixtures put in place. A day would be ample time, economically utilized. And as to the cost, in this estimation $350 would be sufficient to build a good, artistic, comfortable little house of seven rooms. Another feature which he incidentally mentions is that such a house simply could not burn, would not require repairs, as walls, floors, stairs, roof, cellar, and, in short, everything but the doors and windows, would be of cement. In point of beauty, such a structure would be as readily of artistic design as any other. In durability it would literally defy the gnawing tooth of time.

"Just say for me says Mr Edison that I have tried it and know it will work, and that I would do it myself as a business if I had time, which I haven't. I've been working all day and all night, a few odd hours excepted, for 40 years, and I can't begin to get through with my own work. But such houses as I have outlined would unquestionably be the very thing for the man earning small pay. The rich might at first look askance at such houses, but the time will come when they will live in them, too. I will see this innovation a commonplace fact, even though I am in my 60th year, for I ought, accidents barred, to live 20 years more, at least, and inside of 10 years you will be living in a cement house."

Our immigration laws need revision. The lower house of congress got into a fight on the 13th which disgraced several members, about a foreign immigrant, Fannie Diner, about whom the Commissioner General of Immigration had said to Mr Hopkins that the woman was a blank idiot; that she shrank from the light; that she had sores upon her legs which indicated that she had been manacled, and that she had claws which showed that she had not been properly cared for. In one day last month seven ships landed 11,000 immigrants in New York. Italians, Hungarians, Poles, etc.

The Maxim Gorky incident leads to belief that cognizance may yet be taken of some food takers in our immigration laws. He is heralding his opinions that the mankind would have to invent milk. Milk is Nature's emulsion—butter put in shape for digestion. Cod liver oil is extremely nourishing, but it has to be emulsified before we can digest it.

Scott's Emulsion

combines the best oil with the valuable hypophosphites so that it is easy to digest and does far more good than the oil alone could. That makes Scott's Emulsion the most strengthening, nourishing food—medicine in the world.

murderers of Gov. Steunenberg should be set free, etc., which led up to the knowledge that the woman with him when he landed was not his wife, and that he is not a reformer, but a revolutionist, and Uncle Sam promptly demanded that he sail back to the country from whence he came.

Talks with the Doctor

HEALTH SUGGESTIONS.

A new and interesting presentation of the subject of eating and nutrition is given by Mr Fletcher, who evolved it out of experiments. It differs from other eating cures in having dieting eliminated from it. The only restriction put upon the appetite is that it is enough at first to distinguish when the appetite is normal and when it is a craving and the all gone feeling, which is the result of indigestion. When your mouth waters for food it is the natural appetite, and when the feeling of discomfort is in the stomach it is a wrong physical condition and not hunger. When it might seem difficult to many people to locate this sensation, how easy a matter it is with a little observation and practice understood by one who has taken voice culture, and who locates throat and head, and high and low chest tones. When he learns to recognize and obey only the mouth sensation, as he is directed to eat anything which his appetite craves, without regard to whether it is starch, fat or protein.

The next step is to masticate the food until it is entirely tasteless. This must be done alike as to the solids, and all liquids except water. "Bite, chew, masticate, munch, and taste everything you take into your mouth until it is not only thoroughly liquefied and made neutral and alkaline by saliva, but until the reduced substance all settles back into the folds at the back of the mouth and exits the swallowing impulse. Then swallow what has collected and excited the influence and continue to chew at the remainder, liquid though it may be, until the last morsel disappears in the swallowing impulse."

After taking a course in his own Fletcherizing, the inventor, at 54 could stand physical culture tests which tired freshmen, and which were tried with them and professionally at Yale. Not only energy and unusual mental and physical strength come from the system, but it appeals to the economist as well; as a third of the usual amount of food is found to be required, because of the greater amount of nutriment and less waste which result. There is also an appeal to the epicurean, as there is a delicacy of taste for food eaten in this way which makes it have a flavor undreamed of. Try it.

Prineville Journal.

Development work at the Hay creek coal mines, a property which was opened up a few weeks ago, has disclosed several good veins of bituminous coal, all of which will be worked as rapidly as possible. For the past two weeks men at work on the property have drifted in on the larger vein, which has a width of 5 feet, and the tunnel is now between 30 and 40 feet in length. The tunnel is being sunk into the side of the ridge and as yet no considerable depth below the surface has been attained. In consequence the coal is still capped with clay and the cap rock, but this will disappear as the tunnel is sunk farther into the ridge and away from the surface.

Prospect work has also been carried on throughout the claims which were located by different associations soon after the first discovery; and, in all of these workings have been found. Other tunnels will be sunk as soon as possible where the best surface indications exist. From the tunnel in which work is now being directed a large number of tons of the fuel has been taken and thrown on the dump. The coal is being used in the camp for cooking purposes and in the blacksmith forges and is giving satisfaction. Quite a number of samples have been distributed during the past week and tests made of the burning and heating qualities with good results.

WOMAN SUFFRAGE.

At the coming June election the question will be before us as to whether the women of our state shall have the God given right of a voice in the making of the laws

Judge Smith, who is to be governor of the Philippines, explains why the Filipino is suspicious of Uncle Sam. We do not act consistent with promises. Our policy in regard to tobacco, for instance, prevents the use of Connecticut leaf for cigar wrappers, and compels Sumatra leaf from Germany. The Filipino statistician will show you that the islands produce only 300,000 tons of sugar annually, while the United States imports yearly 1,400,000 tons. He says that America could take all of his sugar duty free, and yet be obliged to import from abroad more than 1,000,000 tons every year. He cannot understand why we continue to tax his sugar in these circumstances and it makes it difficult for us to convince him of our good intentions.

which govern them and saying equally with man how their money shall be expended and how their property shall be protected. Voted, are you willing to say to your wife, daughter, mother or sweetheart that they are incapable to intelligently exercise the right of suffrage, the right for which more blood has been spilled upon the field of battle than for any other? Are you to say to them that they are not the equal of the foreigner who comes to our land ignorant of our laws and our institutions? Invited here to aid in the election of our officers and the framing of our laws while the intelligent American woman is told that she is not qualified to have a voice in the affairs of state? Such conditions should cause the manhood of America to blush for shame.

Last week Miss Mary N. Chase, of New Hampshire, spoke to the point upon this issue, but the man politicians monopolized The Old Reliable, and we were unable to report her. She, however, made a good beginning for success in Sherman county of the pending amendment. At the close of the meeting an Equal Suffrage Campaign Committee was organized with 29 members, and officers as follows: Chairman, Mrs. Ella Slayback. Secretary, Miss Jessie Blair. Members enrolled, E.S. Hornady, Mr. and Mrs. J.P. Strahl, J.L. Vankirk, Mrs. Julia H. DeMoss, Mrs. Nellie Cushman, Mrs. Minnie B. Garlick, Mr. and Mrs. J.B. Mowry, Geo. Mowry, Will Mowry, Mrs. W. Stanley, Rev. and Mrs. Adams, Mrs. Lorena Meindl, Mrs. M.L. Hocking, H.O. Shugart, J.M. Dunahoo, Mr. and Mrs. O.W. Axtell, Geo. A. Urquhart, P.P. DeMoss, Mrs. James Woods, Mrs. W.B. McCov, Mrs. J.F. IN MEMORIAM.

Deaths of Father Kaseberg, Miss Emma Gosh, Mrs. Nels Hanson.

Referring to the death of John C. Kaseberg, at Walla Walla, mentioned in The Observer last week, the Statesman says: John C. Kaseberg, brother of Henry Kaseberg, the old pioneer, died at the family residence, 318 East Rose street, at 12:30 o'clock last night of asthma, aged 74 years. Mr. Kaseberg lately returned from California, where he spent the winter. The funeral will take place from the residence Wednesday afternoon at 2 o'clock. Mr. Kaseberg was a native of Germany and came to the United States when a mere lad. For years he farmed in Oregon, amassing a considerable fortune. He moved to Walla Walla some years ago to make his home. He is survived by seven children as follows: Mrs. W. R. Copeland, Henry J. Kaseberg, Mrs. W. C. Bennett, Amelia Kaseberg and Albert Kaseberg; all of Walla Walla; John R. Kaseberg and E. E. Kaseberg, of Wasco, Oregon, where the family formerly resided.

Beloved, kind, generous and esteemed Mrs. Nels Hanson is no more. She died at the Monkland farm residence Saturday a.m. 14th, and the funeral was attended Monday by loving friends and neighbors, whose sympathies were extended to the husband and father in his great grief. But she has gone to her rest, where trouble ceases and all is perfect peace. The bereaved who with sorrowing hearts had to see the loved one pass forever from their view in this world should remember that even at its worst this is only perfect rest. Here in this world our happiest and brightest hours are mixed with sorrow therefore let us grieve as little as possible trusting that there is a brighter world beyond the grave.

The funeral of Miss Emma Gosh, took place in Monkland Sunday morning. Deceased was a daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Henry Gosh, and a very bright and promising girl. She was never strong, but might have lived to fill the hopes of her parents but for a recent very severe attack of pneumonia. A large concourse of people attended the funeral and many tender sympathies were awakened in sadness with the sorrows of the stricken parents and bereaved friends.

The Imported Percheron Stallion

Pasteur, 55400, 40078.

Black, small star and snip; foaled April 30, 1902. Bred by M. Caillou, Thel, Orne, France. Sired by Scipion (43867) dam Pastille (25673) by Louis D'Or (5891) 2d dam Pelotte (25247) by Chartrain, 1405.—Will make the ensuing season at

Mondays and Tuesdays, John Christiansen's farm

Wednesdays and Thursdays, J. F. Belshoe's farm

Fridays and Saturdays, Moro

Pasteur is one of the very best draft horses that ever left France. His physical proportions are perfect and he possesses in an extraordinary degree the high finish and great activity which has made the breed of Percheron horses so famous. His pedigree like his individual merit is the best that can be found in France, his ancestors on both sire's and dam's sides being the most noted prize winners and breeders in that country. His sire, Scipion, was a prize winner at the Universal Exposition at Paris in 1900. He also won First Prize at the two greatest shows in France in 1901. Pasteur on account of his great individual merit won First Prize in Collection at the greatest horse show in the history of the world, that of the World's Fair at St. Louis in 1904.

TERMS—$15, single leap, payable at time of service. $20 the season, payable at the end of the season. $25 to insure, payable when mare is known to be with foal. Mare and Colt to stand good for services. Care will be taken to prevent accidents but will be responsible for none. Trading, selling or removing the mare from the neighborhood forfeits the insurance and money becomes due.

DICKNOMAH

Sired by Multnomah 10369 by Altamont.

Dam Babe Flagerty by Dick Flagerty.

DICKNOMAH is a rich blood bay stallion, with star and black points, was foaled May 14th, 1899, stands over sixteen hands high and will weigh 1290 pounds.

He is one of the few stallions left on this coast who is a direct descendant from the joints of old Altamont, himself one of the greatest sires of extreme speed the world has known.

At his death he was the sire of seven within the 2:10 list.

The sire of DICKNOMAH was a grand horse in every way, who died when horsemen were beginning to appreciate his worth.

The sire of his dam, Dick Flagerty, was a strongly bred Morgan and was a large horse of fine substance and lots of speed.

DICKNOMAH is not only a richly bred horse, but is one of the handomest, to be seen anywhere. His carriage is very stylish and he has a powerful way of going, is speedy and level headed and transmits these qualities to his colts.

His size and individuality, coupled with an excellent disposition, make him a desirable sire. He is absolutely free from any constitutional defect or blemishes and is in all respects a perfect horse.

DICKNOMAH will make the season of 1906, commencing April 1st, at the following places:

The Dalles on Monday of each week.

Wasco, on Tuesday and Wednesday of each week.

Moro, on Friday and Saturday of each week.
