Three steamboats are to be put on the Missouri river between St. Louis and Kansas city. The water ways are found to be all right as soon as some one sets the fashion.

The common sense idea of lowering the smokestack of a steamboat to pass under a bridge, has been inaugurated in Portland this month. This was the popular plan in Indiana and Michigan, along the old St. Joe river about 60 years ago.

Members of Rebecca lodge will give a Poverty Social in their lodge hall, this (Friday) evening, October 28th. All members are cordially invited to be present. A short program has been prepared, singing, a guessing game. Refreshments will be served.

So many of the lady teachers of Sherman county, in attendance at the Institute this week, graced The Old Shack with their presence, that we are unable to enumerate all. The Rufus, Grant and Biggs ladies, however, Misses Omeg, Smith and Swansen, who became specially interested in our work, left with a very favorable impression of what a busy place a first class steam printing establishment is.

There prevails at present an unprecedented corset crusade among the fashionable women of Paris, taking their cue from famous actresses. The society leaders have adopted the theory that the female figure is in reality more beautiful and graceful in its natural lines than with the construction and distortion of the corset. Since the empire style has come in the prevailing plan is to have the weight of the garments largely suspended from the shoulders.

The Observer only reflects the sentiment of the entire community, and of all who attended the Institute in this city this week, when we say that Superintendent Bryant covered himself with glory in the preparation and the conducting of the same to a most complete success, making it the best county institute ever held in this tier of Inland Empire counties, and the equal of any in the state. He displayed generalship in securing his aids and the various parts of the elaborate program which filled two columns of The Observer last week, were carried out with surprisingly prompt detail, even to the grand Shakespearean lecture, Hamlet, by President Mulkey, of Ashland Normal.

It has been found out that the good old state constitution of Oregon has been wrongly printed in all the codes, from Deady to Cotton. The blunder is made in the misuse of the innocent little 'e', in Sec. 24, Art. 4, attached to the word subject, and has been decisive of many law suits probably more than any other in the constitution, and great property rights, and many questions of vast and vital public importance have turned upon it. This disclosure reveals the fact that Deady, Hill, Cotton, Ballinger, all; were remiss in their duty, and did not read their proof sheet by copy. The first error was by Deady, and the final discovery of it was by J. H. McNary, who traced it because of its lack of grammatical construction.

MENT.

Special Correspondence.

A pretty home wedding was celebrated at the house of Mr. J. J. Wiley, October 18, when his daughter Lillian Edna was united in marriage to George Witter, Rev. Holloman officiating.

Promptly at 8.30 the bridal party took their places under a large floral bell and archway which was decorated with ivy and lilies. The bride wore a gown of white silk, trimmed with rich silk lace; and carried a beautiful bouquet of carnations. Her long veil fell to the hem of her dress, and was held in place by a wreath of forget me nots.

The bridesmaid, Miss Ida Orcutt, looked very pretty in a dainty cream cashmere, trimmed in blue silk. Mr. Henry Wimer, of Portland, was best man. The house decorations were elaborate and artistic. The front parlors were decorated in festoons of myrtle, holly and ivy.

There were nearly 40 of the wedding guests to witness the ceremony. After congratulations the bridal party and guests partook of a bountiful wedding dinner. Presents received by the young couple were numerous and costly. Each guest received a piece of the bride's cake in remembrance of the happy event. The bride is one of the favorites of our city. Mr. Witter is a prominent and prosperous young man of this community. The people of Kent wish them a long and happy life.

Regular Correspondence.

Mr. and Mrs. Robert Kaseberg have moved from the W. E. White farm to the Ed Kaseberg farm, the old family home below Gordon ridge. N. W. Thompson will add the White farm to his acreage for the coming two years.

Mr. McBride has given up the warehouse here and returned to Grass Valley.

W. E. White is up here looking after his farm. He was the guest of Mr. and Mrs. N. W. Thompson, and was highly elated with the appearance of things about here, notably Mr. Thompson's improvements which include the largest stock barn in Sherman county, and on the score of convenience possibly the best in Oregon. CONTEMPORARY TALK.

Wasco News.

Ed. Kaseberg is going to Texas. His cousin Robert will run the farm in Sherman county.

Walter Moorehouse has disposed of his farm in Sherman county and will move to Portland with his family.

Wasco has more good-looking young ladies to the square inch, than any town in Eastern Oregon. We make the assertion without fear of successful contradiction.

A most enjoyable event occurred at the residence of Mr. and Mrs. T. E. Sink on the 21st, when a crowd of friends gathered to do honor to the 19th birthday anniversary of their daughter Jennie. A most delightful day was spent, and the anniversary dinner was something to be long remembered.

W. L. Kelly and Fred Fortner have gone to Montana, not to stay. They expect to return in about two weeks. Whether they will come back in an air ship or build one after their return, we could not learn, but we are assured the trip is in connection with an air ship venture. Wouldn't it be great for Wasco to become famous as the home of the first successful air ship.

It was James Whitcomb Riley who said:

They're something kind of hearty-like about the atmosphere
When the summer's over and the coolin' fall is here—
Of course we miss the flowers, and the blossoms on the trees,
And the mumble of the hummin'-birds and buzzin' of the bees;
But the air's so appetizin', and the landscape thro' the haze
Of a crisp and sunny morning of the early autumn days
Is a picture that no painter has the colorin' to mock—
When th' frost is on the pumpkin and the fodder's in the shock.

A north bank laborer named Husted was followed over to Grant Sunday night, and bagged and robbed of $65. He survived the assault, which was intended for murder, but is unable to give a description of the robber.

Moro must have a first class plumber, weather is getting cold and there are a lot of pipes to freeze.

Three Dollar Gold Fountain Pen for $1.50, The Observer Book Store, this month. A hard times bargain.

This is the message of the cornbuds, the squirrel and the bee: A long, cold winter, heaps of snow and a late spring.

Superior round nickel tipped and rubber top pencils, two-for-5-cents, and some for 10 cts per doz., at the Observer Book Store.

All the water pipes in Hotel Moro and some elsewhere in the city, froze and burst last Saturday night. Our plea for a practical plumber here was not too early in the season.

L. W. Ross, the Wasco Jeweler. For watch repairing, jewelry manufacturing, and up to date stock of watches, jewelry and optical goods, call on L. W. Ross, Wasco, Oregon. Nineteen years experience.

Condon Times; Misses Belle and Nannie Fitzmaurice visited on Maryville flat with their little nieces and nephew, the children of the late Mrs. Wm. Quinn last week. They were pleasantly entertained by Grandpa and Grandma Quinn and Mrs. W. J. Quinn. They also spent some time with the Gibbons family. Hospitality was the order of the day and the girls spent a most enjoyable week on the flat.

Homor Davenport, the cartoonist, has combined the crayon with his pen, in fact has become almost as versatile as Hop Smith. While the latter builds light houses, paints pictures and writes books, Davenport breeds Arabian steeds, draws forcible political cartoons and writes magazine articles. It is interesting to note that the commission recently given him by the Womans' Home Companion, to sketch and describe the Arabian horse, and his master, on their own wind-swept desert haunts, is the direct result of Davenport's engrossing love for horses, especially the beautiful Arabian kind. It is said that Davenport threw over a $20,000 position to write and illustrate a series of articles on this subject for the Womans Home Companion.

Amusements.

Moro Opera House.

Tuesday evening, October 30th, you will want to be at the first of a series of grand entertainments booked for eight nights at intervals on an engagement which has been made by the management of Moro Opera House and the Midland Lyceum Bureau, of Des Moines, Iowa. This first of the series will be the appearance on the above date of Mrs. William Calvin Chilton.

Melodramat, who is very high spoken of, both by the press and the public, as a woman of prepossessing appearance, highly cultivated and deservedly popular. Mrs. Chilton is a typical southern woman, beautiful in person, attractive in manners, and with a voice whose cadences are like music. Her recitals must be attractive, as we observe from the many press notices at hand that her audiences are so well pleased that they call her back time after time. Single admission or for the course at popular prices. Box sheet now open at Moro Pharmacy.

MANY A $20 WATCH

Is of no use because it needs a dollars worth of repairs. A watch in that shape represents money that isn't working, and money that does not work doesn't do its full duty.

If you own a helpless, useless timepiece, why don't you bring it to our repair department? We are well equipped to change it into an article that you can again depend upon.

Of course we charge for this service according to the extent of the repairs that are necessary. But in any event the amount will be very small, very small indeed, compared with the advantage of having a "stopped" watch turned into a reliable timepiece.

Good Printing

conveys an idea of success. You may never see the man himself. It's his letter head, his envelope, his business card, circulars or catalogue. You size the man up by these things. What impression of a man and his business do you get if he writes to you on wrapping paper or sale grass stationery? How does yours look? Is it neat, tasty and modern? It is if The Moro Observer Job Department prints it. Better bring in that next job!
