I have been a very great sufferer from the dreadful disease, rheumatism, for a number of years. I have tried many medicines but never got much relief from any of them until two years ago, when I bought a bottle of Chamberlain's Pain Balm. Through my advice many of my friends have tried it and can tell you how wonderfully it has worked. Mrs S A Cole, 140 E. New St., Dover, Del. Chamberlain's Pain Balm is a liniment. Master Francis Nolan added to the bank of elegant wild flowers in our sanctuary Monday, contributing a large bunch from Robr Villa, where he is acting farmer. He accompanied Mr and Mrs Robr to this city that day, their first visit this year.

JN Spencer, the new Klondike Nasby was a recent social visitor at The Observer shack. Being handicapped as a farmer, having lost a leg, he is now trying the postoffice and carrying a supply stock of light goods, in hope of an easier life. We sincerely trust that his hopes may be fully realized.

This years wheat crop ought to bring $3.00 a sack, since Nebraska, Kansas, Oklahoma, Missouri, Iowa, California, et al, have fed the most of their crop to that big green bug with the unpronounceable name, (toxicoptera graminiun) Texas is also no longer mentioned as a possibility in connection with the current wheat crop.

Billy McDonald, the pushing Nasby at the old-time immigrant crossing of John Day river, now the bustling county postoffice known as McDonald, paid us a good visit on the 22d. He is hopeful of extending the Klondike-McDonald mail on to a connection with the Condon-Arlington line, a link which is very much needed. It is only 12 miles across against a hundred or more miles around.

The Harriman-Roosevelt Aunias Club met in EW Lewis parlors on the 21st, where The Observer and Ping Pong were discussed without stint, concerning that eagle shot at a distance of three miles by Mr. Stewart's mtn navy rifle. Witnesses from the Doubting Thomases were invited to give their opinions: Dad Peets claimed that it was a perfidious, fallacious and mendacious exaggeration, and should be characterized by a shorter and uglier word. This was plain English, but he added a few remarks in German that the reporter failed to catch on. Billy Morgan insisted that it was a premeditated and indefensible misrepresentation. Roy Powell asserted that it was a meretricious and unvarnished misstatement. Satan Axtell declared it to be deliberately and unqualifiedly atrocious. After all who wished had offered their opinions in behalf of the J. S. Frank Sayres appeared and stated that he had positive proof at home that the item as published in The Observer of the 12th was true, as the birds, there were two; had fallen in his barn lot the evening before, reaching the earth on the 13th day after the shots were fired.

For accommodating the public by allowing travel to go through his fields to avoid a wash out in the road, Ora Elliot has been hunting horses since the 10th of April. Scamson of a gun left the gap open. He is still shy one mare, advertised in another column.

Mr and Mrs Levi Clark, parents of Mrs WO Hadley celebrated their golden wedding anniversary last Sunday. The day was most pleasantly spent, one of the pleasantest of a gold-headed cane to father and a diamond ring to mother.

There is much more truth than poetry in statements that a higher stage of water than ever before in the Columbia river may be expected in about 40 days, unless the weather shall continue cold. Snow in the mountains on the Cascades on up and into Canada, is now from six to 20 feet deep. And it will take a broiling sun to fetch it down.

The charred and saturated magazines which reached The Observer Book Store recently, were in an Oregon paper car with publications from east of the Missouri for delivery west of Pocatello, that took fire at Greentree, Wyoming, and dashed through to the nearest watering tank, where water was poured upon the car until the fire was put out. 20 sacks were totally destroyed and 400 sacks damaged. The cause of the fire could not be learned.

Moro school children left a bank of wild flowers in our sanctuary Monday morning, six inches deep and 30 inches wide. Sunday being a perfect day, we were tempted to say "the only perfect day we have experienced for 10 months," the hills were so inviting that almost everyone who could, forgotful of the past, wandered away up or down as they may, hunting for someone who'd rather not stay in Sherman county on account of the climate! Failing to find such person, attention was turned to picking the wild lilacs, etc., and here they are in all their delightful perfumes, reminding us all of so many things we have to be thankful for.

The Pink Domino criminal caught finally in Portland through the tact of a woman who keeps a lodging house and reads the newspapers, is another example of the worthless boy tearing his good old mother's heart to pieces through his vagabond life. His name is Lane; 19 years of age; saved from the penitentiary by commitment to the reform school two years ago; out by Peary-like conduct, sent to the O A C to complete his education, and where his mother, Mrs O Fraser of Troutdale, supposed him to be when he was holding up the police and everyone else in Portland, masquerading as a pink domino nightly for a month.

Rev Adams and OW Axtell are in attendance at the meetings of the Pentecost Presbyterian at Tutuilla, (Indian) Presbyterian church, six miles east of Pendleton. Several members of this church, large noble looking Red Men, attended the Presbytery in Moro a few years ago, and overhearing a conference of bibblers remarking that it appeared strange where the Indian blood had room for religion, or some such remark as that, not dreaming that the Indians understood them; one of the latter halted, and addressing the spokesman in good English tongue reminded him that "the practice of happiness does much for the power of holiness." These people are of the most hospitable classes and visitors and strangers to the encampment will be made to feel at home and welcome.
