"I suffered with rheumatism for over two years, says Holland Curry, a Key West, Fla. patrolman. Sometimes it settled in my knees and lamed me so I could hardly walk, at other times it would be in my feet or hands, so I was incapacitated for duty. One night when I was in severe pain and I came from it my wife went to the drug store and got a bottle of Chamberlains Pain Balm. I was rubbed with it and found that the pain had nearly gone during the night. I kept on using it for a little more than 2 weeks and found that it drove the rheumatism away. I have not had any trouble from that disease for over three months." For sale by Moro Pharmacy.

That he might have a chat with some friends on the train, Judge EV Littlefield rode to Shaniko with the Portlanders Saturday evening, and was there pressed in by Mayor Lytle for a response to some of the speeches, in which he made some palpable hits.

That it pays to raise Berkshire hogs in Sherman county, and they are easier to raise than inferior breeds of any kind, was attested a few days since when A H Barnum took a car load of yearlings to Portland that weighed an average of 26 1/2 lbs per head, for which the Troutdale packers paid him 7 1/2 cents per lb. These hogs were raised by Mr Barnum at his Lone Rock Stock Farm near Moro.

Hon CW Fulton left the train at Moro Saturday, and was driven by carriage to Grass valley by ex-Mayor LaDru Barnum and WH Ragdale, affording him a splendid opportunity to see some of the valuable upland farms of Sherman county thrown open to settlement by Hoke Smith, Cleveland's secretary of the Interior, then afterwards reclaimed by the Eastern Oregon Land Co. There is just one little item in the chain of evidence in this whole case lacking, to close it amicably in behalf of the injured nation. Mr Fulton is looking it up. It is like the missing pion that had to be inserted to complete the thrashing machine. Poor old Friday, the inventor, worked his life away, down sick with rheumatism, whittling wheel after wheel to fit the connection. After his death his executor sold the model to a practical inventor and in 80 minutes the first thrasher was perfected. We hope that Senator Fulton may find that missing page in the history of that most absurd Dalles Military Wagon road grant.

An earthquake in Hood river valley, after dynamiting some stumps on J Galligans land, opened up three springs, worth $10,000 to the farm, as they furnish a combined surface flow of 30 inches of water for irrigation purposes. President Calhoun, of the United Railways of San Francisco, takes the right view of the bloody work of the strikers down there. He says that to run cars at night now is impossible. He hopes that the era of violence is over, "but this mob I know," he says, "that if any non-union men are attacked, and their lives endangered, and police protection is not afforded, I shall exercise a constitutional right, and arm them. I shall not stand by and see my crews, or any of them, beaten up." The company will not take back any striking motorman or conductor, unless he first surrenders his union card and signs a contract to remain a non-union man so long as he remains in the company employ.
