You are right. We do not print of everything that happens in town. It might hurt your tender spot.

The Jamestown exhibition is not as chaotic as it might be. Visitors say the charges are on a "finished" scale.

A little shower laid the dust a little Tuesday forenoon. It seemed to be natural—such as we should be thankful for.

Mr Akers, the municipal pump-house engineer and electrician, will occupy Mrs Clara Belchee's residence on McCoy avenue.

The fire which destroyed Mr Gibbons farm residence, near Laidlaw, was caused from sulphur in a granite tub, used for fumigating.

DesChutes flies are surfeited with flies, withdrawn into deep recesses, and are actually too lazy to rescue a fluttering fly on the surface.

"Every man at his work" is a statement that never can be truthfully made until busybodies are shut up tight, and all the critics are dead.

Walter Wellman is going to take 29 Siberian sledge dogs with him on his flying trip to the north pole. We should prefer a nice porter-house, medium.

The temporary injunction against oratory in the streets of Boise, Idaho, should be made perpetual, and so expanded that it will cover every other out door point between the oceans.

"A moment, an hour, day, week, month or year revealed off the reel of centuries can never be regained," and if all things were as true as that the world would have no use for debating societies.

We've had no spring, but the obnoxious young thing turned the calendar over to Summer eloped with Winter and when last heard of was in N.Y. state Sunday where they distributed 2 inches of snow.

A professor of something or other asserts that "we shall know something about the spirit world in 200 years." It may be true, and then again, the professor may simply have wanted to say something cheerful.

There should be some punishment provided for a man who will drive a hungry pair of horses 27 mile and not give them a drink of water not a feed before starting back over the road! Water is free for animals in Moro.

As a county seat town McMinnville is a credit to Yamhill county, and also to the state of Oregon. It is noted that the business houses are all that could be desired, and the residences are neat and kept well painted.

The new law regarding weeds is more emphatic than the old one and affects each road supervisor, city and county official, to the extent that all are obligated to keep down and destroy certain noxious weeds, particularly Russian, Canada and Chinese thistle, (white mustard), cocklebur, and silver salt bush, under penalty of not less than $10 nor more than $500.

The O. R. & N. Co. bridge spanning the John Day river, just above Rufus, Sherman county, is one of the finest pieces of work of the character on the whole line. It is a 300-foot through span and 100-foot girder, the longest span of the kind on the entire Harriman system. The structure weighs 625 tons, and every part of it is rigid and solid.

Idleness will not be tolerated by Judge Cameron in Atlantis restored. Fred Cavanaugh, worth $25,000 in Portland property, having an income of $100 per month, was taken before his honor as a vagrant. The defendant took the stand in his own behalf and was inclined to be haughty, averring that his arrest was an outrage. Why, he was a man of means; owned valuable business property; always paid for everything, and only of late had handed the county a fat sum in taxes. "Wealth is no excuse for idleness and dissolute living," said the judge. "But I know of nothing for me do," replied the "capitalist," at which Prosecutor Fitzgerald meaningly suggested, "We need another good man at the rock pile." Cavanaugh thereupon saw the light—not from an ethical standpoint, perhaps, but from a realization that his uselessness was about to get him into serious inconvenience unless he renounced it—so he renounced it, and said he would try to be of some use on earth after this.

 conveys an idea of success. You may never see the man himself. It's his letter head, his envelope, his business card, circulars or catalogue. You size the man up by these things. What impression of a man and his business do you get if he writes to you on "wrapping paper or axle grease stationery?" How does yours look? Is it neat, tasty and modern? It is if The Moro Observer Job Department prints it. Better bring in that next job.
