Send for advertising rates.

FRIDAY, August 30, 1907

To Patrons and Correspondents.

Don't send us free publication anything of an advertising character.

All local will be run ill ordered out, unless otherwise specified.

Don't ask us to send you names and address of correspondents. That is a private matter between them and us.

Copy for ads, changes, etc., must be in the office before 2 o'clock p. m. Wednesday to insure proper care and attention.

Don't send us articles on politics, temperance or religion. Discussion of such topics only leads to violent and abusive language in the end.

Avoid personalities. Compliments delicately given are always acceptable, but even they must not be overdone, as the charge of insincerity is apt to follow the shower of pretty nothings spread broadcast.

The Observer has been established nearly 21 years, and it has some subscribers who have received it regularly for more than half a score of years. Many of these object to having the Old Reliable discontinued at the time of expiration of their subscriptions, and for their benefit, as for other reasons, we discontinue subscriptions only when notified to do so, except by agreement made at the time the account is opened, when it is noted upon the calendar to be discontinued promptly at the time specified. All persons paying in advance at the time of subscribing, will have the benefit of the $2.50 rate for two years, or the $5.00 rate for five years. We send The Observer to any responsible person who orders it, though they may not send the money with the order, with the understanding that they are to pay 12 1/2 cents per month for it, until such time as they may wish to take advantage of the above liberal discounts. From this date we are prepared to discount rates to all leading weeklies and magazines published in the United States, to any prepaid order of The Old Reliable Observer. Come with the money—as that is indispensable.

Telepathy is a favorite topic with some writers, and now is the time for a demonstration, if there is any thing practical in it.

Uncle Joe Cannon's boom, so far as he knows anything about it, is marked 1908. Uncle Joe is too smart to worry now about the next year's crop.

Secretary Taft will not have time to visit Japan on his approaching journey around the world, but the jingoes will work the grapevine telegraph freely while he is in that region.

"Morgan's men," a confederate organization, has just held its largest reunion in Kentucky. First and last Morgan commanded ten regiments, and there were times when they seemed to be twenty.

After vainly trying to reach a harbor on the coast of Greenland, the bark Alkaline has returned to a port of safety. "Greenland's icy mountains" would now cover New England over half a mile high with the vastness of its congealed spray.

San Francisco is still caring for 17,430 persons in 13 refugee camps. But in spite of all its set backs the city will come out ahead if it can clean out its grafters. The refugee camp vote, however, seems to be against the city. Funny, isn't it? The "popular" vote of the common people sometimes passeth one's understanding.

Many have supposed that the Oregon banking law went into effect May 25th last, but this is an error. The law provided that the banks be given 18 months in which to prepare for the enforcement of all its provisions. The law began to run May 25th, but does not affect the banks of the state until Nov. 25, 1908. The first annual statement shall be made to the examiner 12 months after the law goes into effect. May 25, 1908, and six months after that date, (Nov. 25, 1908), examiner James Steel is authorized to begin his inspection of the various institutions.

Prof. Zieblin, of Rockefeller's University of Chicago, and Prof. Bushnell, of Washington, declare that the whole world is turning to socialism, in an effort to escape the burdens that have been piled on by the class to which Rockefeller belongs. Prof. Zieblin is an imported teacher, slaying popular standards in America, including religion, the sacredness of our constitution, adherence to political convictions, etc., declaring that shirt sleeves should be as proper at dinners as the claw hammer coat. He thinks it strange that in a country like America there should not be more of fatherhood and motherhood in the home, instead of so much mastership and mistressship. Really it does appear as though our social fabric must be shaky, to say the least, when we are so reluctant to let our daughters learn to sew and cook, and to make mechanics of our boys.

IS AN OPEN FIELD.

Commenting upon a recent visit of Hon. C. W. Fulton to Salem, the Journal says: "Mr. Fulton admitted after a tour of Eastern and Southern Oregon, that his fences were in fair order, and that he welcomed honorable competition from other candidates."

"It is an open field, and the more candidates the merrier. If I have not conducted myself so as to warrant the people in giving me a second term; if I have not attended to their public business in a way to commend me to their favorable consideration, I ought not to be Senator from Oregon, and have no claims upon the office. The people of Oregon are entitled to the best, and the best man in the party is none too good to serve a great state like ours. My chances I consider very good for succeeding myself, and after seeing as many of the people as possible, I shall leave it to them. There will be no barrel campaign on my part. I was chosen the other time against all kinds of money influences, and used no money myself to influence a single vote, not even so much as buying a cigar for a member of the assembly, and I have no money to make this campaign with, in the sense of any more than paying my personal expenses to get around and see the people."

Mr. Fulton was busy all day seeing his personal friends, and met a great many of them considering that he alighted into the city entirely unannounced. There is a pretty strong sentiment throughout the state in favor of not breaking up the present delegation in Congress, and it is the belief even of some opposed to Fulton, that he will be the successful nominee, and can be elected against anyone the democrats put up.

PUSH OREGON TO THE FRONT

An Easy Way to Advertise the State and tell our Eastern Friends all About the Superior Opportunities We Possess.

On April 29 last, The Oregonian published a special industrial edition, devoted exclusively to the exploitation of Oregon. It probably contained more special and miscellaneous information about Oregon than any one publication that has ever been issued. It is peculiarly useful and valuable to the home-seeker, because it gives the latest and most reliable information about so many different subjects that the home-seeker is naturally interested in. A almost every department of industry is specialized, and both descriptive and statistical information of a highly valuable character is given extensively and in entertaining form.

The American Woman Excels English Sister.

By T. P. O'CONNOR, Ex-Member British Parliament.

THE American woman is just the opposite to her English sister. From earliest infancy she has an opportunity to know boys and men AS THEY REALLY ARE—just plain human beings, some of them good, some of them bad; some of them noble, some of them ignoble; some of them fine, some of them rough. And surely the women themselves, on the whole, must be good and pure and noble or else the American man, with his quick intelligence, his fine brain and his subtle mind, never would have held SO PERSISTENTLY to his ideal. The American likes not only the one woman, BUT WOMEN. He takes the trouble to understand their point of view, their lives and their occupations. He is interested in them, he finds them companionable and makes friends of them, and he has studied them appreciatively and helped them in their development. The American woman, with her quick perception, her lively intelligence, her opportunities of knowing and understanding something of human nature and the protection and the care she receives from her men, is the MOST FORTUNATE WOMAN IN EXISTENCE. Sometimes perhaps she asks too much of life, but she also gives a great deal. She is capable, well read, witty. She is groomed beautifully and wears her clothes with distinction, and her taste is an instinct. The taste of a woman in England is a question of three generations at least. It is a thing of cultivation. With an American it is SIMPLY AN INSTINCT. Indeed, the taste of the American woman is one of the most remarkable things about her.

The thing that the American woman has to be most proud of is that she has made her mark upon this old and conservative civilization. ENGLISHWOMEN HAVE LOOKED ON IN WONDER AT THE COMFORTABLE INTIMACY, THE AGREEABLE FRIENDSHIP AND THE HELPFULNESS OF ONE AMERICAN WOMAN TO ANOTHER, AND THEY ARE BEGINNING TO COPY AMERICAN MANNERS; THEY ARE BEGINNING TO BE AGREEABLE TO EACH OTHER.

Football Makes Gentlemen.

By Dr. CYRUS NORTHRUP of Minneapolis.

FOOTBALL has its bad features, but to say that American college football is no game for gentlemen can only be understood when you are thoroughly acquainted with President Eliot's (of Harvard university) position. President Eliot goes on to say that basketball and hockey are also unsuited for GENTLEMEN. I have a very great curiosity to learn exactly WHAT the president believes is fit for the young college man. I am an advocate of college football, as I fail to see ANYTHING in trained skill, speed, strength and science that precludes a gentleman.

I BELIEVE THE GAME IS MAINLY AND DEVELOPS GENTLEMEN. MOREOVER, I BELIEVE THE GAME IS HERE TO STAY. IT IS GETTING CLEANER AND FREER FROM OBJECTIONABLE FEATURES WITH ITS GROWTH.

Residents of Oregon who know its advantages as compared with the congested and depleted east, and who still have friends back there whom they would like to see here enjoying the good things of this favored state, can aid in a splendid work now without cost and very little effort. If you think your friend would be interested in knowing more about Oregon and might eventually become a valuable citizen, send his name and address to the general passenger agent of the Oregon Railway and Navigation Co and a copy of this special edition, with a complete summary of the several subjects treated, carefully indexed, will be mailed to him promptly. In this manner you may be the means not only of doing your friend a good turn, but of helping to stimulate the growth and prosperity of Oregon.

Do not forget that commencing September 1st, and continuing daily for two months, tickets will be on sale at nearly every railroad station in the east, to all points in Oregon, and the Northwest, at what has come to be popularly known as Colonist Rates. These rates are the cheapest general long distance rates ever established, and enable one to reach Oregon from any part of the United States at but a trifle more than one cent a mile. They are the greatest incentive to colonization and progressive home building of any known agency. And if the restless, dissatisfied resident of the east is made to know before-hand the advantages he can enjoy here, the problem is solved, and the star of empire will continue to move steadily westward.

Now is the time to spread the gospel of Oregon, so that it may be heard and heeded by the time the rates go into effect. Send one name, or two, or a dozen, and you will be exerting a worthy influence toward the upbuilding of our state. Send them to your nearest O. R. and N. Co. agent, or to

Era Meeker and his Fuyallup ozen, are now resting at Oyster bay, guests of President Roosevelt, who put up hay for the oxen and oysters for Era. If the Jamestown expo. should be prepared to put up a bill according to its program, Mr. Meeker may drive over that way, peddle a few books, and talk up his hobby of improving the old serpentine trail, of many miles out of a direct course to Oregon, from Omaha. A trail which everybody who ever passed over it wishes to forget all about it. If Meeker can in part retrieve his lost fortune by talking it up to dispose of his books, that is his "business."

Good Printing

conveys an idea of success. You may never see the man himself. It's his letter head, his envelope, his business card, circular or catalogue. You size the man up by these things. What impression of a man and his business do you get if he writes to you on wrapping paper or sale grease stationery? How does your look? Is it neat, tasty and modern? It is if The Moro Observer Job Department prints it. Better being in that next job.
