A Pittsburg man dreamed that Bryan carried Pennsylvania. Report does not say what he had been eating.

Secretary Wright will make no statement on the case of the bazing cadets. People will soon forget about it.

Yes, Ohio is a doubtful state this year. Nobody can tell whether the plurality for Taft will be 100,000 or 150,000.

LaFollette is about to invest his money in a Wisconsin weekly newspaper. He must know where he can get some more.

Send The Observer to your absent friends. It is better than a letter, and gives all the home news. Four months for 50c.

It is reported that the democratic campaign committee has found $300,000 tucked away in the pocket of an old vest hanging in the attic.

"If licked, stick," is the president's advice; and, as a starting point, the motto may safely be put upon the walls of the stamp department.

Turkish women are to be allowed greater freedom. Inasmuch as they already wear the trousers, the next thing they'll be wanting to carry the latch key.

Last week's rainfall is said to have been worth a million dollars an hour. And yet, prohibitionists declare the country will be better off when it is dry.

Sales of special one way tickets from all points in the United States to all points in Oregon begins September 1st and continues until October 31st. See adv.

Alaska casts 12,000 votes in its election for delegates in congress. The day is coming when the big territory will show more than one voter to 54 square miles.

Marriage in England is decreasing, and the suggestion has been offered that the young men are afraid, if they spread the matrimonial net, that they may catch a suffragette.

The July record of excavating at Panama was 3,168,640 cubic yards of dirt; more than enough to bury the pessimists who so flippantly declare that the canal will never be finished.

In one respect Oregon leads all the Western states. This is in holding the annual state fair, which, in its size and importance, is first among expositions held on the Pacific slope.

Mr. Edison may have forgotten that he promised a cheap storage battery runabout, but if he is busy on flying machines the public will wait for results in a state of hopeful expectancy.

The formal notification of candidates is a pretty custom after all. It occupies the time of the heated term, and gives the public all there is of politics that is useful during a period when the chief desire is to keep cool.

Political agitators across the Columbia are vilely and wilfully abusing the best man in Washington state—Senator Ankeny; perhaps because of his residence in Walla Walla, which is offensive to Seattle. Mr. Ankeny has made a splendid record in congress, and divided his honors with Mr. Jones in the lower house, and this abuse is his reward.

Senator Ankeny can better afford to lose his seat in congress than the state of Washington can to lose him from the councils of the Nation.

IMPROVING FARMER'S LIFE.

In the early years of agricultural colleges, some intelligent farmers held their teaching in slight esteem. The colleges were too theoretical, too scientific, and would bring to practical farming but little aid.

No American farmers are known to be asking any political favors in these golden days of agriculture, and nobody would have any patience with them if they were.

The telephone and the automobile, rural free delivery and the trolley, have reduced the inconvenience of residence in the country to the vanishing point.

An Eastern girl who has $500 in the bank says she is tired of working in a pickle factory.

Gen. Kuropatkin's memoirs of the Russian-Japanese war, which were suppressed by the Russian authorities, furnish the leading article in the September McClure's.

In his letter to the chairman of this commission Mr. Roosevelt says that "while he believes" that the farmers of the United States of a class, are today better off than they ever were before.

The United States geological survey reports that Alaska has coal deposits that can be figured at hundreds of millions and even at billions of tons.

The Baldwin Sheep and Land Co of Hay creek sold 225,000 pounds of wool at private sale last week at 16 cents.

Ellen Terry's reminiscences of English nobles, running from the time of her early friendship with the author of "Alice in Wonderland," to Bernard Shaw, whom she describes as a gentle creature with brainstrains, contain a collection of lively personal anecdotes rarely equalled.

Few men of our generation have left such a broad trail of personal influence about the earth as Ira D. Sankey, who died in New York recently.

The votes are counted by congress the second Wednesday in February.

The president-elect is to be inaugurated on March 4 next.

THROUGH CENTRAL OREGON.

A railroad is soon to be built through Central Oregon by Mr. Harriman. It is not certain yet that its route will be north and south, or east and west, though the north and south line appears now to be preferred.

A day on the planet Jupiter is said to be as long as 50,000 American days. If we had a holiday of that length we'd never get over it.

President Roosevelt's ideas of farm life seem to be drawn from the standpoint of Sagamore hill, where there is plenty of shade and a good sea breeze.

COMFORTING WORDS.

Many a Moro Household will Find Them So.

To have the pains and aches of a bad back removed; to be entirely free from annoying, dangerous urinary disorders is enough to make any kidney sufferer grateful.

Mrs P S Plummer, 612 Second street, The Dalles, says, "I feel it a duty to recommend Doans Kidney Pills to any one who suffers with kidney complaint."

Remember the name—Doans—and take no other.

The Grumbling Ross. "It is all very well," said the rooster.

"It is all very well," said the rooster as April softly sighed a fond adieu.

And thus through all the months of happy summer.

And when the winds of autumn swept the ground.

Oh, let me urge this on you—to remember that no one should enlarge upon a wrong.

For those who spend their time in idle Will find there's not a moment for a song.

When the autumn shadows fall The summer that was worthy of a song.

A GERM HATER'S FIND.

Vanity Shelf For the Up to Date Kitchen Sink.

Who but a germ hater would have thought of a vanity shelf for the kitchen sink?

There is a jar of good scouring fluid, an ammonia bottle, a wide-mouthed china jar, in which she keeps a row of absolutely sanitary.

Young Folks

A LITTLE VOLCANO.

How to Perform an Interesting and Harmless Experiment.

A toy volcano that will send forth flames and ashes with lava streaming down its sides in real volcanic action can be made by any boy without any more danger than firing an ordinary firecracker.

STORY ABOUT THE HORSE. Useful Animal First Domesticated by the Asiatics.

It is said that the horse was first tamed and used in Asia. The Egyptians and the Assyrians used him at an early date, but for a long time after he was tamed they rode him only in time of war, considering him too good for the ordinary work of burden carrying and riding.

After the Egyptians and the Assyrians began taming and using the horse, the practice extended to the Scythians, and it is said that when the Greeks met the Scythians in battle they were panic stricken at the sight of those warriors mounted on the unknown animals, believing horse and rider to be one creature.
