Counterfeit $5 and $10 gold pieces are being passed throughout Oregon and Washington. The dates are 1901 and 1903. In outward appearance the coin is so practically perfect as to completely baffle special details of secret service men. After shedding two of the tens on a Dallas city dealer named Turner, the victim met and accused the thieves and got a good ten back for one of the counterfeit, and then they got away in the dark Saturday night, walking out of town, as all trains were searched. Mr Turner describes them as C J Clark, about 30 years of age, heavy set, nearly 6-ft. tall, sallow, dark complexion; the other man, both registering at the Skibbe, went by the name of A L Davis, aged about 24 years, slight of stature, light complexion having a scar across his right cheek. Both were well dressed in black suits and wore Derby hats. The coins are of very base metal and have absolutely no ring. The plating is extremely thin, and the milling can be rubbed off on a hard surface.

Mrs James Stewart being the lucky number, receiving a handsome Valentine for her skill. Sweet strains of music floated from the piano, with Miss Johnson as executor, while the bright sunshine poured in at the windows, adding brilliancy to the handsome decorations and suggesting an omen of good luck to our worthy friends. Mrs McDanel was requested to present the gifts of remembrance, a handsome cut glass dish, and several smaller articles, all of which the guests had provided, which she did in a most pleasing and appreciative manner, eliciting a very feeling response from Mrs Mowry, upon receipt of them. The passing years seemed but a day as the richness of love illumined her face. After serving a most delicious lunch, and presenting each individual with a handsome Valentine souvenir, the guests departed, acknowledging a most enjoyable time.
