Grants Pass gave the Portland excursionists paper bags labelled: "Fresh cool air, for use at Medford." Medford is somewhat notorious abroad for its hot air, but we didn't think Grants Pass could play such a cool hand.

The person who has wiped wet eyes, moistened parched tongues, put a new star in the sky of a dark life, added beauty and bloom, the song of birds and the blossom of flowers to the lot of another, whether he be rich or poor, known or unknown, bond or free, is one of God's nobility.

Avenarius Carbolineum is a germ destroyer. It destroys the cause of decay in posts or timber. Sunday next, May 8th, will be Mother's day in the United States, and will be observed appropriately in Oregon for the first time. The white carnation, emblematic of purity and fragrant with the spirit of motherhood, is the official flower. "Wear a flower for your mother," is the advice of the mother's congress. The idea of a Mother's day originated less than four years ago and during that short time it has increased in popularity until now it is observed throughout the length and breadth of the land.

If newspapers that waste space on fake stories of 3-legged calves, hens hatching snakes and bulldogs adopting ducks, would print legitimate poultry news and practical farm intelligence, they would be helping their readers to get more cash to pay their subscriptions up to date and a year in advance.

Lyle, Washington, strawberries, are in the market, but the owner, E C Price, is handicapped for the want of pickers. He has five acres of plants that are loaded down with the luscious fruit and he estimates that he will pick 100 crates to the acre. Owing to the fact that he is early in the market this should net him a nice sum of money.

The gentle warm showers that spread over the Inland Empire on Friday night, Saturday, Monday night and up till noon Tuesday, and up till Wednesday at 10 a. m., did some wonderful good, leaving record of a fall of 1.19 inches in Moro alone. The last two days in April gave us .26, and in May .93. It was general, from Washington and Multnomah to Baker.

Moving pictures in the public schools of the east is now considered the proper thing. Pictures of foreign countries and of animal life are shown, serving as lectures in geography and in natural history, and humorous pictures, the professors believing laughter to be wholesome. After the exhibition each pupil is called upon to write an account of what he has seen.

Matthew, xxii:35-39: Then one of them, which was a lawyer, asked him a question saying: "Master which is the great commandment in the law?" Jesus said unto him: "Thou shalt love the Lord, thy God, with all thy heart, and with all thy soul, and with all thy mind. This is the first and great commandment; and the second is like unto it: Thou shalt love thy neighbor as thyself."

The Fourth of July in the National capital will see a "National safe and sane celebration," in which Young America will have all the fireworks, all the noise and all the fun, but the citizens will not take all the chances. Not a dynamite cracker, not a cap pistol, not a "snake in the grass" will be sold in Washington city. Instead, there will be band concerts, athletic contests, boat races and all kind of outdoor sports, while the citizen's committee sets off the fireworks.

Order It Now! Order It Now!

Moro Cornet Band, and Moro Orchestra, each opened the new season with new music in fine and ample form at Rudolfs Opera House Saturday night, the occasion being the school contest, noticed elsewhere in this paper. It is a source of much gratification that Moro possesses such an array of first class musical ability to swing the local fets and public functions of our charming little city. Everybody is delighted with this added evidence of our local accomplishments.

Smile and the world smiles with you, knock and you knock alone, for the cheerful grin will let you in where the kicker is never known. Growl and the way looks dreary, laugh and the path is bright; for a wholesome smile brings sunshine, while a frown shuts out the light. Sing and the world is harmonious; grumble and things go wrong and all the time you are out of rhyme with the busy, hustling throng. Kick and there is trouble brewing, whistle and life is gay, and the world is in tune like a day in June and the clouds all melt away.

Artesian water is a god-send to Goldendale. The find was made in the Golden bottom on Little Klickitat river. This is the first vein of artesian water discovered there, although several unsuccessful attempts have been made in former years to strike a flow.

At The Dalles May 1st the Columbia river was 29.2 above zero, which is the highest it has ever been on the first day of May that local observer Brooks has any record of—six inches higher than for the corresponding period in 1894, the year of record high water.

Mrs Rutledge surprised us Sunday afternoon, when we appeared in the Hotel Moro dining room after all the guests had departed, except Mrs Vinton and herself. "Now, I suppose you want some turkey for your dinner?" was the pleasant greeting of the worthy hostess. After protesting that we required nothing more than a cup of tea and a piece of pie, we learned there was no pie, but a plentiful supply of cake could be served with the tea. Amendment adopted; and there is where the surprise came in. The cake was a luscious sample of the strawberry variety, smothered in rich Jersey cream. To some it might seem expensive, but there's nothing too good for guests at The Hotel Moro.

Keep Your Ascension Robes.

Spokesman-Review: "Don't never prophesy said Josh Billings, unless ye know." Advice which is respectfully recommended to those who predict the end of the world when it passes through the end of the comet. The earth has run through comets repeatedly and never been a bit the worse for the encounter. A cubic mile of the comet could be concentrated into a beer mug, and only the finest analysis could find the poisonous gas. Moreover, this can not penetrate our atmosphere. Remember the Millerites of 1840, and DON'T get out your ascension robes.

An Afternoon at Lone Rock Stock Farm

April 28th the Observer Manager accompanied Mr Weister, the official photographer for the O R & N Co, to the A H Barnum Lone Rock Stock Farm, arriving there about noon. Mrs Barnum served to the visitors an excellent dinner of Sherman county products, not the least among which was sugar cured ham, the best ever tasted by the writer. After dinner picture taking of the prize Hereford cattle was in order, and over three hours was spent on the work. The cattle were photographed singly and in groups, about a dozen pictures being secured. One animal in the herd attracted the attention of the visitors, a fine Hereford cow, from its having borne twin calves the second time in three years. The pictures will be used by the O R & N Co in the development league advertising plan adopted by the league: i. e. for every dollar Sherman county expends in advertising the O R & N has agreed to expend five dollars.

Should Rest Easy.

Yamhill Reporter: Murderer Wezler is very much grieved because his wife told his children that he killed their grandmother. Wezler ought to be happy to think that he will probably soon be beyond the possibility of having his feelings hurt.

That's What They Will.

Gresham Herald: The proposal to change the street numbers of Portland houses and buildings will be fully appreciated when property owners come to pay out their money for new numbers for some 50,000 dwellings and several thousand store buildings.
