Church and Society notices FREE, except when for money making purposes. Such notices at regular rates at the option of the publishers.

We will not be responsible for the neglect of subscribers to notify us of changes in their address. Nor will the notification of a Postmaster that the subscriber has "Removed" settle the bill of a delinquent.

Did it ever occur to you that it costs no more to produce printing than is pleasing to the eye than the other kind? The Observer is equipped with all the modern facilities for doing good work at the very minimum of cost. Try us with an order and if it is not executed to your perfect satisfaction you need not pay for it.

Roosevelt says there will be no politics at the Collier dinner. What will the gentlemen talk about? Biological analogies?

Here is another proof of Portland's bad climate. On June 8th the Norman brothers were frozen out of the Portland Hotel company.

What is said to be the first Japanese "hobo" on record has made his appearance in Spokane. Who can say now that Japan is not becoming civilized?

The Washington Star suggests that Bryan and Hearst hitch up together in the next presidential campaign. But of course there is the donkey to be considered.

So much money is spent by Americans who go abroad each year that the business will have to be regulated in some way. An absentee's tax would not be a bad idea.

A dispatch from Asotin, Wash., declares that a man there out ran a coyote and captured it alive. If the race had been in the other direction the feat would not have been so remarkable.

Henry Whitney is wise to emphatically declare that his trip to the arctic regions is solely to hunt game. Without this declaration the general public might assume that he was going in search of Dr. Cook's brass tube.

George Bernard Shaw has said a great many clever things, but when he suggests that England should govern the United States for its own good, he seems to have slipped a cog or two. The idea doesn't seem particularly funny.

A father's day is being planned. The fathers should be organized, but what flower could properly denote their importance? Of course there is the sunflower and the Easter lily, but one of Roosevelt's giant lobelias would probably be the choice.

In Gilliam county on Rock creek, some 15,000 acres of land are to be irrigated by constructing a dam and storing water. The contemplated enterprise will more than pay for itself with the increased land values resulting. There are many such projects in Eastern Oregon.

A tribe of pigmies, heretofore unknown to the world, has been discovered in the snow mountain district of Dutch New Guinea by an expedition of British explorers. The little people average 51 inches in height. It is thought the tribe belongs to the Negro race, although anthropologists did not believe this race existed there.

It is just ninety-one years since the first steamship crossed the Atlantic ocean. It departed from Savannah, which winks and nods now while New York takes the money and the glory. The air of Savannah is heavy with languorous perfume. The air of New York is often heavy with perfume, too, which is not languorous, but of a sort to keep people awake.

The tumult and shouting dies, but the democrats have discovered that the railroad bill has not disrupted the republican party. Divergencies between the two houses will be adjusted, the republicans in each chamber will support the finished measure, the president will sign it, and it will aid in bringing republican victory in November.

Hon. Gifford Pinchot made a magnificent speech at a St. Paul banquet Saturday night. Great good might be accomplished by a thorough distribution of it among the classes of people deluded with the idea that the "special interests" must be kept in politics, grinding their own axes; or the American people will go the demitition bow wows. Sundays Daily Journal has a fair synopsis of this speech.

The first miner's tent set up in Canyon gulch 48 years ago today, June 17, 1862. Since that event $25,000,000 in gold dust has been carried out to contribute to the world's finances, a railroad built to within one day's staging of a city on the site, wireless telegraphy, and a common council prescribing the speed of automobiles through the streets of Canyon city. Now look ahead 48 years.

Senator Burton's bill proposes that railroads competing with water routes shall not be permitted to reduce their rates in competitive territory, to a less figure than that at which the water routes can carry freight at a profit. This is carrying regulations to an extent which would have made the Illinois Grangers, who wanted the lowest rates competition could give them, gasp in wonder and amazement.

It is a wise state that keeps its eye on ancient landmarks. It is a loyal and appreciative commonwealth that cherishes the names, needs and events of its beginnings. There was and is much in the pioneer Oregon that it is important to keep before each generation and nothing can contrive so effectively in this purpose as a building for which the Oregon Historical society will ask the next legislature. The cost compared to the benefits will be infinitesimal, and it is inconceivable that objection will be offered the plan.

Apparently there is not only need of a new spiritual law as well. Richard Bowler of Minneapolis is being sued for divorce for flirting with an ethereal affinity. In her complaint Mrs. Bowler alleges that at the theater, neither mirth nor music will attract him from his spiritual love and in street cars he humiliates her greatly by flirting with his ethereal goddess. Both the Bowlers are spiritualists and members of the cult say that this is one of the rare instances in which a marriage "by suggestion" has proved unstable.

Fighting Garden Pests.

No good garden can be run without the use of a good spray pump. Watch for blight, insects, and pests of all kinds, and spray all the vegetables that are subject to blight with Bordeaux mixture twice during June. If the weather is either very dry or excessively wet, spray every week. Do not wait for the blight to show itself, as in most cases it is then too late. For eating insects of all kinds, poison must be used. I always mix the poison with the Bordeaux which helps it to stick to the plant. Be careful when using this; do not spray it on well advanced vegetables, such as cabbage which has headed. If cabbage worms are troublesome after the heads have attained any size, I usually pick them off by hand. For aphids, use any of the tobacco preparations as a spray; but above all keep the Bordeaux going, as it is the greatest of all garden assets. Or you may use Paris green, about half a pound to 50 gallons of water, first mixing it into a paste. Arsenate of lead can be used in the same manner. For quick work, white hellebore powder dusted on the plants is effective.

Fourth of July at DeMoss.

The Big He's comic ball game will be a combat of no small magnitude between the business men of Wasco and Moro on the DeMoss diamond, July 4th.

Rev D V Poling of The Dalles will deliver the oration.

The double male quartet from Wasco will sing.

The Moro Band will furnish excellent music. Also, the DeMoss Lyric bands full orchestra.

The Same Which is True.

Oregon Daily Journal: But Lorimer has as much right to stay in the senate as Guggenheim and some others have.

A Sherman County Precinct.

If all the people, or a considerable number of the people of The Dalles, had been made of energies like that of Judd S. Fish, secretary of the Business Men's Association, it may be presumed that no Sherman county would have been created at the time it was. The people there now are made to stand up and take notice that what is left of the once expansive county of Wasco is yet able to demonstrate that its productiveness may not be surpassed by any similar area on this marvellously rich region, notably so in fruit and berries.

"Have you ever visited this town of The Dalles where they raise cherries like those in that window?" asked one Portlander of another in front of the Meyer & Frank store where Secretary Fish had the cherries displayed last week.

"No," was the reply, "but I'm going to go there and see for myself; and you can just bet on that."

Such remarks were common during the week in front of the display window and numbers of The Dalles people have taken the trouble to go and stand around and absorb some of the enthusiasm that was awakened in the strangers who saw the magnificent display of cherries.

The Business Men's association sent 118 boxes of cherries to Portland with Secretary Fish to refill the window Thursday morning. All of the cherries sent down the first of the week had been sold and the fresh ones took their place.

Secretary Fish said when at home Wednesday evening: "This window advertisement we have is one of the best that The Dalles has ever put out. At least 50,000 people stopped and read the posters and commented on the display during the first two days. I had one of the clerks distributing literature with instructions to give it out to only those who asked for it and to give no person more than one booklet. I put out a lot which I estimated would last for the day but by 10 o'clock it was all gone. I saw many of the people take down the names of the growers and no doubt they will soon be receiving letters. I consider that The Dalles has had thousands of dollars worth of advertising out of this display and we owe Meyer & Frank a great deal for what they have done for us. The window trimmers simply kicked me out of the way and went to work, five of them at one time, and the way they put things together wasn't slow. They seemed to enjoy having the beautiful fruit to work with and when they got through the effect they produced was wonderful." The 118 boxes on exhibition were furnished by A. Sechler, George Cooper, Barrett & Kurtz, J. C. Hostetter, and Ed Curtis.

Morgan's Tale of a Minister.

J. Pierpont Morgan, at the recent diocesan convention in New York, amused a group of clergymen with a story of a minister. "He was as ignorant, this good man, of financial matters," said Mr. Morgan, "as the average financier is ignorant of matters ecclesiastical. "He once received a check, the first he had ever received in his life; and took it to the bank for payment. "But you must endorse the check," said the paying teller, returning it through his little window. "Endorse it?" said the old minister, in a puzzled tone. "Yes, of course. It must be endorsed on the back." "I see," said the minister. And in turning the check over, he wrote across the back of it: "I heartily endorse this check."

Dogs and the Rabbits.

Apprehension already created in Grangeville, Idaho, by the rabid coyote killed there on the 22d was increased on the 31st by a dog belonging to Conductor Morris of the Lewiston passenger train, suddenly going mad and attempting to attack Mrs. Morris, who narrowly escaped injury by darting into the house and shutting the door barely in time to exclude the maddened brute. Mrs. Morris immediately telephoned the police, but before an officer arrived the dog had been shot and killed by Rev. W. A. Hitchcock, pastor of the Christian church.

The beetle prevails that the animal, which had been suspected of killing chickens in the neighborhood, had been poisoned, but his attack on his mistress does not bear out this contention, and an examination of the dog's brain, made by Dr. Rains, city health officer. If it proves to be a case of rabies the council will issue orders to the police to kill on sight all unmuzzled dogs found running at large.

Fast Ball Playing.

Shaniko Star: The ball game at Moro last Saturday was one of the best yet at the Shaniko club has taken part in this season. Twelve fast innings were played with a tie of 2 to 2 as a result, when the game had to be called as the train which our boys came home on was pulling into the station. All the local fans are looking forward to July 4th, when the Moro team will come and take part in the three days' series to be played here.

An Oregon Historical Building.

Oregon Daily Journal: It will be well, when it is asked, for the next legislature to set aside a sufficient sum for the erection of an Oregon historical building. A vast fund of information and a large volume of relics bearing intimately upon the events of the past in Oregon have been accumulated by the Oregon Historical society. There is great value in these accumulations in throwing light upon the early history of the state, and in keeping alive the memory of that spirit that redeemed the wild. The gathering of them has been by private effort and their care through long years by private endeavor. The Portland city hall has long afforded a shelter place for them, but the growth of the city has made the space they occupy needed for other purposes, and the growth of the state has reached a point where there is abundant strength in the commonwealth to provide a proper home.

The Fourth at Shaniko.

Star: The committee in charge of the Fourth of July celebration have been the busiest men in town this week, and besides collecting the large end of subscriptions that have been pledged, they have almost completed the three days program, and when the event takes place visitors to Shaniko will have a treat in store for them that will be unequalled at any celebration held in the eastern part of the state. Mr. Mowry, who is secretary of the committee, has kept the wires hot for the past few days securing various attractions and among other things he has the assurance of no less than four ball teams, good music, and a score of broncho busters who will take part in the bucking, shooting and roping contests. A liberal portion of the funds raised will be given as prizes for contests of various kinds, including races, boxing, and every conceivable athletic sport in which entries can be secured.

July Fourth at DeMoss.

Arrangements are being made to celebrate July 4th, 1910, at DeMoss Springs as usual. Both this city and Wasco have signified the intention to join in helping the movement. Arrangements are under way by which the Cornet Band of this city and the Lyric Bards band will alternate in furnishing the music. Concessions for the occasion are now being disposed of.

Pointed Paragraphs.

Many family trees are shady. You cannot preserve friendship in alcohol. The milk of human kindness is never condensed. It is safer being bent in economy than broke on extra vagance. The ancients believed the world was square. Perhaps it was, in those days. If the birds were all early there might not be worms enough to go round.

WEAK KIDNEYS MAKE WEAK BODIES

Kidney Diseases Cause Half the Common Aches and Pains of Men and Women. A weak link in the chain, so weak kidneys weaken the whole body and hasten the final breaking down. Overwork, strains, colds and other causes injure the kidneys, and when their activity is lessened the whole body suffers from the excess of uric poison circulated in the blood. Aches and pains and languor and urinary ills come, and there is an ever-increasing tendency towards diabetes and fatal Bright's disease. There is no real help for the sufferer except kidney help. Doan's Kidney Pills acts directly on the kidneys and cures every kidney ill. Moro cures are the proof. Mrs. E. H. Buxton, of Moro, Oregon, says: "A member of our family used Doan's Kidney Pills for backache and trouble with the kidneys and great benefit was received. I have often heard other people speak highly of this remedy." For sale by all dealers. Price 50 cents. Foster-Milburn Co., Buffalo, New York, sole agents for the United States. Remember the name—Doan's—and take no other.
