FRIDAY JANUARY 20, 1911

If you do not read The Observer, why not?

We would like to have you take it, and we know it would be profitable to you to become a subscriber.

Church and Society notices FREE, except when for money making purposes.

We will not be responsible for the neglect of subscribers to notify as of changes in their address.

Did it ever occur to you that it costs no more to produce printing than it does to the eye than the other kind?

Alaskans who want to quit digging gold and engage in the useful occupation of mining coal, should be accommodated; they are on the right track.

The Rockefeller Bible class is reported criticizing the Carnegie peace fund; surely the green-eyed monster would not dare invade those precincts.

In the death of Senator Elkins the republican policy of protection loses one of its most practical and straightforward advocates; and he will be succeeded in the senate by a West Virginia democrat.

An independent American corporation, not connected with the beef trust, has secured special concessions from the government of Brazil, with a view to shipping meat into the United States.

It seems that most of the accidents to aviators are caused by "holes" in the atmosphere; when some plan shall be devised for patching the air, or avoiding the holes, the aviator will be safe at any altitude.

There is a growing suspicion in Washington city that the subcommittee of the senate committee on privileges and elections has violated the courtesy of the senate in being guilty of not telling the senate all it knows about the Larimer case.

Speaker Cannon has received the indorsement of the house of 391 members, with the exception of 28 republican insurgents and 25 democratic insurgents; this vote of 233 to 53 is a remarkable tribute to Uncle Joe as a parliamentarian and also remarkable as a sample of democratic volatility.

The postal savings banks were not established on a basis big enough to satisfy Inland Empire Oregonians; so far as our farmers are concerned the demand is for larger certificates and more deposit stations.

A fight is looked for in the senate chamber at Salem when Kellaher's resolutions "endorsing the Oregon popular form" of government is reported from the committee.

The "good roads shout" have fixed the Sherman county assessment at $3,228 to the state rate off which 300 lobbyists propose making the solons "see."

Economy is the watchword at Salem, and the salary of a messenger boy was reduced.

A corporation with 44,000,000 pounds of butter in cold storage, representing $11,000,000, have got to close out the stuff by May 1st, or pass in chips for that amount.

Joseph Fels, the millionaire soap maker, is in Oregon working up the single tax dogma; while here, Joseph, tells us how it was you got U'Ren to throw up an $8,000 practice and take a sit with you at $2,500?

Whatever else may be neglected the assembly now in session at Salem, should see to it that the Oregon State Historical Society is provided with a Home, with ample provisions for space to store its present and vastly accumulating properties; invoices invaluable to the commonwealth of Oregon, the Pacific coast and this great New West.

Washington, Idaho, Oregon Rabies.

A Palouse farmer scoffs at newspaper reports concerning rabies among coyotes and says it is a disease that the coyotes have contracted from eating squirrels inoculated several years ago with a germ furnished by the state college and which was condemned by the late Gov. Rogers; his contention being that the inoculated squirrels would spread it to cats and dogs and in time to the higher animals.

Believing that the best results are obtained when religion is advertised, Rev J M Canse, pastor of the First Methodist church of Vancouver, has had a large quantity of scarlet red blotters printed, on which appears in black, "best blotter for bad blots."

He was Relieved. The other day a person dropped down in an apoplectic fit immediately in front of a police station and was carried inside. A moment after a woman forced her way in through the crowd gathered around the door, exclaiming: "My husband! My poor husband! Clear the way and let in the air!"

A Touch of Nature. He was the worst boy in school; she was the teacher. She was angered by his stubbornness; he was defiant. She took him to the hall for punishment.
