Low Colonist Rates will be in effect until April 10th. Write to your eastern friends and invite them to become citizens of Oregon. See the rates in O. W. R. & N. Co. adv.

Every day is clean up day in this city now; have you noticed the example set by Clair Axtell Monday cleaning up in front of that old City Hotel Disgrace? That's worth copying.

F R Axtell painted the Moro hot house a sky blue last week. The paint so nearly matched the genuine that the cabbage plants wilted when they discovered how tall they were; the plants were all right the next day.

Miss Blanche Riedon, on her way to the family home at Pendleton after a two years sojourn in Iowa, broke the journey by a stop at Moro to visit with her sister, Miss Alvina, one of the popular school teachers of this city.

Some people are modest about reporting matters concerning themselves. We trust they will not allow their modesty to prevent them from giving us an item which will prove of interest to their friends. If you don't see it in The Old Reliable, just blame yourself.

Forty head of Antelope were seen near Hampton Butte a few days ago; its a shame to kill them. The O. Man feels mean when he thinks of the meek eyed little antelope decoyed nearly into camp on the Canyon city trail and shot. But meat was scarce that day; we would go hungry before repeating such vandalism, however.

I have just received a new shipment of more advanced styles in pretty nobby shapes for both young and old. Also a pretty line for our little boys and girls. Mrs John B Crosfield, mother of Geo N Crosfield, died at the family residence in Portland, recently, aged 65 years, of heart failure. Mrs Crosfield was born in Chippewa, Ontario, Canada, November 11, 1845. Her maiden name was Eliza A Patterson, and she came from a well-known Methodist family, her father and grandfather having been missionaries of that denomination. She was married in Canada December 11, 1866, and came to the United States in 1869. She was a resident of Portland for 25 years.

When you have an auction sale you will need to advertise it to get profitable results. If you have the adv properly set, as we do it, posters can be printed from it.

Miss Taylor took her little class out over the hills Friday to pick out the flowers that bloom in the spring, tra la; and they got such a fine dish of them, and so many varieties: Pink and white bird beaks, yellow bells and buttercups, etc.

Hon R R Butler and Miss Nan Fitzmaurice, were married on the evening of the 19th at the home of the brides' parents, in Condon; if not too late we'd like to join in wishes for the long life, happiness and prosperity of the newly wedded couple.

It is hard lines when a man's well known joking propensities force him to go from his home town. This year Assessor Peetz and his bottomless bottle visited Wasco April 1st. Eleven ladies of Wasco attempted to fill it for Otto so he could play a joke on "the other one."

County School Superintendent Bryant has issued a letter to the Sherman county teachers calling to mind the fact that Arbor Day will be observed in Oregon April 14th and urging the preparation of special programs and the interesting of pupils and parents in the observance of the day.

Look out for a new counterfeit $10 United States note, a photographic production of the Buffalo note, not cleverly executed, announced by the secret service, March 31st; is of the 1910 series, bearing the portraits of Lewis and Clark, the back of the note being reddish brown instead of green.

The evenly carpeted surface of Mother earth Tuesday morning 2 1/2 inches deep with really the beautiful, invited no proud driver with prancing steed and jingling bells for a merry sleigh ride; but, did you catch on to that broad smile that gladdened the face of that farmer whose seeding and re-seeding was finished?

Dr Sanders' head has been undergoing treatment for about 20 days because of an ugly cut and bruise from the fore foot of a horse he was tying down for a surgical operation at the farm of W A Morgan; the full force of the blow was partly warded off by the rim of his hat, but it was bad enough for all practical purposes.

Our old-time tillicum, Tom Callaghan paid $1,200 per acre for a farm in Multnomah county, and now he has sold it for $1,900 per acre; writing to The O Man he says that May 1st he will be out of house and home and, don't know what he will be doing, but he just couldn't any longer think of farming land as valuable as that.

Pupils who have access to newspapers at home, compared with those who do not, are better readers, better grammarians, better punctuators, and read more understandingly, and obtain a practical knowledge of geography in half the time it requires others. This will not be disputed by any one who has taken the trouble to investigate.

Married: At the home of Mr and Mrs John Christiansen, Sunday noon April 2d, Mr Frank Hennagin and Miss Allie Bayly, Rev C L Lowther officiating. The bride wore a dainty gown of white lansdowne trimmed with messaline and net. Mr. Chas Nish acted as best man while Miss Hazel Mersinger was bridesmaid. Mr. and Mrs. Hennagin were the recipients of many beautiful and useful gifts. A large number of friends were present to witness the ceremony, after which all enjoyed an excellent feast and a social time. Miss Nina Searcy favored the party with some fine piano solos.

Gov West has pardoned Dexter L Roberts, an Oregon convict, but the rascal said he preferred the pen, to the farm, if he had to go back to the farm and live with his wife who had secured his pardon. It is quite possible that prison is the safe place for him, as it is quite reasonable to suppose that he will soon again commence his criminal practice upon an unsuspecting public. He is the fellow who sold O A Ramsey and Carl Peetz Moro property that he had no title to, falsely impersonating the owner, and for which he has never been arraigned in court for trial; he might be returned on that deal, if he has a hankering for the luxury of prison diet.
