

The Observer

MORO, OREGON.
FRIDAY, MAY 19, 1911

Personal Talk With You

At any time when requested to do so, the paper will be discontinued. But we expect that all arrears will be paid before such request is made. It is easy to ask us for a statement, which will be cheerfully rendered at any time.

BOOKS NEED CLEANING.

How to Care For Libraries So Valuable Will Be Preserved.

Books are frequently ruined through carelessness. This is less in the handling often than upon the shelves. Many a reader who would soon read a book back when open will put it to waste on the shelves.

Books should not be packed tightly on a shelf. It ruins the backs and causes them to tear loose with the strains of putting in and pulling out. Often it forces the leaves to sag to the shelf when pushed unduly.

It is just as bad for books to be too loose on a shelf, as they warp and the spreading leaves encourage dust and bookworms with the contents at every angle is not a pleasing sight.

There are some housekeepers who think a yearly dusting of books at housecleaning time sufficient. This is bad enough when they are kept under glass; when on open shelves it means ruin to valuable books. It takes little longer to dust the backs and tops of books on each shelf every day. Use a soft cheesecloth or silk duster and shake it frequently.

Many valuable books are ruined at housecleaning time. This should be twice a year and is not a burden if systematically done a shelf at a time. The old plan of heaping the contents of a library indiscriminately has nothing to recommend it. See that shelves are dried after washing, as books are ruined by dampness.

In dusting the book itself clap the backs lightly together, then dust the outside. Never use a damp cloth on a book. If it has been wet absorb most of the moisture with a blotter and soft cloth, then dry under pressure to prevent warping.

Forbid young people to handle books until they know how to protect them. It is well to use covers to protect a book when held by grimy young hands. These can now be bought in different sizes to fit almost any book and can be used repeatedly.

Herbar Works In Italy.

The Italian minister of public works is reported to have approved the plans for the construction of the Vittorio Emanuele III. dock and for the lengthening of the Galliera mole at Genoa at a cost of $8,420,000.

Unable to Kneel.

One fancies that few types of men can from time to time have afforded royalty more amusement of a quiet sort than provincial mayors of England. "From the Foreland to Penzance," by Clive Holland, contains the story of a mayor of Weymouth who during one of the visits of King George to the town was destined to afford "comic relief" to a ceremony of some importance. The occasion was the presentation of an address of welcome to the king, and we are told that the mayor on approaching to present it, to the astonishment and dismay of all, instead of kneeling, as he had been told to do, seized the queen's hand to shake it as he might that of any other lady. Colonel Gwynne, the master of the ceremony, hurriedly told him of the faux pas, saying, "You should have knelt, sir."

"Sir, I cannot," was the reply. "Everybody does, sir," hotly asserted the colonel.

The mayor grew red and, evidently much upset, exclaimed, "Confound it, sir, but I've got a wooden leg!"

History records that "a smile suffused the face of her majesty, and the king laughed outright."

This Sweet Pea

is the famous, incomparable white, "Helen Scott"—a variety that is exclusively our own. The illustration is only 1/2 the natural size. Packets are 15 cents each. Full description of this and all varieties of standard and novel flowering vines, trees, shrubs and plants will be found in our splendid 132-page 1911 Seed Annual.

You'll also find valuable information on all the latest and most successful methods of growing and caring for your plants.

Get the best of the seed business by ordering from the only reliable source. Our seeds are specially selected and grown for the Northwest.

Vegetable Seeds should be selected now for planting. Just as soon as the soil can be worked. Our seeds are specially selected and grown for the Northwest.

Ask for Catalog No. 80. Our Diamond Trade Mark is a guarantee of Quality, Satisfaction and Full Value, backed by 25 years of success right here in the Pacific Northwest. Our catalogues are complete buyers' guides. Free on request. Write for them today.

PORTLAND SEED COMPANY
PORTLAND, OREGON

A Courtship

That Came In Like a Lamb and Went Out Like a Lion

By EMMA THURSTON

Copyright by American Press Association, 1911.

In my girlhood there were very few fields open to women, and we were not ambitious to occupy those we were at liberty to enter. A woman would at that time rather rely on a man for her living than on her own exertions. I am one of those who believe that women are fitted for the home and are not fitted for making their own living. When Wilbur Ernst came courting me I persuaded myself that I loved him, possibly because it was to my interest to love him. He was a strong character. At any rate, he had a strong will, and I suppose the former cannot exist without the latter.

It seemed to me that he was just the kind of husband for a weak woman like myself. I would be content to let him breast the battle of the world for us both, and that was just what I needed.

There was a fine March wind between us. I told him that I had engaged myself to a strong character that I might have some one to rely on in such matters, and he asked me what matters I intended to take under my own care. This made me very angry. I told him that I could make up my mind quick enough if I wished to, and I settled on the place in a twinkling. He asked me to name it, and I told him I would drop him a line. The next morning at 6 I took a train for the mountains. A few days after I reached my destination I wrote him where I was and that I should be happy to see him. He wrote that he had decided to give up his vacation since he was very busy and really should not take the time.

This came pretty near making a permanent break between us. I was miffed at having been called upon to take the initiative. But our betrothal survived it, and when I returned to the city all was made up between us.

It looked as if we should have April weather after this, but one evening another wind came up a good deal fresher than anything we had yet experienced and ended in a tornado. A certain performance at the theater was to be given that I wished very much to see. I bought two seats and telephoned Wilbur that I wished him to go with me to the play. He replied that he had a business engagement for the evening and couldn't go. I asked him what I should do, and he replied—through the telephone, mind you, so that the whole world could hear—that he was too busy to advise me and that if I intended to rely on him through life for little things like that he would carry a load.

That provoked me. Before I had time to get over my huff I had telephoned to Ed Tucker and asked him to be my attendant. He said he should be delighted. I had no sooner received his answer than I was called up by Wilbur to say that he had succeeded in putting off his business engagement and would be with me for the theater.

How could I be expected to know what to say to him at once and over a telephone? I didn't say anything but "Well" or "All right" or something like that, and he, being in a hurry, shut me off.

I couldn't make up my mind what to do in the matter, being rather weak about such things, and half an hour before it was time to go to the play I drove up in a carriage and, carrying a bouquet of beautiful flowers, ran up the steps. I met him at the door and took him into the drawing room. I was about to explain the position to him when along came Wilbur. When he saw Ed his face looked like a thundercloud. He said nothing to Ed, but he said a good deal to me. As soon as he had paused I tried to explain to him that I was engaged to go to the theater with both of them. At that moment he caught sight of the flowers lying on the table.

He looked from them to Ed, a frightful light shining in his eyes; then from Ed to me. He was the maddest man I ever saw, and yet I was not at fault at all. I hadn't even had a chance to accept or decline the gift.

You should have heard his talk. He told me that he had feared I was a very weak woman and he had found me not even the consistency of mush. I stood it as long as I could, getting madder every minute. Suddenly I pointed to the door and, with flaming eyes and cheeks, said:

"Go!"

He subsided and started in to say something pleasant, but I repeated the word "Go!" and said it again and again till my voice was like a trumpet sounding a charge. I became so infuriated that he feared I would throw something at him and went out, saying he should call again when I had cooled.

"By Jove!" cried Ed. "I've long been looking for a woman to brace up a doing nature. I've found her at last. Will you marry me?"

"Yes, I will."

And I did.

And so it was that my engagement with Wilbur Ernst came in like a lamb and went out like a lion. My husband, who has turned out to be a man who will fight for his own way in everything, says I am the most obstinate woman he ever knew. But one thing, to my surprise, he admits—his mind quicker when she wishes to than I, and he only regrets that I won't give him time to come to his own decisions before I spring mine upon him.

How Paint Prevents Rust.

Inasmuch as both moisture and oxygen are necessary in order that corrosion may proceed, it can easily be seen that the duty of a protective paint is to exclude both of these elements. It is well known that a thin coat of oil is an excessively porous structure, acting somewhat as a sponge toward moisture and freely allowing the passage of oxygen. The function of the pigments employed in paint is therefore at least threefold—first, the more obvious one of imparting a color thereto; second, the most important one of filling the pores or interstices in the oil film, thus rendering it as little impervious to moisture and air as possible; and, third, to aid the composite film in drying or oxidizing to a compact impervious covering. Very little work has as yet been done upon paints from this point of view, but with a clear conception of the factors involved in the corrosion of iron an intelligent study is made possible and valuable results can be predicted with certainty.—Engineering Magazine.

The last of July came round, and I had decided nothing. Wilbur asked me one day what I had done, and I said I had been unable to settle on anything. I asked him to decide the matter.

"I know nothing about summer hotels," he replied. "I've never had occasion to use one of them. You must settle on the place."

He had arranged for his outing for two weeks from the 15th of July. Just before the time to go he was very busy getting ready to be absent from business, and I didn't see him for a week. Then he came around on the evening of the 14th of July and asked where we were going. I told him I didn't know.

There was a fine March wind between us. I told him that I had engaged myself to a strong character that I might have some one to rely on in such matters, and he asked me what matters I intended to take under my own care. This made me very angry. I told him that I could make up my mind quick enough if I wished to, and I settled on the place in a twinkling. He asked me to name it, and I told him I would drop him a line. The next morning at 6 I took a train for the mountains. A few days after I reached my destination I wrote him where I was and that I should be happy to see him. He wrote that he had decided to give up his vacation since he was very busy and really should not take the time.

This came pretty near making a permanent break between us. I was miffed at having been called upon to take the initiative. But our betrothal survived it, and when I returned to the city all was made up between us.

It looked as if we should have April weather after this, but one evening another wind came up a good deal fresher than anything we had yet experienced and ended in a tornado. A certain performance at the theater was to be given that I wished very much to see. I bought two seats and telephoned Wilbur that I wished him to go with me to the play. He replied that he had a business engagement for the evening and couldn't go. I asked him what I should do, and he replied—through the telephone, mind you, so that the whole world could hear—that he was too busy to advise me and that if I intended to rely on him through life for little things like that he would carry a load.

That provoked me. Before I had time to get over my huff I had telephoned to Ed Tucker and asked him to be my attendant. He said he should be delighted. I had no sooner received his answer than I was called up by Wilbur to say that he had succeeded in putting off his business engagement and would be with me for the theater.

How could I be expected to know what to say to him at once and over a telephone? I didn't say anything but "Well" or "All right" or something like that, and he, being in a hurry, shut me off.

I couldn't make up my mind what to do in the matter, being rather weak about such things, and half an hour before it was time to go to the play I drove up in a carriage and, carrying a bouquet of beautiful flowers, ran up the steps. I met him at the door and took him into the drawing room. I was about to explain the position to him when along came Wilbur. When he saw Ed his face looked like a thundercloud. He said nothing to Ed, but he said a good deal to me. As soon as he had paused I tried to explain to him that I was engaged to go to the theater with both of them. At that moment he caught sight of the flowers lying on the table.

He looked from them to Ed, a frightful light shining in his eyes; then from Ed to me. He was the maddest man I ever saw, and yet I was not at fault at all. I hadn't even had a chance to accept or decline the gift.

You should have heard his talk. He told me that he had feared I was a very weak woman and he had found me not even the consistency of mush. I stood it as long as I could, getting madder every minute. Suddenly I pointed to the door and, with flaming eyes and cheeks, said:

"Go!"

He subsided and started in to say something pleasant, but I repeated the word "Go!" and said it again and again till my voice was like a trumpet sounding a charge. I became so infuriated that he feared I would throw something at him and went out, saying he should call again when I had cooled.

"By Jove!" cried Ed. "I've long been looking for a woman to brace up a doing nature. I've found her at last. Will you marry me?"

"Yes, I will."

And I did.

And so it was that my engagement with Wilbur Ernst came in like a lamb and went out like a lion. My husband, who has turned out to be a man who will fight for his own way in everything, says I am the most obstinate woman he ever knew. But one thing, to my surprise, he admits—his mind quicker when she wishes to than I, and he only regrets that I won't give him time to come to his own decisions before I spring mine upon him.

How Paint Prevents Rust.

Inasmuch as both moisture and oxygen are necessary in order that corrosion may proceed, it can easily be seen that the duty of a protective paint is to exclude both of these elements. It is well known that a thin coat of oil is an excessively porous structure, acting somewhat as a sponge toward moisture and freely allowing the passage of oxygen. The function of the pigments employed in paint is therefore at least threefold—first, the more obvious one of imparting a color thereto; second, the most important one of filling the pores or interstices in the oil film, thus rendering it as little impervious to moisture and air as possible; and, third, to aid the composite film in drying or oxidizing to a compact impervious covering. Very little work has as yet been done upon paints from this point of view, but with a clear conception of the factors involved in the corrosion of iron an intelligent study is made possible and valuable results can be predicted with certainty.—Engineering Magazine.

The last of July came round, and I

Pen For Night Writing.

An English inventor had occasion to write with his fountain pen in the dark, and it flashed across his mind that if he had a tiny electric lamp on the pen it would enable him to see. So he acted on this suggestion with good results. The upper part of the pen barrel contains a miniature electric battery, and in the lower part there is a very small incandescent lamp. When one wants to write in the dark simply turn the little knob at the top of the pen and this lights up the lamp.

Sprains require careful treatment. Keep quiet and apply Chamberlain's Liniment freely. It will remove the soreness and quickly restore the parts to a healthy condition. For sale by all dealers.

Portuguese Burial Custom.

They have an unusual mode of burial in Portugal. Instead of the headstones and monuments of the graveyards of other countries the cemetery of Lisbon shows rows and rows of long chapels ranged in long avenues bordered by yew trees.

The Portuguese are reluctant to bury their dead out of sight, and these chapels serve as mortuaries for the coffins, which are placed on the shelves within. Through the iron grilles the eye discerns small altars and flowers gleaming through the subdued light of the interiors.—Manchester Courier.

Right in your busiest season when you have the least time to spare you are most likely to take diarrhoea and loss of sleep. You can't get away from Chamberlain's Colic, Cholera and Diarrhoea Remedy at hand and take a dose on the first appearance of the disease. For sale by all dealers.

Sharp and Bright!

Two street urchins were arguing about the high cost of living or something at Sixth and Sanson streets, and soon logic was exhausted and they began to call names.

"You're a bonehead!" one grimy kid informed the other.

"O'wan, I'm so sharp me old man tried to lick me the other day and cut his hand. You're the lowbrow of the party."

"Is that so? Well, if you want to know anything, I'm so bright my mother calls me sun."—Philadelphia Times.

Happiest Girl in Lincoln.

A Lincoln, Neb., girl writes, "I had been ailing for some time with chronic constipation and stomach trouble. I began taking Chamberlain's Stomach and Liver Tablets and in three days I was able to be up and get better right along. I am the proudest girl in Lincoln to find such a good medicine." For sale by all dealers.

SUMMONS—In the Circuit Court of the State of Oregon, for Sherman county.

Danna G. Armstrong, Plaintiff, vs. Charles Armstrong, Defendant.

To Charles Armstrong, the above named defendant—

In the name of the State of Oregon: You are hereby required to appear and answer the complaint filed against you in the above entitled suit, on or before the last day of the time prescribed in the order of publication, to-wit: on or before the 30th day of June, 1911, and if you fail to so appear and answer, plaintiff will apply to the court for the relief demanded in the complaint filed herein against you, to-wit: for a decree dissolving the bonds of matrimony now existing between the plaintiff and yourself, on the grounds of desertion and for such other and further relief as to the court may seem equitable and just.

This summons is served upon you by publication thereof for a period of six successive weeks in the Sherman County Observer, a weekly newspaper of general circulation, published in Sherman county, Oregon, in pursuance to an order of the Hon. D. R. Parker, Circuit Judge for Sherman county, Oregon, duly made on the 5th day of May, 1911, and the date of the first publication thereof is the 12th day of May, 1911.

JAY H. UPTON, Attorney for Plaintiff.

NOTICE OF GUARDIAN'S SALE

Pursuant to an order of the County Court of the State of Oregon, for the county of Wasco, made on the 10th day of February, 1911, and after the 20th day of May, 1911, I, the undersigned guardian of the estate of Mary R. Sherar, a minor, shall proceed to sell for cash all the real and personal estate and interest of said minor (the same being one undivided one-seventy-eighth) in and to that certain real property situated in the County of Wasco, State of Oregon, and in the County of Wasco, State of Oregon, particularly described as follows:

West half of the Southwest quarter Section 27, Southeast quarter of Section 34, Northwest quarter of the Northeast quarter of Section 34, North half of the Southwest quarter of Section 35, and the 1/2 of 3 South of Range 14 East of the Willamette Meridian. Also West half of the East half of Section 3, Southeast quarter of the Northwest quarter of Section 3, East half of the Southwest quarter of Section 3, Northwest quarter of Section 10, Northwest quarter of the Southwest quarter of Section 10, and the 1/2 of 3 South of Range 14 East of the Willamette Meridian; and the right to use so much of the banks of the DesChutes river, where the same crosses the Northwest quarter of the Southwest quarter of Section 35, Township 2 South, Range 14 East of the Willamette Meridian, as may be necessary or convenient in the development of power on the DesChutes river above or below said last described forty-acre tract; and the right of way across said last described tract for pipe lines, canals or flumes on such line hereon as may hereafter be selected.

Bids will be received by me at the office of the County Clerk of said Wasco county at The Dalles, in the county of Wasco and State of Oregon.

CHRIS JOHNSON, Guardian of the estate of Mary R. Sherar, as aforesaid.

NOTICE FOR PUBLICATION

Department of the Interior, United States Land Office, The Dalles, Oregon. April 14th, 1911. Notice is hereby given that Leslie Smith, of Ajax, Oregon, who, on January 30, 1905, made Homestead No. 1414 serial No. 03449, for lot 1, sec. 24, T. 2 S., R. 14 E., S. 34, section 5, township 2 South, range 14 East of the Willamette meridian, has filed notice of intention to make final five year proof, to establish claim to the land above described, in the office of the Register and Receiver of the U. S. Land Office at The Dalles, Oregon, on the 23rd day of May, 1911. Claimant names as witnesses: Scott Johnson, Harry E. Palmer, Walter G. Smith, all of Ajax, Oregon.

C. W. MOORE, Register.

NOTICE OF FINAL ACCOUNT.

Notice is hereby given that the undersigned, as administrator of the estate of John C. Kaseberg, deceased, has filed his final report and account as such administrator in the County Court of the State of Oregon for the county of Sherman, and that Monday the 5th day of June, 1911, at the hour of 9 o'clock in the forenoon of said day and the court room of said court has been appointed by said court as the time and place for the hearing of objections thereto and the settlement thereof.

Dated and first published April 26th, 1911. J. R. KASEBERG, Administrator of the estate of John C. Kaseberg, deceased. E. V. LITTLEFIELD, Attorney for Administrator.

NOTICE OF FINAL ACCOUNT.

Notice is hereby given that the undersigned, as administrator of the estate of Henrietta Kaseberg, deceased, has filed his final report and account as such administrator in the County Court of the State of Oregon for the county of Sherman, and that Monday the 5th day of June, 1911, at the hour of 9 o'clock in the forenoon of said day and the court room of said court has been appointed by said court as the time and place for the hearing of objections thereto and the settlement thereof.

Dated and first published April 26th, 1911. J. R. KASEBERG, Administrator of the estate of Henrietta Kaseberg, deceased. E. V. LITTLEFIELD, Attorney for Administrator.

NOTICE TO CREDITORS

Notice is hereby given that the undersigned has been appointed executor of the estate of Frank S. Clark, deceased. All persons having claims against said estate are hereby notified to present the same duly itemized and regularly verified, at the law office of S. W. Stark, in Hood River, Or., within six months from the date of this notice, and all persons knowing themselves to be indebted to said estate are requested to pay to the undersigned.

Dated this 21st day of April, 1911. NANNIE E. CLARK, Hood River, Oregon. S. W. STARK, Attorney.

SUMMONS—In the Circuit Court of the State of Oregon, for Sherman county.

Verna C. Becker, Plaintiff, vs. Joseph Becker, Defendant.

To Joseph Becker, the above named defendant—

In the name of the State of Oregon: You are hereby required to appear and answer the complaint filed against you in the above entitled suit, on or before the last day of the time prescribed in the order of publication, to-wit: on or before the 23rd day of June, 1911, and if you fail to so appear and answer, plaintiff will apply to the court for the relief demanded in the complaint filed herein against you, to-wit: for a decree dissolving the bonds of matrimony now existing between the plaintiff and yourself, on the grounds of desertion and for such other and further relief as to the court may seem equitable and just.

This summons is served upon you by publication thereof for a period of six successive weeks in the Sherman County Observer, a weekly newspaper of general circulation, published in Sherman county, Oregon, in pursuance to an order of the Hon. Wm. H. Harrison, County Judge for Sherman county, Oregon, duly made on the 5th day of May, 1911, and the date of the first publication thereof is the 12th day of May, 1911.

JAY H. UPTON, Attorney for Plaintiff.

SUMMONS—In the Circuit Court of the State of Oregon, for Sherman county.

B. H. Bailey, Plaintiff, vs. W. J. Bailey, Defendant.

To W. J. Bailey, the above named defendant—

In the name of the State of Oregon: You are hereby required to appear and answer the complaint filed against you in the above entitled suit, on or before the last day of the time prescribed in the order of publication, to-wit: on or before the 23rd day of June, 1911, and if you fail to so appear and answer, plaintiff will apply to the court for the relief demanded in the complaint filed herein against you, to-wit: for a decree dissolving the bonds of matrimony now existing between the plaintiff and yourself, on the grounds of desertion and for such other and further relief as to the court may seem equitable and just.

This summons is served upon you by publication thereof for a period of six successive weeks in the Sherman County Observer, a weekly newspaper of general circulation, published in Sherman county, Oregon, in pursuance to an order of the Hon. D. R. Parker, Circuit Judge for Sherman county, Oregon, duly made on the 5th day of May, 1911, and the date of the first publication thereof is the 12th day of May, 1911.

JAY H. UPTON, Attorney for Plaintiff.

SUMMONS—In the Circuit Court of the State of Oregon, for Sherman county.

William H. Cooley, Plaintiff, vs. Ida A. Cooley, Defendant.

To Ida A. Cooley, the above named defendant—

In the name of the State of Oregon: You are hereby required to appear and answer the complaint filed against you in the above entitled suit, on or before the last day of the time prescribed in the order of publication, to-wit: on or before the 23rd day of June, 1911, and if you fail to so appear and answer, plaintiff will apply to the court for the relief demanded in the complaint filed herein against you, to-wit: for a decree dissolving the bonds of matrimony now existing between the plaintiff and yourself, on the grounds of desertion and for such other and further relief as to the court may seem equitable and just.

This summons is served upon you by publication thereof for a period of six successive weeks in the Sherman County Observer, a weekly newspaper of general circulation, published in Sherman county, Oregon, in pursuance to an order of the Hon. Wm. H. Harrison, County Judge for Sherman county, Oregon, duly made on the 5th day of May, 1911, and the date of the first publication thereof is the 12th day of May, 1911.

GORDON & FAIRBANKS, Attorneys for Plaintiff.

SUMMONS—In the Circuit Court of the State of Oregon, for Sherman county.

Samuel G. Potter, Plaintiff, vs. Elizabeth Potter, Defendant.

To Elizabeth Potter, the above named defendant—

In the name of the State of Oregon: You are hereby required to appear and answer the complaint filed against you in the above entitled suit, on or before the last day of the time prescribed in the order of publication, to-wit: on or before the 23rd day of June, 1911, and if you fail to so appear and answer, plaintiff will apply to the court for the relief demanded in the complaint filed herein against you, to-wit: for a decree dissolving the bonds of matrimony now existing between the plaintiff and yourself, on the grounds of desertion and for such other and further relief as to the court may seem equitable and just.

This summons is served upon you by publication thereof for a period of six successive weeks in the Sherman County Observer, a weekly newspaper of general circulation, published in Sherman county, Oregon, in pursuance to an order of the Hon. D. R. Parker, Judge of the Eleventh Judicial District of the State of Oregon, and the date of the first publication thereof is the 12th day of May, 1911.

R. R. BUTLER, Attorney for Plaintiff.

O-W. R. & N. SHANIKO BRANCH

South-bound passenger daily. Time Table. Apr. 9, 1911. STATIONS. North-bound passenger daily.

HOTEL MORO

W. C. RUTLEDGE, Proprietor.

Nearest Hotel to Business Center, Bank and Depot. Courteous Treatment, Clean Beds and Table the best the market will afford.

SUNDAY DINNERS 35c.

Opposite Postoffice

Moro Oregon.

On your way TO AND FROM PORTLAND

You are cordially invited to make the

HOTEL DALLES

Your resting place between trains at The Dalles, Oregon. An excellent restaurant at moderate prices.

HOOD RIVER HOTEL OREGON

New brick building newly furnished. Sherman county people made welcome at all times. One block from depot. Rates 50c and up.

E. C. SMITH, MANAGER

ESMOND HOTEL

OSCAR ANDERSON, Manager.

Cor. Front and Morrison Sts. Portland, Oregon.

Free Buss to and from Trains. Rates 50c, 75c, $1.00, $1.50, $2.00. European plan. Sherman County headquarters.

A GOOD CLEAN FAMILY HOTEL.

NEW HOTEL PERKINS

Portland, Oregon. Opened June, 1908. Eastern Oregon Headquarters.

Positively most centrally located. Fifth St. cars pass the doors every few minutes.

Attractive Cafe and Grill Music. European Plan. Rates $1.00 and up.

L. Q. SWETLAND, Secy. and Mgr.

WHEN IN PORTLAND STOP AT HOTEL OREGON

CHAS. WRIGHT, President. M. C. DICKINSON, Manager.

Corner of 7th and Stark Street.

It is new, and its rooms are provided with running water and long distance telephones. European plan. Rates $1 per day and up.

WRIGHT-DICKINSON HOTEL COMPANY

UMATILLA HOUSE

T. N. CROFTON, Proprietor. THE DALLES, OREGON.

Steam Heat, Electric Lights, Electric Call Bells. O. R. & N. Local Trains stop at front door. Railway Ticket office in the Lobby.

HOTEL RATES TO SUIT YOU.

VINTON HOTEL

Grass Valley, Oregon.

Entirely new, convenient to business. Clean beds, and table the best the market will afford. Prices reasonable. Commercial trade solicited.

CONDUCTED ON THE BEST PRINCIPLES.