Personal Talk With You.

At any time when requested, to do so, the paper will be discontinued. But we expect that all arrears will be paid before such request is made. It is easy to ask for a statement, which will be cheerfully rendered at any time.

HIRED NEWSPAPERS.

A Custom in London in the Days When Prices Were High.

A London newspaper, the Daily News, has unearthed an interesting document which goes back to the days of dear newspapers, when they were taken around to houses and hired for so many hours to read an hour. Tucked away, it says, in the leaves of an old guidebook to the Crystal Palace, dated 1854, has been found a little printed leaflet, issued from Westons' Military and Newspaper Office, 20 St. George's place, Hyde Park Corner, making the following announcement:

"Can be had from the office by 8 o'clock in the morning, to keep at 10 cents per copy, or sent to read for three hours at 25 cents or two hours for 18 cents per week. It can also be supplied at 5 o'clock in the afternoon at the reduced price of 6 cents per copy or posted to the country at $5 per quarter, payable in advance."

In those days the Daily News had been started only eight years under the original editorship of Charles Dickens and was still published at 10 cents a copy. Its editor at the time was William Weir, and Harriet Martineau, perhaps the first woman in England to undertake regular journalistic work, was one of the writers of its leading articles.

The system of hiring did not disappear quickly. Certainly down to the year 1880 there were many households in which the Times was still left on the same terms, and it would be difficult to say when the system finally died out.—Christian Science Monitor.

The Worm Turned.

The customer had waited fifteen minutes for the fish he had ordered. He was very quiet as he sat there, but internally there was a seething. At the end of the sixteenth minute the waiter who had been in total eclipse for fifteen minutes and a half bustled up.

"That fish will be here, sir, in five minutes."

Five minutes elapsed three times. Then the waiter bustled up again.

"The fish will be here, sir, in a minute."

The customer turned to him.

"Tell me," he said quietly, but with a certain emphasis, "what halt are you using?"—New York Times.

During the summer months mothers of young children should watch for any unusual looseness of the bowels. When given prompt attention at this time serious trouble may be avoided. Chamberlain's Colic, Cholera and Diarrhoea Remedy can always be depended upon. For sale by all dealers.

Giant and Dwarf Honeybees.

In some of the East Indian islands and on the mainland of Hindostan are to be found the smallest species of honeybees in the world. These dwarf honeybees are no larger than a child's hand, and the cells are about the size of a small pinhead. This honey is excellent, as is the wax. The little creatures build the comb on the branch of a low tree, and as they have not to provide for winter they work all the year through, raising broods like themselves. In the same land there is a species of giant bee, Apis dorsata, as large as a field cricket. These monsters of the bee world build honeycombs that are from six to seven feet in length, four or more in width and which weigh from 300 to 400 pounds each.—Harper's.

Steam Power.

It is said that Archimedes, Greek architect and mathematician, knew the power of steam in 532.

A Complication.

"Don't you think that mechanics sometimes mix up natural facts?"

"How?"

"Don't they talk of the horsepower of donkey engines?"—Baltimore American.

Dysentery is a dangerous and often a dangerous disease, but it can be cured. Chamberlain's Colic, Cholera and Diarrhoea Remedy has cured it even when diagnosed and said to be incurable. For sale by all dealers.
