With the promise of great crops in the other staples, we are assured by City Marshal Miller that the crop of wild oats is also good.

ANNOUNCEMENT.

Having received the Democratic nomination at the primary election for Representative for Gilliam, Wheeler and Sherman counties, I hereby announce my candidacy for that office. I am entirely in favor of the Oregon system in every way, believing that the people should have entire rule; I am in favor of electing every public official in the United States by direct vote of the people; I am opposed to single tax, to the state bonding act for public highways, and to any change in the present law which might take the power out of the hands of the people and place it in the hands of the legislature. I respectfully ask the support of the voters of the district, and if elected will do all in my power to impartially represent the interests of the people of the whole district. W. J. Edwards, (d. 35,154)

Senator WH Ragsdale and family who went to Walla Walla county recently, where Mr R has business interests, returned Monday.

One Otto for sure will go to Condon en train; many other autos go via the Oregon Trail, leaving Moro Monday and Tuesday.

Was W Cochran is looking and feeling very much better than when he took to the mountains with his flock of wooly quadrupeds last summer.

One billion cigars are being sold in America every month, according to the report of the United States commissioner of internal revenue.

Mrs Fred Messinger will have a turkey for your Thanksgiving, notwithstanding the fact that she is devoting considerable time to caring for the dear.

Miss Mabel Moore, of Dalles city, and Miss Greta Moore of the Rose city, daughters of Hon C W and L K Moore, are attending the fair. We acknowledge calls.

All sizes auto tires, inner tubes and outer casings, always in stock; as well as a full line of spark plugs, ball bearings, and accessories. Geo N Crosfield, Wasco.

The Morse division of the O-W R & N Co, arrived with his outfit Wednesday evening and tri-County Fair badges were fluttering in the breeze Thursday a. m., to beat the band.

Miss Belle Beam, of Clarinda, Ia, is visiting her cousin, Mrs W D Wallan; Miss B. has been visiting relatives in Eastern Washington, and Seattle, and is now beginning to think of Iowa again.

Warfield's flock of Indian Runner ducks, that used to make such an attractive procession in Moro, are all dead but one drake, killed, and worried to death by half a dozen worthless, vagabond dogs.

Some one of the women passengers who occupied the tourist car from Pendleton to Moro after the roundup, left a cloak in the car. The owner is requested to call at the Moro depot and identify it.

The Sherman, Wasco and Hood river teacher's institute had its desirable effect (we presume); every school in this county closed that the teachers might turn out and spend a portion of their immense income.

Dysentery is always serious and often a dangerous disease, but it can be cured. Chamberlain's Colic, Cholera and Diarrhoea Remedy has cured it even when malignant and epidemic. For sale by all druggists.

Aviators are not the only people who deliberately take chances; there are many amateur mushroom gatherers.

Roy Powell has arrived from Prineville to meet his new daughter in Moro. Roy is the picture of health and happiness.

There are indications that soon there will be a recrudescence of the old fashioned market basket in towns of the United States.

"The best thing out" is an aching tooth; ask Dr Morgan about this, he will tell you The Observer is right; The Observer always is right.

These cool, bright September days are as bracing as the indications that the country will go safe and sane three weeks from next Tuesday.

Geo N Crosfield, ever in the lead, opened the Fair a day ahead of time on the 9th, by the arrival of his train of machinery and farm implements on wheels, drawn by a model locomotive of the caterpillar pattern, from Wasco direct to the fair grounds.

Our next county judge, Hon. Fred Krusow, brought down a very creditable exhibit of fruit from his Grass Valley farm orchard for the fair, and left a nice box of winter pearmain and other varieties of apples at the sanctum of this shack for use of The Observer family.

Mr Moon of Portland, is a guest at the Mowry home, which, but for his coming, would now be a lonely place since William S has betaken himself permanently to the Rose city, to reside and make his mark along with the higher-ups in his profession. May success crown the effort. Will.

It has been found that creosote is good for hogs, sick with colds with cholera symptoms. A spoonful of creosote to each hog is all that is necessary, it cures them; then put them out on pasture and have no further trouble with them. The cough is chiefly due to dust, and confinement.

Fred Messinger did the kind act for a casual acquaintance during harvest, cashing a check for him for $50, which Mr Messinger had to make good at the bank here this week. He still has confidence in the other man however, but has notified him that he come out with collaterals to make good by a certain date; or er-err-r-r.

Portland is to fill up an excursion car or two for the tri-County Fair at Condon next week. Business men of Portland have furnished prizes for exhibits at the fair; and the railroad has helped in all manner of ways possible; the fair should be a success. The gospel of diversified farming and more stock raising, is having its effect.

A company that has been doing business on a rubber stamp basis, of advertising for 25 years, at The Dalles, is now closing out on the "circulars for your scrap basket" style, and is making room for a new and up-to-date business along identical the same lines, but in the hands of men who appreciate printers ink, and know how to use it. Note the difference.

A P Altermatt of the Fleck Orchards, Rufus, was in Moro Wednesday, with fruit for exhibition at the fair; he had some samples of a new peach called the blood red, which he distributed among friends. It has a pure white meat, is of the cling variety, late bearing fine for pickles, and will not cook to a mush, being more like an apple for sauce in that respect.

At a meeting of Moro citizens Tuesday evening it was agreed among the business houses that they should close each day of the fair from 12 m., to 5 p. m. Arrangements were made for six cars to take the Sherman county fair exhibits to the tri-County fair at Condon. Also, time and money was donated by various parties towards improving the local fair grounds, and the road leading there.

Why Not Be Truthful? It's Better.

So far as political parties can produce good times the republican party has done it.

For many years the country has had bumper good times for both the laborer and producer.

Wages of labor have been high and prices of all farm products have averaged high.

There should be no thought, by any intelligent person, of putting this country on a free trade basis.

We seriously believe we have the greatest country in the world.

We need no new party, especially a party made up of disorganizers, seeking destruction of this wonderful nation for political pelf.

A Jolly Birthday Party.

Myrtle Sheets celebrated her 9th birthday this week, entertaining 35 of her companions in honor of the event; one of the refreshment features was a domino cake made by Mrs Sheets for the occasion. During the time refreshments were being served a birthday cake with nine lighted candles, emblematic of the nine years, occupied a prominent place; after all had been served with other good things provided, this cake was cut and all had a slice from that also. Games made the afternoon pass quickly, Iris Messinger securing first prize and Lavatrice Landingham 2d prize.

County Board of Equalization.

Moro, Or., Sept. 24, 1912.

NOTICE: There will be a meeting of the County Board of Equalization for Sherman county, Or., at the Court House in Moro, on the 3d Monday in October, that being the 21st day of October, 1912, for the purpose of hearing objections, if any there be, to the annual assessment, and attend to other business, at which time all persons interested are invited to attend. OTTO PEETZ, Assessor (427.153)

Coming of the Queen.

She was just an ordinary woman without much leisure or time for culture; she did not know the difference between an Ionic and a Doric column in architecture, and she was not up on China painting or the Roman emperors, but she brought up three children to tell the truth; love God, to love their brothers, and to do honest labor with their hands and not be ashamed of it. When she died the daily papers did not mention it, but the Recording Angel, as he reached for a fresh pen and turned over a clean page, said: "A Queen is coming, get her throne ready."

Farm House Burned near DeMoss.

Saturday afternoon about three o'clock the roof of the Myles Martin farm house near DeMoss caught fire from sparks out of the stove pipe. No one was at home at the time except Mrs Martin and the baby; she succeeded in carrying out considerable of the household goods and some of their wedding presents, after the fire was discovered, at which time the roof was beginning to fall in, then she went to WA Morgan's for help; while she was away Irving Kunsman drove up, having noticed the fire while on his way to Moro assisting L H Martin with a shipment of sheep he was intending to make. At that time the house and woodshed had burned to the ground and the cellar was all ablaze inside. The goods Mrs Martin had managed to get from the house, including a heavy trunk, were consumed by the heat; a set of silver ware was the only things saved from the house; the barn and other buildings were saved.

The Yellow Streak Found in Teddy.

At Des Moines, Iowa, Theodore Roosevelt said: "You will find, long before election day, already there are symptoms of it; that the old republican party has been swept aside."

What a strange statement from the man who for eleven and one half years guarded the republican party, seven and one half years as president and four by selection of his successor.

What a strange statement from the man on whom the republican party has bestowed all the honors it had to give.

What a strange statement from a man who, but a few weeks ago was asking a nomination from the republican national convention.
