The cool weather of the last few weeks has been of great benefit to the growing crops, and everything indicates a fair crop in Sherman county. Haying has started and the yield is up to the usual standard.

A man and his family going home late in Portland last week found a burglar ransacking his home; he secured a shotgun and then called the police while he guarded the premises and kept the burglar corralled. When arrested the man was found to have considerable jewelry and 8 watches on him. Possibly it can be said of this burglar that he has lots of time on his hands.

Sherman county has a lively sheriff in J. C. McKean; when he can't get in action himself he proceeds to start things. The latest was a horse near the head of Shearer grade, it scared at his auto, ran through barb wire fences three times, by count, and got off with only twenty-five tiny skin cuts. The rig was not damaged, the single tree iron being pulled loose and freeing the horse.

Colonel Harvey, of Harper's Weekly, who several weeks ago printed editorial predictions that Senator Borah would be the republican presidential nominee in 1916 is of that opinion still, not withstanding it runs counter to many who believe otherwise. It may be interesting to observe that Col. Harvey was the first editor of national repute to advocate the election of Woodrow Wilson as president.

The local manager for Armour and company, the millionaire meat packer, was given a jail sentence last week at Portland when convicted of selling misbranded butter, so called by being short weight. The dairy commissioner announces with this sentence his office will in all future cases ask that jail sentence be given instead of fines which seem to slip like water from a ducks back when offenders are caught.

Halibut banks recently discovered off Newport, Yaquina Bay, Ore., are receiving much attention from small boat operators. The banks are new and among the richest known. They are sufficient to supply all the markets of the northwest with fresh fish from early spring until late fall. Eight gasoline launches and a sailing schooner are now engaged on the bank supplying halibut to a cold storage plant just completed at Newport to handle the fish.

President Wilson has about arrived at the same station that President Roosevelt got off at when he allowed the United Steel trust to absorb the Tennessee iron company. With Mr. Wilson it is the enforced resignation of the United States attorney for the California district caused by the continuance of cases by order of President Wilson when it was a foregone conclusion that the prosecutions would be successful. One was a juggling of custom weights on coal shipments from abroad and the other a "white slave" case in which the son of the recently appointed commissioner general of immigration, by the president, was involved.

The committee on general arrangements for the DeMoss Springs celebration for the Fourth are arranging an interesting program for the occasion. The sports will be unique and entertaining. Most of the effort towards an annual celebration at this place is the underlying motive of giving the children a day of enjoyment; everything is with that in view; that is why so many mothers enjoy the Fourth at DeMoss; they know their children are safe and they themselves are care free. That is the reason why the Observer has always encouraged this annual event. We hope that in time it can be made a permanent event and some of the work and worry shared with the DeMoss people who so generously help this movement.

Joe Hendricks has two miles of woven wire fencing in place on the Goffin ranch, recently purchased by Archie Mason from the D. S. Cameron Realty Co., and expects to have four miles more completed before harvest and will put up three miles more after harvest, making nine miles in all that will put the farm entirely under hog tight fencing. Joe recently made a deal by which Mr. Mason became owner of ten head of brood sows, purchased from John Hastings.

President Woodrow W. is going to force his new currency plan upon the attention of congress and undoubtedly something will come of it. But the main engrossing thought for the Sherman county farmer, when talking of the latest currency plans, is whether it will make it any easier to get real money from the other fellow for his wheat.

J. M. Parry left Moro Sunday morning for Portland where he became one of the seventy five survivors of the battle of Gettysburg who left by special train over the O. W. R. & N. Co. June 25th to attend the fiftieth anniversary celebration of that historic battle. Survivors of both the union and confederate armies are in the party; the actual traveling expenses will be paid by the state; the excursion is in charge of two officers who fought on the union side during that battle and the health of the party will be looked after by a physician who was a confederate soldier in the same battle.

The old stage line from Grant station to Goldendale, crossing the Columbia River by ferry, which was established in 1895, was discontinued June 16th by an order of the postoffice department. A new route has been established from Goldendale to Columbus, and the mail will be ferried across in a launch to the Biggs water tank on the O. W. R. & N. line. An auto line will carry the mail between Columbus and Goldendale.

A WORD TO THE PUBLIC

For the benefit of a few soreheads who have said that I was owing the Holt Manufacturing Co. several thousand dollars I wish to show by the following statement that the Holt Manufacturing Co. is owing me the sum of $532.42; for which you will notice, they agreed to send a check.

FINAL SETTLEMENT AGREEMENT

Wasco, Oregon, June 21, 1913.

Pursuant to instructions given me by C. D. METCALF, General Manager of The Holt Manufacturing Co., Inc, Spokane, Washington, I proceeded to Wasco, Oregon, to make final settlement between GEO. N. CROSFIELD, Wasco, Oregon, as agent for The Holt Manufacturing Co. with instructions to transfer all goods to the MCCOY-ATWOOD COMPANY, Wasco, Oregon. After checking out all extras belonging to The Holt Manufacturing Co. and allowing all claims due GEO. N. CROSFIELD either for commissions or for other services rendered the account stands as follows: Showing a balance due GEO. N. CROSFIELD of Five Hundred Thirty-two Dollars [$532.42] Forty-two Cents for which amount, I, as General Agent for The Holt Manufacturing Co. will send check on my return to Spokane which will be Monday, the 23rd day of June 1913. And it is further agreed by GEO. CROSFIELD that upon receipt of the above amount it shall be a complete settlement for all commissions due him for claims against the company.

Several are reporting having seen this month hail stones as large as hens eggs in the country south of this county; possibly their lamps were a trifle foggy.

T. S. Reese is building a reinforced cement cellar on his farm east of Moro; when finished the improvement will be six feet deep and 10x12 feet dimension. Above the cellar will be added a building that will be used as a smoke house and when not so used it will be a wash room.

E. W. Dooley, well known in this county through his annual horse buying trips to this section, residing at North Yakima where he had extensive hay and horse farms, shot himself at Seattle June 19. Despondency caused by long continued illness is assigned as the reason for the act.

President Woodrow W. is going to force his new currency plan upon the attention of congress and undoubtedly something will come of it. But the main engrossing thought for the Sherman county farmer, when talking of the latest currency plans, is whether it will make it any easier to get real money from the other fellow for his wheat.

Finger Prints.

Francis Galton, finger print expert and authority, estimates that the chances of finding the fingers of two persons giving exactly the same impression are not greater than one in 640,000,000,000. Police experts regard finger prints, which cannot be disguised, as far the most conclusive means of identification.

Clear Air.

In Mexico the air is said to be clearer than anywhere else in the world. At any rate, it is the only country where a view extending to 200 miles can be obtained. By climbing to the top of the Sierra mountains the lonely peak of Mount Siquira can be seen. It would take four hours for an express train to reach it.

"Studebaker wagons certainly last a long time"

"I have had this wagon twenty-two years, and during that time it cost me only $6.00 for repairs, and that was for setting two tires."

"And after twenty-two years of daily use in good and bad weather and over all kinds of roads, I will put this wagon against any new wagon of another make that you can buy today."

"Studebaker wagons are built of air-dried lumber and tested iron and steel. Even the paint and varnish are subjected to a laboratory test to insure wearing qualities."

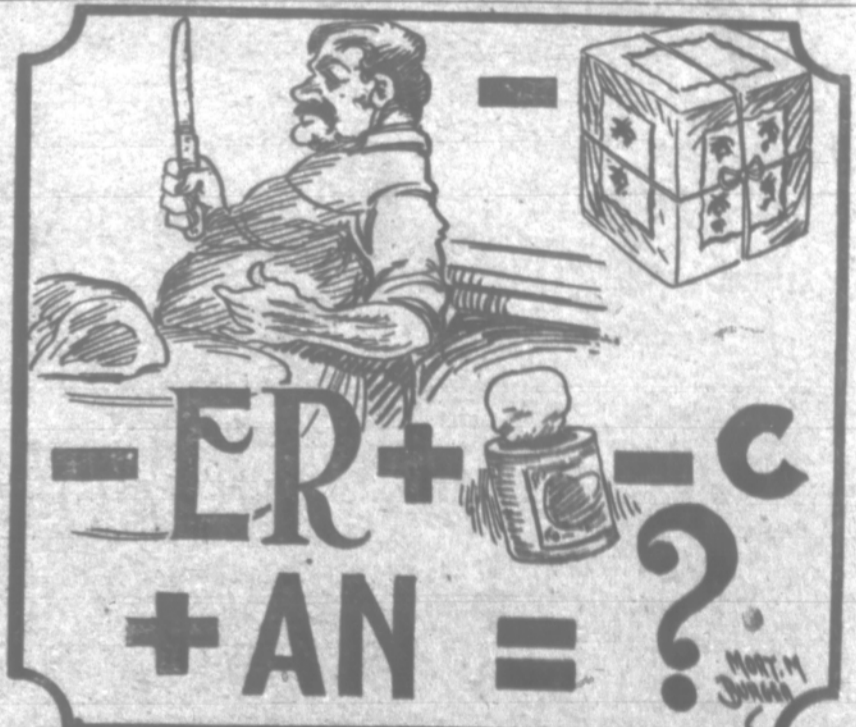

"No wagon made is subjected to as many tests or is more carefully made than a Studebaker. You can buy them of Studebaker dealers everywhere."

"Don't listen to the dealer who wants to sell you a cheap wagon, represented to be 'just as good' as a Studebaker."

Farm wagons, trucks, dump wagons and carts, delivery wagons, buggies, surreys, depot wagons—and harness of all kinds of the same high standard as the Studebaker vehicles.
