The Observer.

MORO, OREGON.

FRIDAY..... July 10, 1914

Entered as second class matter at the post office at Moro, Oregon, July 25, 1891.

C. L. IRELAND..... Manager.

Send for advertising rates.

If you do not read The Observer, why not?

We would like to have you take it, and we know it would be profitable to you to become a subscriber. We send it two years for $2.50; one year $1.50; 12¢ a month isn't much. Try it. Order by postal card, and pay for it when you can.

We will not be responsible for the neglect of subscribers to notify us of changes in their address. Nor will the notification of a Postmaster that the subscriber has "Removed" settle the bill of a delinquent.

Church and Society notices FREE, except when for money making purposes. Such notices at regular rates at the option of the publishers.

At any time when requested to do so, the paper will be discontinued. But we expect that all arrears will be paid before such request is made. It is easy to ask us for a statement, which will be cheerfully rendered at any time.

The price of The Observer is $1.50 per year, 75 cents for six months, 50 cents for four months—but if paid in advance we accept $2.50 in full for 2 years. Shorter terms than one year 12¢ cents per month.

A Blue Mark here will answer an inquiry, when entered upon our calendar, giving the date of the paper at the date at which your current subscription expires.

Some What Resembles the Pied Piper

During the last primary campaign, and the same issue will again come to the front as the day of election draws near, is the pledge of the man for office for economy in public affairs and more particularly and insistent is he in declaring for lower taxes.

In this same connection if recent past elections and the proposed measures coming before the people at the November election has demonstrated nothing else it has at least convinced the great majority of serious minded and thinking people of Oregon that a few agitators are trying to convince the people of the state at large that the more initiative legislation the people of Oregon enact the nearer the government is to the people and there are some who actually believe that if all the rejected initiative measures of the last few years had been enacted this state government would be nearly perfect; when in truth the government of the state has become one of experiment and that to the detriment of the people who make up the population.

One measure in particular that will come to vote again this year is the question of "wet or dry" as applied to the state; this question has been decisively decided at other elections, but it continues to be brought as a political issue at each recurring election and takes its part in the upsetting of business conditions. The adoption of such an amendment by the people of the state would act as a large increase of taxation on every remaining industry and tax paying power of the state, down to the individual on the farm.

Under such a circumstance of what practical use is the pledge of the candidate for economy in office when the voters shift more and larger tax burdens to themselves? Particularly when there are other methods, now provided, for getting the horse in the barn.

When all is said and done what good can be accomplished by state wide prohibition that is not at hand now; with out any election whatever? A recent decision of the supreme court said in plain words that any community, by choice of officers and they by refusing to issue license to sell, could have the same results as is claimed to be available by adoption of the proposed amendment and without the proposed destruction of property.

Adoption of the now proposed amendment would result in destroying the value of extensive farm lands in the Willamette valley; would destroy the value of large investments in the manufacturing industries, and would certainly put a large number of men out of employment who now patronize and use the avenues of trade thro out the state.

Prohibition needs no further legislation; as the official action of proper constituted authority under the present laws we have is conclusive, final, and legal.

Abstracts promptly made by the Sherman County Abstract Company, Moro, Oregon.

The Fourth at Demoss Springs.

It is estimated that at least 600 people gathered at Demoss last Saturday to celebrate the 4th; the program beginning at 10 a. m.

Prof. Berchold of the O. A. C. was orator of the day; choosing for the topic of an able address the title Lessons of the Day. He said he was in favor of allowing every one above 21 years the right of suffrage, provided they could read and write the English language. Mr. Berchold spoke of the American flag and what it symbolizes and said that the boy who carried in the wood for his mother; the woman on a warm day who cooks the meals; the man who did good plowing, were all flag builders. He also spoke of the danger of allowing foreign emigrants to perpetuate their own country institutions instead of becoming Americanized.

Doris Vivian Amidon won first prize and Lois Bryant second for babies one year and under; Martha McKean won first prize and Gordon Harper second, for babies over one year. Prizes were donated by Jeweler L. W. Ross.

Moro M.E. church choir won the $10 cash prize for best singing of the Star Spangled Banner.

It was announced that the Lyric Bands would give next year a $20 cash prize for the best choir singing of Sweet Oregon.

The DeMoss Pioneer Picnic Association was formed during the day with more than 100 members, which is yet open for members. No membership fee is charged, dues are a dollar a year. Funds so raised go to provide entertainment, such as a band, orator, etc. Concession rights are retained by the DeMoss family, funds so raised going for park improvements. George G. DeMoss, G.A. Simon, C. L. Ireland, Judge John Fulton, and John Hastings were elected an executive committee to arrange for the celebration next year.

Pretty Thin Gold.
The gold beaters of Berlin at the Paris exposition showed gold leaves so thin that it would require 252,000 to produce the thickness of a single inch, yet each leaf is so perfect and free from holes as to be impenetrable by the strongest electric light. If these leaves were bound in book form it would take 15,000 to fill the space of ten common book leaves.

The Grain Growers Conveniences

Are not alone confined to Rural Free Delivery of mail and the Telephone. There is another convenience which all farmers should have—and many do have—a checking account with a good bank. The possessor of such an account avoids the risk of having his money on his person or about his home where it is in danger of fire and thieves.

His bills paid by check are not only a valid receipt, but also a convenience in his home transactions where very often the necessary change for concluding settlement is not at hand. Don't stop to think this over, but start an account now with conveys an idea of success. You may never see the man himself. It's his letter head, his envelope, his business card, circulars or catalogue. You size the man up by these things. What impression of a man and his business do you get if he writes to you on wrapping paper or axle grease stationery? How does yours look? Is it neat, tasty and modern? It is if The Moro Observer Job Department prints it. Better bring in that next job.
