Deputy County Clerk P. H. Buxton was a visitor at Forest Grove this week.

Miss Della Mortensen has returned from a visit with relatives at and near Wasco.

Middle aged lady wants work as housekeeper, either city or country, apply at this office.

Burnett's moving picture Moro Theatre is advertising a special matinee for each Saturday afternoon at four o'clock.

Any one finding a Weed auto tire chain equipped with spring tightener will receive a reward on its return to Fred Hennagin. Lost between the L. L. Peetz farm and Moro.

A basket social, preceded by a short program, will be held at the Boardman school house this Saturday evening for the purpose of raising funds to secure additional school equipment.

One of the signs that the price of wheat has not yet reached the top is the fact that those buying in the east for the war governments are contracting and paying money on the next crop at current price.

Mr. and Mrs. Hadden and family have moved to Moro from Vancouver, Wash., and will live in the Elmer Armstrong cottage on Main street. Mr. Hadden is a carpenter by trade. Mrs. Hadden is a sister to Mrs. Pearl Bethage, housekeeper for R. C. Byers and family.

Uncle Jim Woods has a "horse less carriage" since he sold his buggy horse to the French army for use in helping haul cannon with which to punch holes in the Germans. At the same time the automobile used by Rev. Robinson in keeping his appointments at Spaulding and Rev. Adams at Monkland, blew up; it being identical with Uncle Jim's horse.

Be sure and call and let Drs. Lowe & Turner, the well known eye specialists of Portland, show you the Kryptop double vision glass which has no unsightly lines or seams to catch dirt, strain the eyes, or come apart. One light solid piece of glass which looks like a single pair, yet answers the purpose of two, enabling you to read or do close work and see distant objects perfectly. Be sure and see them. Free demonstration, satisfaction guaranteed. Drs. Lowe & Turner have been located in Portland for twenty years. They do not go from house to house. They have no agents. They will be at the Hotel Moro Friday and Saturday February 5th and 6th. They also successfully straighten cross eyes in children.

At the examination conducted in Portland on January 5th, 6th and 7th by the Oregon state board of medical examiners thirty three out of fifty applicants were granted a license to practice medicine. Mrs. Stella B. Poley of Moro, was the only one to whom an anesthetist license was granted at the same examination. Under a recent state law a graduate nurse must pass this examination before qualifying as a surgeon's assistant.

Assessor Otto Peetz has finished extending the taxes on the current assessment roll and notice to pay will soon be received by all. The total assessed valuation in the county is $8,701,724, from which a total tax of $125,216.84 is to be collected divided into several different funds. The total tax for state, county and general school is $60,912.07; special road $25,685.95; special school $32,613.15; city of Wasco $2,704.94; Moro $1,818.16; Grass Valley $1,483.57.

Expert eye examination is absolutely necessary to determine the proper kind of glasses to use. Selecting them by any other method may result in permanent injury to your sight. When Drs. Lowe and Turner, the well known eye specialists of Portland, prescribe glasses, it is with positive and absolute certainty that they are the best and the only kind suited to your eyes. If you do not need glasses, they will most positively not recommend them. They will be in Moro Friday and Saturday, February 5th and 6th. Consult them at Hotel Moro. They do not go from house to house. Their glasses are guaranteed to give entire satisfaction whether they cost two dollars or more. One cost covers entire cost of examination, frames and lenses. They also successfully straighten cross eyes in children.

MARBLES OF VERMONT.

They Surpass the Product of Italy's Famous Quarries.

The greatest marble producing industry in the world is no longer to be found in the famous Carrara district of Italy, but in Vermont, where one of the richest veins in the world stretches in an irregular line across the state.

So great is the production of marble in this section that the inhabitants have lost much of their appreciation of its value and use it for such humble and utilitarian purposes as paving, underpinning for barns, hitching posts, stepping stones and drinking troughs for horses. This vein is about fifty-seven miles long, from 1,000 to 2,200 feet in width and runs from 875 to 850 feet in depth, and from it is being taken in enormous quantities white marble that is equal to the finest Italian marble as well as an endless variety of blue, yellow, green and jet black marbles.

For quarrying and finishing the marble the most up to date methods and equipment are used, so part of the work being done by hand that can possibly be done by machinery. Hand methods of drilling, still in vogue in Italy, have been entirely superseded by power driven drills and channeling machines. The blocks as they come from the quarry are handled by derricks and are conveyed in most cases by an inclined railway or a ropeway to the mills, where they are sawed and shaped by power driven machines, only the last delicate stage of polishing being done by hand.—Popular Mechanics Magazine.

Song and Addition.
If soldiers be encouraged by the authorities to sing on the march civil servants might be exhorted to lighten their duties in the same way. Sir Laurence Gomme confesses that at the beginning of his official career he used to add up huge columns of figures for statistical purposes by the simple process of doing the task to the tune of Gregorian music, and he was always correct in his arithmetical results. Examples of the practice of performing labor tasks to the accompaniment of music could, Sir Laurence says, be produced from all over the world. He instances the case of the London pavers who until forty years ago or so used to be muleted by their mates of the price of a pot of ale if they omitted to groan rhythmically at each thud of the ram.—London Standard.

Bean Milk.
"Pigeon milk is a myth," said a milkman, "but there actually is a bean milk. It is drunk, put in tea and coffee and even frozen for ice cream. The Japs are its inventors. This milk is made of the soja bean. The bean is first soaked, then boiled in water. After the liquid turns white sugar and phosphate of potash are added, and the boiling is kept up till a substance of the thickness of molasses is obtained. Nobody could tell this bean milk from condensed milk, and when water is added it can't be told from the fresh. The Japanese poor use nothing else."

The Grain Growers Conveniences

Are not alone confined to Rural Free Delivery of mail and the Telephone. There is another convenience which all farmers should have — and many do have — a checking account with a good bank. The possessor of such an account avoids the risk of having his money on his person or about his home where it is in danger of fire and thieves.

His bills paid by check are not only a valid receipt, but also a convenience in his home transactions where very often the necessary change for concluding settlement is not at hand. Don't stop to think this over, but start an account now with

The government department of commerce reports the export of 28,875,216 bushel of wheat in December, or five times the quantity in December a year ago.

The county convention of the farmers' union will be held this Saturday at Moro. The local union will entertain the visiting members at noon with a basket dinner in the hall.

Several large firms at Seattle are reported to have quit Chinese eggs, principally because half the imported eggs are rotten and also large numbers of egg shells seem to shrivel and collapse when exposed for sale.

The first episode in the picture story Perils of Pauline was on the opera house screen Tuesday night. The story starts with plenty of life and action and the movie actors in good positions for a thrilling story next Tuesday.

All who can possibly do so should make special effort to attend the revival meetings during evenings of next week at the M. E. church. It goes without saying that your moral support as evidenced by a good attendance would be appreciated by those in charge of the meetings.

On continuous pump test, after a few days rest, the drilled well quit in fifteen hours; after a four hour wait, it again went dry in seven hours; the pump delivering 2400 gallons an hour. It is the intention of the city authorities to have the other wells kept in good order, including the last well dug, the one in the park.
