

The Observer.

MORO, OREGON.

Official Paper for Sherman County.

FRIDAY..... March 31, 1916

Entered as second class matter at the post office at Moro, Oregon, July 25, 1891.

C. L. IRELAND.....Manager.

If you do not read The Observer, why not?

We would like to have you take it, and we know it would be profitable to you to become a subscriber. We send it two years for $2.50; one year $1.50; 12¢ a month. Try it. Order by postal card, and pay for it when you can.

We will not be responsible for the neglect of subscribers to notify us of changes in their address. Nor will the notification of a Postmaster that the subscriber has "Removed" settle the bill of a delinquent.

Church and Society notices FREE, except when for money making purposes. Such notices at regular rates at the option of the publishers.

At any time when requested to do so, the paper will be discontinued. But we expect that all arrears will be paid before such request is made. It is easy to ask for a statement, which will be cheerfully rendered at any time.

Our most pressing American submarine problem is keeping those we own in condition.

Montana farmers are paying an average of three and four times the prices for horses that ruled last fall and buyers for war purposes are raising their bids.

A woman is so peculiar. She will dust little Willie's pants with a hair brush because she caught him in a fib, and then tell the boy to inform the unwelcome caller that she is not at home.

Who will do our state the most good, Gifford Pinchot sitting in a soft bottomed chair in Washington, D.C., working for a bunch of fad-dists to tie up our water powers, or a hard-headed engineer developing one of our water powers and employing 500 to 1000 men; especially when we already have laws fully protecting the rights of the public against excessive rates, etc?—Oregon Manufacturer.

Base Ball Items.

The first game of the season was played last Sunday between Moro and Grass Valley at the fair ground. The weather was miserable and the umpire worse. Bearing in mind the fact that neither team had any real practice before opening the season, and considering the misery to be contended with, as stated above, it was sufficiently interesting to arouse and hold an expense-paying crowd of loyal fans. Grass Valley won, the final score reading three to ten.

Next Sunday, at Grass Valley, the attending fans will, no doubt, see the same teams running neck and neck and to truer form as the weather promises to be good and the umpire will have to.

News Notes from Kent.

Edited by Viola Bennett.

Mr. Bottmiller was in Kent Monday on business.

Messrs. Gates, Irby and Haynes went to Moro Tuesday.

Mr. and Mrs. Dellinger were visitors at The Dalles Saturday and Sunday.

Archie Kentner and wife have moved into the house vacated by Mr. Mitchell.

The visitors at school Tuesday were Mrs. Young, Mrs. Hogue and Mrs. Curfman.

Mrs. B. G. Boardman left Saturday for the bedside of her mother, who is very sick at Post, Oregon.

The roads round about Kent are being put in good condition under the direction of road supervisor Hogue.

Those who did not miss any words in the spelling contest Friday were Adelia and Margaret Gates, Fay Howell, Vera Gillmor, Wren Hogue, Mabel Morrow, Loretta, Richard, and Viola Bennett.

Professor L. P. Harrington, state field worker for the school children industrial fairs, visited the Kent school last Wednesday afternoon and gave a very interesting talk about the school industrial work in Oregon. In the evening Mr. Harrington gave an illustrated lecture in the church. County School Supt. Fagan accompanied Mr. Harrington.

Many a man thinks he ought to have credit for patience when the simple truth is that he is too lazy to kick.

Nature herself favors the German cause, witness all the accidental fires at sea, and the destruction of the allies' munitions in American factories and warehouses. On second thought, perhaps it is not all accidental.

Registration throughout the state is very light up to date. It is to the interest of all voters to register, and the sooner the better. It takes but a moment and no witnesses are necessary. Attend to the matter the first time you are in town.

If you have a news item, tell it to the Observer. Don't imagine we know it and then wonder why it is not in the paper 'phone it in.

Interesting Items from Refus.

Mrs. Curran of Hood River is visiting her mother, Mrs. Fowler, this week.

Mrs. Hulery, wife of our genial station agent, left last week for an extended visit with her parents at Salem.

Mr. Alterman's Peerless car arrived Sunday from Moro. We now know to whom to apply for a joy-ride.

Extended alterations and improvements are being made on the church building. Among the alterations planned, will be a new rostrum, new steps, and a concrete foundation.

Rev. Williams, a world-wide missionary, preached at the church last week. Mr. Williams is en route to South Africa where he will engage in active missionary work. He belongs to the school of divines that speaks freely of the fiery elements and has a style and personality wholly his own.

The illustrated lecture by Prof. Harrington last Saturday night was well attended. There is every reason to believe that the people of the community thoroughly enjoyed the evening, while the Professor unhesitatingly declared that the audience was the most attentive and appreciative of any in the county. The Industrial Club gave a short program, after which the speaker was introduced by the president, Miss Irene Deyo. The hat was passed and funds necessary to defray the expenses of our representatives to Kent, were secured.

Perpetual confidence, perpetual optimism, perpetual good cheer will land you anywhere you wish.

Many a farmer is said to fail "for lack of capital," the real cause of failure is lack of common sense.

Optimism may become a fad unless mixed with horse sense.

Tuxedo Nights

by Walt Mason

When the day's work's done, and the good old sun has sunk in the well known West, then I stretch my form by the fireside warm, I sit at my ease and rest. Then I take my pipe which is mildly ripe, as the pipes of good smokers are, with a chortling soul then I fill its bowl from my glass Tuxedo jar. And I smoke at ease, and my trouble flees to the place where dead troubles go; and my worries seem, in my waking dream no longer to have a show. And I say, "Indeed, it's a noble weed that drives all the ghosts away, and clamps the lid on the cares that slid around through the busy day. The worries and woes and such things as those in the daytime leave their scar, but there's rest at night and a calm delight in my glass Tuxedo jar."
