Services in Monkland at 2:30. Come all who can.
A. J. Adams, Pastor.

G. F. Armstrong brought to this office a sample of his alfalfa that measures 30 inches in height, grown on the dry upland contiguous to Moro.

Miss Emma Peetz, B. F. Peetz and wife, and George Potter and wife, were dinner guests Sunday at the home of Mrs. H. M. Shull east of Monkland.

J. F. Foss had an attack of sickness Wednesday that prevented him attending the dance that opened to the public the new reinforced concrete garage built for Foss & Company.

Owing to pressure of business we cannot give the desired attention this week to Memorial Day that the occasion warrants, but the Observer next week, with the aid of W. T. Sherman Post No. 4, G. A. R., will be special Memorial Day number.

Miss Edwards, grade teacher in the Wasco school, died at The Dalles Thursday following an emergency operation for appendicitis.

L. L. Peetz and wife, Miss Emma and Otto Peetz and Miss Marie Douma last week attended the Rebecca entertainment and banquet at The Dalles.

Mrs. C. J. Thompson submitted to a surgical operation at The Dalles Monday.

George Potter and mother were called to Spokane last week by the death of his grandmother.

Mrs. Leah Silbray, from Portland, is visiting with her parents, Mr. and Mrs. E. A. Cushman.

Training soldiers and sailors for defense of the nation is not militarism. It is policing on an international scale. Hysteria about preparedness comes from irrational pacifists.

Moro won the Field Meet Friday by a score of 88 1/2 as against 69 for Wasco, 4 1/2 for Grass Valley and 3 for Kent. The deciding factor in the award of the cup was the Moro girls winning all the races for girls.

The school term ended Thursday night, after the commencement exercises in the hall, with a farewell party given to the high school graduates, the faculty and the school board at the home of Mrs. N. P. Hansen.

The Foss & Co. concrete garage was opened to the public Wednesday night with a big free dance. The enterprise of the gentlemen comprising the company is worthy of the highest praise for providing such a business building for Moro.

In the declamatory and oratorical contest Friday evening medals were awarded, C division, 1st place to Cecile Helms of Grass Valley, 2d place to Dorothy Barnett of Wasco. B division: Beulah McMillin of Wasco. 1st place, Margaret O'Leary of Grass Valley 2d place; A division: Grace Muir of Moro 1st place, John Medler of Wasco 2d place.

The public reception tendered Rev. Robertson and bride Monday evening was a social success, several attending from out of town. A. M. Wright, on behalf of the Ladies Aid and members of the M. E. church presented the newly wedded couple with a large electric table lamp and pedestal clock and Rev. Adams, on behalf of the Dorcas Society of the Presbyterian church, presented a set of table silverware. Refreshments, consisting of cake and punch, was served by the Ladies Aid.

The executive committee of the DeMoss Picnic Association met last Saturday at DeMoss. The O. A. C. has offered their best orator for this day; the Boy Spy of the Rebellion will be one of the speakers; the DeMoss Entertainers who had such grand success with their entertaining at the San Francisco exposition and their tour of California and Oregon, will entertain during the day. The music and literary program will be in charge of Mrs. Akers; the baby show, Mrs. Evans; the sports, C. J. Thompson, who insures that the sports program will be up to date.

As an aftermath of the primary election, held last week, the nominees for county office, on the republican ticket, are Huddleston for district attorney; Meyers for sheriff; McPherson clerk; Wallan treasurer; Peetz assessor; Fagan school superintendent; Wilson for short term and McKee for full term for commissioners; Henrichs surveyor; Taylor coronor. But one county nominee was named by the democrats, that of McKean for reelection as sheriff. District nominees for senator are M. D. Shanks, republican, and W. F. Jackson, democrat.

N. R. Moore, of Corvallis and member of the O. A. C. board of regents, was a visitor at this office Thursday. Mr. Moore is a printer and newspaper publisher who is trying to keep away from active business long enough to secure a vacation; and that is harder to do than it may appear; he soon perceived that practical help was a serious matter with us to enable the meeting of obligations to those depending upon this office for field meet and other printing and the publication of the Observer for this week. Like the prince of good fellows that he is, Mr. Moore took a "case" and we are glad his itinerary brought him this way.

See Mullikin "the harness maker" at Wasco, Oregon.

J. R. Morrison, from Portland, is visiting his brother, J. B., at the farm south of Moro.

Grant Morgan was called to Vancouver, Wash., Thursday by news of the death of his father.

Mrs. George Potter, from Klondike, was visiting last week with her mother, Mrs. W. A. Norcross at DeMoss.

Mrs. E. A. Cushman will leave next week for Portland, where she will attend Grand Chapter O. E. S. as delegate from Moro.

"Bank of Moro"

MORO, OREGON

TO BUILD a Bank that will never know completion, but that will advance continually to meet advancing conditions

To Advance Deposits and Service to a Notable Degree.

TO CREATE a personality that will be known for its strength and friendliness.

TO ARRANGE and Co-Operate activities to the end of winning confidence by meriting it.

TO STRIVE always to secure the satisfaction of every customer.

This is the aim of "BANK OF MORO" that is being impressed more and more indelibly, as the years go by upon the character of the business itself; that is being expressed more and more effectively as the bank grows stronger in strength and understanding.

The Satisfaction of Every Customer---the slogan that expresses the ideal of this Bank.
