W. B. Johnston and wife were visitors this week at the Gilliam county home of their son Perry near Clem.

The Observer Store has a well selected, reasonable priced, supply of box stationery in the new style envelopes and latest tints.

Late reports from the south part of the county is that Kent has 226 Red Cross memberships. The slogan is "You Kent Say Kant," and as a result they will add yet more members to their list.

A national Red Cross drive is now on for more members. The fee is $1 for a year. Members of the local auxiliary will canvas this week for additional members. Half of the fee will be retained by the local for its war work for the purchase of supplies, the balance will go to Washington for national relief work.

W. R. Olds was a Saturday visitor in Moro from Grass Valley.

N.P.Hansen has been confined to his bed by an attack of sciatica rheumatism.

Take the children to see the all electric lighted 20-foot Christmas tree at Crosfield's.

W. A. Woods came down from La Grande last Saturday for a short business visit.

A new class has been formed at the Presbyterian Bible School for the older young people. Are you in that class? If so we wish to have you join the new class.

The special Christmas exercises of the Presbyterian church in Moro will be held in the church on Sunday, December 23d, at 7:30 p.m. The usual Christmas tree will give way to the Manger Service this year. The "white" Christmas idea will be carried out to the letter; that is, all of the presents contributed will be given to charity. Complete announcement will be given next week.

War savings stamps are going faster than the proverbial hot cakes. Many communities have already come well up to their allotments, though the campaign has hardly begun. This is the first of the financial plans of the war which shows the touch of genius. The Government will doubtless raise as much money as the first Liberty Loan produced, with greater ease and with a wider quickening of the spirit of patriotism. Licking a stamp to lick the Kaiser bids fair to become the most popular of American sports, indoor and out.

No one should miss the special photo production that L. W. Ross, manager of the Moro Theatre, has arranged to present on Christmas night in place of the usual Tuesday show. At this particular time, when we are being brought to a greater realization of what this country of ours means to us and what a calamity it would be to us all if some such powerful nation, such as Germany has shown itself to be, would secure control of the destinies of the United States, a play like "The Man Without A Country" have double force to make us keep step in doing all things possible to bring the cause in which the United States is now engaged to a successful termination. Be sure and see this photo production of the history of Philip Nolan. Better miss a dozen other shows than admit you missed this.

The local military exemption board are now mailing the questionnaire to all registered men regardless of former exemptions allowed at the previous draft. Twenty-five are being mailed each day and the registered man has seven days from date of record of mailing to answer the questions and return to the board. Failure to comply with the seven day provision will endanger allowing any exemption or classification that may be claimed. Failure of postoffices or mails to deliver promptly is not taken into consideration, therefore any one who must answer these questions and have changed their postoffice or considers they may have the document delayed had best take the matter up with the board. The above is published by request of the adjutant general's office.
