TO HEAD PACIFIC FLEET

Admiral Hugh Rodman, who will command the American fleet to be stationed on the Pacific Coast.

HOLLWEG ASSUMES WAR RESPONSIBILITY

Berlin.—Dr. Theobald von Bethmann Hollweg, ex-German chancellor, has formally asked the allied and associated powers to place him on trial instead of the ex-emperor.
The ex-chancellor says that he assumes responsibility for the acts of Germany during his period of office and places himself at the disposal of the allies.
The communication asks Premier Clemenceau to bring the following to the knowledge of the allied and associated powers:
"In article 227 of the peace terms the allied and associated powers publicly arraign his majesty, William II of Hohenzollern, former German emperor, for a supreme offense against international morality and the sanctity of treaties. At the same time they announced their resolve to address a request to the government of The Netherlands for the surrender of the former emperor for purposes of trial.
"With reference thereto I take the liberty of addressing a request to the powers to let the projected proceedings against his majesty, the emperor, be taken against me. For this object I hereby place myself at the disposal of the allied and associated powers.
"As former German imperial chancellor I bear for my period of office sole responsibility, as regulated by the German constitution, for the political acts of the emperor. I believe I deduce from the claim that the reckoning which the allied and associated powers intend to demand for these acts shall be demanded solely of me."

CHIVALRY IN THE TRENCHES

How Suffering Tommy, Doomed to Early Death, Attempted to Give His Blanket to Yank Comrade.

"Yank, I'm only twenty-eight, but I'm an old man," said an English Tommy just before we turned into our sleeping rolls on the coldest night that I had experienced. And his awful cough, the result of being gassed early in the war, when they had no masks, added fatal testimony to his statement.
All night long he coughed. About midnight I awoke shivering. From his coughing I knew that he was awake, I said: "Tommy, I never was so cold in my life," and then in a few minutes I was asleep again.
An hour later I was again awakened by his violent coughing. To my surprise I seemed to be warm and wondered if the wind had suddenly changed, but from its constant whistling I knew it had not. I reached out and felt two extra blankets on me. I suspected whence they had come by that violent coughing.
I got up and carried them back to where he lay, saying: "Tommy, did you put these blankets on me?" He replied: "Yes, Yank, you said you were cold."
"But what about you?"
"Oh, me? I'm used to it."
"Well, all I got to say is, thank you; but if you ever do that trick again I'll throw you out of the window in the snow and let you freeze to death." And then I put them back on his shivering, gasping body.—William L. Stidger in Association Men.

INDIAN IS LEARNING RAPIDLY

Beginning After Many Years to See That the Ways of the White Man are Good.

In the old days he depended upon the wild deer and the buffalo for food. He lived in a smoky Hogan or tepee, and when anyone died there, he burned it or moved away to keep the ghost of the departed from haunting him.
In the old days he fought against the white men and collected paleface scalps. Then he called upon his medicine man to cast spells over the missionary and drive him away.
Today he is learning to farm and raise cattle. He builds a house like the white man's with floors and a cellar for vegetables, and sometimes a corrugated iron roof. In case of a death in the new cabin he does not burn it, but uses the white man's disinfectants to fumigate the place.
Now he is beginning to understand what the "White Father" in Washington is trying to do for him. He has sent his full quota to our army in France, and four-fifths of the number have been volunteers. He has subscribed nearly $7,000,000 to the Liberty bonds. Three times out of four he sends his children to school. Now forts are disappearing, and churches are taking their place.
The Indian is beginning to "think white."—Thomas C. Moffat, in World Outlook.

Spirit of the Army Woman.

These army women don't complain. I have yet to meet one who is not a thoroughly good sport. They know well enough why they are in the struggle, and the knowledge is a kind of wholesome and sustaining spiritual food. They stiffen to their heroic best. One mother and she hates sewing—makes all the clothes for herself and her little girl. The Southerner, too, has arisen to the occasion and taken half a house for the summer and plans to do all the work for herself and family. We've never known her to do anything but dress herself prettily, read novels and take the children to the movies.—An Officer's Wife, in Atlantic.

Stone Laid for Each Tribe.

The foundation stones of the Hebrew university at Jerusalem, recently laid in the presence of General Allenby and representatives of the French and Italian detachments, are 12 in number, one for each of the 12 tribes of Israel.
The site is on the summit of the Mount of Olives, facing Jerusalem on the one side and the Hills of Moab on the other.

Airplane Travel Fees.

In lieu of the usual allowance of seven cents a mile for expenses of army officers traveling by an airplane, the war department announced the other day, they will be allowed only four cents a mile. According to the ruling of the judge advocate general transportation by airplane is placed in the same class as travel by prairie schooner, dog sleds in Alaska and buffalo carts in the Philippines.

Expand Air School.

An appropriation of $1,200,000 is expected to be available for the building program to permit the expansion of St. Paul Aviation Mechanics' Training school to twice its present capacity of 5,000 men. The war department already has appropriated $300,000 to prepare the school for the winter by installation of heating plants and remodeling of buildings.

Fined for Throwing Kisses.

Three young men were fined $10 each in Worcester, Mass., for disturbing the peace, on complaint of the management of a carpet factory that, by throwing kisses to the girls employed in the mills, they distracted the attention of the girls from their work, so that they fell short of 100 per cent efficiency.

REPUBLIC

Internal Gear Drive
MOTOR TRUCKS
7 Models— $\frac{3}{4}$ Ton to 5 Ton

More than twice as many Republic, Internal Gear Drive Motor Trucks were built and sold last year as were built and sold of any other make.

That is the biggest single reason we can give you why you should select Republics. A majority vote of such overwhelming proportions from truck users all over America can have but one meaning.

It means that Republic owners have satisfied themselves that Republic Trucks are of the quality and give the service they are looking for.
