J. C. Wright has bought a spick span new Dodge car and now just watch Jack round the corners when out on the road. He will be one man in the county, at least, who will never eat up the miles with a ravenous appetite.

C. L. Montgomery started a coal oil stove Wednesday night, in his room, to warm the place and then went down town to wait until the heat conquered the cold. When he returned in about an hour he found the room full of flames and the stove ready to fall to pieces from the heat, with two large pools of melted solder on the floor. He caught up the stove in his gloved hands and soon had it outside and the fire out. Mrs. James Stewart and family were asleep on the lower floor and had no knowledge how near they were compelled to make a hasty exit into the cold cold night.

Cheap Wheat Ranches

Sherman county farmers have some wonderful opportunities for safe investments in Morrow county wheat land and stock farms.

E. M. Shutt, an old resident of Sherman county, and known throughout Oregon as a man of reliability, has resigned the office of sheriff of Morrow county in order to establish a real estate office in Heppner. He asserts, and offers positive proof, that Morrow county contains the cheapest good farm land and stock ranches to be had anywhere in the west.

The same quality of wheat land that is now selling in Sherman and Wasco counties for from $60 to $100 per acre, and in parts of eastern Washington for from $75 to $150 per acre, can now be had in Morrow county for from $30 to $50 per acre—simply because it has not been boosted nor as intensively farmed as yet.

These cheap Morrow county farms are the best and safest investment to be had today, and Mr. Shutt invites his old neighbors over here to call and see him at Heppner, or write to him for full particulars. He guarantees a square deal and no deception to all who intrust their business to him, and he will help those who purchase this land as an investment only, to find reliable renters. One or two good crops will pay for the land at present prices.

Moro School Report to November 24

Ronald Payne and Lanora Ramsey reporters.

The boys have started to practice basket ball. They will practice regularly from now on, as foot ball season is over.

A Lyceum course is to be given in the High School auditorium this winter. The course will include musical numbers and lectures.

The boys have petitioned the Faculty for a Glee Club. Plans are now under way for rehearsals to begin after the Thanksgiving recess.

Last Friday two of the boys of the Freshman class refused to wear green ties, this being a tradition in the High School, consequently they got a little wet. There was quite a fight as most of the Freshman class decided to help.

Wednesday evening, November 19, a number of the High School students met at the auditorium and from there went to the E. A. Race home, where they chivareed Carroll Sars, a member of the Alumni, and his wife, formerly Helen Whalley. After a short entertainment at the Race home an impromptu dance was given by Mr. and Mrs. Sars at the opera house.

The question for the Inter-Scholastic debate is: Resolved, "That the United States should ratify no treaty whereby China is despoiled of the Shantung peninsula." Several preliminary debates have been given in the English IV class, and we hope that we may compete creditably with the teams from the other High Schools in our division.

Dorcas Society will hold their annual bazaar the first Saturday in December, the 6th; sale of fancy work will begin at four o'clock; serving of lunch to begin at 5:30.

250 boxes of Hood River winter apples will arrive in a few days, bought direct from the grower. Better place your order at once as they will not last. Crosfield.

J. M. Eddy has resigned his subcontract as carrier of the local mail route, to be effective December 1st. He has sold his Ford car to G. E. Meloy jr. who will take over the route.

W. A. Woods stopped over in Moro this week, home bound from the Woolmens' and the Stock Raisers' conventions in Portland. He wanted to eat turkey with the old folks at home, his parents, Mr. and Mrs. Jas. Woods.

The 9th annual convention of the Oregon and Southern Idaho divisions of the Farmers' Educational and Co-operative Union will meet in The Dalles December 24, 3d, and 4th. More than 500 delegates are expected to attend.

A family reunion, comprising the immediate family and relatives, was held in Moro Thanksgiving day in honor of Mr. and Mrs. J. F. Belashee. There were 14 families represented at the sumptuous turkey dinner embellished with all the seasonable delicacies that accompany such a feast, served in the afternoon in I. O. O. F. hall and attended by 60 persons representing three generations and numerous cousins to the second and third degree. The families participating were J. F. Belashee, A. M. Wright, J. B. Morrison, and W. H. Ragsdale.

The Peace Treaty and League of Nations covenant has failed of ratification by the United States senate. There is a tendency upon the part of some to make this a political issue and if this should come to pass the country at large will come to know more of the treaty and exactly what it means than the majority of the people do now. It would be a good idea for every one who has pronounced views regarding the treaty to read it; they might change their conception. The Observer office, through the courtesy of Senator Chamberlain, has been favored with an official copy of the treaty. If the treaty had been ratified as presented to the senate it would have been but a short time before we, as a nation, would be trying to get out from under our obligations.
