Albert, 11-year old son of Jos Folds, was badly burned at the family home in Grass Valley Thursday evening about six o'clock when starting a fire with gasoline in place of kerosene as he thought. Mrs. Robert Burns, telephone operator, saw the boy run from the house as she was passing and went to his assistance, putting her cloak about him and smothering the flames. The boy is expected to recover. The kitchen of the house was burned, but not beyond repair.

The Wonders of America

By T. T. MAXEY

THE MOST POWERFUL LOGO-MOTIVES.

At the time of their completion, the locomotives used for hauling the long, heavy coal and other trains over the steep railroad grades in the mountains of Virginia were the most powerful in the world.

The enormous size, weight and power of these leviathans of the rail are positively astounding. Each engine (and tender) weighs almost 900,000 pounds, is considerably more than 100 feet in length, has 20 driving wheels, is fired by machinery, exerts a straightaway pull of 170,000 pounds and, 'tis said, will haul any load that the coupling pin will hold.

The boilers of these giants on wheels are about 9 1/2 feet in diameter. Each boiler contains 381 two and a quarter-inch tubes, which, placed end to end, would reach almost two miles; also seventy 5 1/2-inch flues, having a total length of more than a quarter of a mile. The fire boxes are 15 feet long and 9 feet wide.

The shipment of these large locomotives from the point of construction to the point of service presented an unusually peculiar and difficult problem requiring great care and attention, for the reason that the tracks and bridges of the various railroads over which they had to move were not, in all cases, built to withstand such tremendous weights. They were shipped in a partially knocked-down condition and approximately two weeks were required to move them from Schenectady, N. Y., to Princeton, W. Va. Three cars were necessary to carry the loose and detached parts belonging to each locomotive.

is.....

"All we can give
for the money;
—not all we can get for the goods!"

Don't be taken in with the idea that the character of our goods means corresponding height in cost. We shall be glad to dispel that idea if you will call and see us. We want you to know a dollar here buys more than elsewhere.
