A real celebration of the anniversary of Washington's natal day was held in Moro by the C. G. Huls family when all the married daughters and their families paid a surprise visit to the "folks at home" on the occasion of the 57th anniversary of Mr. Huls' birth. It was a complete surprise to those immediately concerned, altho Mrs. Huls had helped plan the affair only later to hear the intimation that because of bad roads it had best be postponed. Those present were H. T. Peugh and family, from Wasco; O. N. Ruggie and family from Grass Valley; W. A. Ruggles and family from Monkland.

An added attraction will be put on at Moro Theater next Saturday evening, February 28th through the courtesy of Morrow Bros. of Wasco, county agents for the Chevrolet automobiles. The film is a scenic portrayal of the famous climb of the Chevrolet car over the snow fields to the top of Mt. Hood, is true to life and nationally famous for its scenic grandeur.

Dr. Freeze will make another attempt to visit Moro announcing the exact date next week.

The storm in December cancelled his trip for that month and dangerous illness of his eldest girl called him home in January when on his way here. She is now out of danger.

His Personality

was so great and affection for him so marked that his birthday was publicly celebrated for years before his death.

So it is written of Washington.

Few men—and they supremely great—may receive this high honor, a birthday nationally observed.

We cannot all be famous, but we may all be honored. The nearer we approach the character, the unselfish spirit that made Washington's personality what it was, the wider grows our circle of friends.

Our Motto
is.....

"All we can give for the money; not all we can get for the goods"

Don't be taken in with the idea that the character of our goods means corresponding height in cost. We shall be glad to dispel that idea if you will call and see us. We want you to know a dollar here buys more than elsewhere.

We have a few stoves left--bought at the old price--and we will give our customers the benefit
