Special Attraction at Moro Theater

The management of Moro Theater announces that it has secured for next Thursday evening, April 15, the dramatic novelty of the year, "The Long Arm of Mannister." Henry B. Walthall who is now recognized as the master of the screen has the stellar honors in this production, and is supported by a large cast which includes such players as Helene Chadwick and Olive Ann Alcorn.
The picture is a film adaptation of the famous novel by E. Phillips Oppenheim, which ran in serial form in the Saturday Evening Post and the majority of the larger newspapers in the country. The story is surcharged with romance, swift action, and powerful situations.
The scenic settings are pretentious and elaborate. The gowns worn by the women are the latest Parisian designs and were especially made for the ladies appearing in this production.

Food for Reflection

THE man of discernment doesn't write a letter when a 'phone call would do; send a messenger when a telegram would serve, or trudge on foot when he could ride on a train. He utilizes the conveniences modern science puts at his disposal.

He doesn't handle his money in such a way that it's safety is uncertain; that he gets tangled up in wranglings and losses. He takes advantage of the protection and harmony a Checking Account guarantees.

New business invited.

That is the case with

The State University, the Agricultural College, and the Oregon Normal. In 1913 they had 2250 students; now they have 5400. And $1 in 1913 is only as good as 45 cents today, in purchasing power.

If you yourself were responsible could you carry on the work of the College, University and Normal on the same state support as in 1913?

You could not

Neither can the State University, the Agricultural College, and the Normal School do it. Will you not help these three institutions to continue their useful and productive work for Oregon by voting on May 21 for the Higher Educational relief measure?
