Field Fire at Roy Powell Farm

A fire set by the passenger train Tuesday afternoon burned over an area of about 100 acres of stubble on the Roy Powell farm south of Moro, destroying three loads of hay and 186 sacks of wheat that had not yet been picked up by the crew. The fire also got into the Meloy farm, burning about an acre of standing grain; also into the O. P. King farm, where heavy standing grain would have made a disastrous blaze, but fortunately, it was stopped at the fence line; it also crossed into the Bruce Kee farm, but only to the extent of about five acres.

The Bruce Kee combine was working in the direct line of the fire, but by setting the horses to a gallop the machine was taken out of danger.

Men from Moro went to the fire in autos and the train, after leaving most of its crew at the fire, made a trip to Grass Valley for more fire fighters and wet sacks. Considering the possibilities and extent of the blaze the damage was nominal.

I wish to thank all who helped stop the field fire on my place last Tuesday afternoon. Roy Powell.

Don't fail to see the Baby Holt Tractor Harvester. No horses and only three men. If you bulk your grain you will use only two men. Harvester now at Herman Christiansen's ranch southeast of Moro. Crosfield, Sherman County Agent.

Sparks from the chimney set fire to the roof of the Ben Payne farm home in the Rutledge section early Wednesday morning. The blaze was discovered by Dr. Whittier and wife, camped near by, about as soon as the fire started with the result that little damage was done.

Every farmer should take time to visit the H. H. Christiansen harvest outfit for an inspection of the work being done by the new model Holt Baby Tractor Combine. This machine is balanced on a single centered Caterpillar track, uses three men in 11 sack grain doing 25 acres per day; has a collapsing reel and folding header and travels 2 1/2 miles an hour in high gear, pulling all hills on high gear so far encountered.

Hawaiian Show Coming

The attraction scheduled to appear at the Moro Theater on Wednesday, August 18th, will be the Crist and Costa Genuine Portuguese Hawaiians, who are presenting their own elaborate musical production "The Princess of Paradise" in which all the famous Hawaiian songs, instrumental numbers and dances are introduced.

The music lovers of this city are assured the treat of the season in the way of a Hawaiian Musical Night, when this famous Hawaiian troupe makes its bow to local theater goers. The Hulu Hulu dance will be seen, the langorous twang of the Ukelele shall be heard, and the steel guitar, which was made famous by the Hawaiian people themselves, will be played by Mr. Joseph Rogrigues, who is a master of the steel guitar. Mr. Charles Costa, one of Hawaii's most noted singers and entertainers, heads the list of notables with the Crist and Costa's Hawaiians and Princess Aloha, the famous Hula dancer, is also with this organization.

All in all an unusual entertainment is to be offered by these native Hawaiians.
