Notes From the Schools

School was dismissed at 11 o'clock Thursday morning so that the high school students might attend the funeral of Mrs. Lois Harris. Mrs. Harris graduated from Moro High School with the class of '15. Two brothers, Ray and Otis Messenger attend school here now.

Wasco carried off both Volley Ball games last Friday night. They won all three sets in the girls' games and two out of three in the boys' game. The Moro boys played well but Wasco proved to be trifle too fast for them. The first set was the best one of the three. Wasco won by four points. Roscoe and Leo Moore were the only Moro boys to score during this set. Roscoe scored six and Leo scored five. Moro won the next set by eleven points and Wasco won the third by seven. The Moro girls played well for the amount of practice they have had. The first two sets found Wasco had won. The girls insisted upon playing another set to show their sportsmanship. As a result, they lost again. We hope to win the game at Grass Valley this coming Saturday.

The girls' hiking club went on a hike early Wednesday morning and ate breakfast in Grass Valley Canyon. It was very cold but nevertheless they had a good time.

Church Going and It's Benefits

The first question to be asked on this subject: "Is Man only Human?" That is, only animal or is he more and second, does the material things satisfy man? Such as the social pleasures, gathering of wealth, and attaining fame? Is the Church an asset or a liability? Has the Church been a benefit to the country or could we get along without it just as well? What would have been the difference if the Pilgrims who were seeking a land where they could have liberty in worshipping God, had landed in South America and the Portuguese in Massachusetts, which would be the developed country today?

I am persuaded that each have already answered these questions as quickly as they were asked and favorable to the Church and Christianity. If this is true then the Churches must be maintained by the people of the community. But how are they to be maintained? As far as I know financially they are well supported but is this sufficient? The children, while young, are sent to Sunday School, they do not attend church services. Only a small per cent of the adults attend the church services. So that the church is not supported in church attendance. Further, the children are being educated to the line—both by practice and example—not to support the church in attendance. When the faithful few pass on beyond the border of this land then what will have become of that spirit which the Pilgrims brought to and has made this country?

Will not the people of Moro change their present policy and develop that noble spirit by supporting that which has given us the great privileges we enjoy, in supporting one—which ever is your choice—of the churches of Moro by your personal attendance at least at it's Sunday services.

To make the services more interesting and instructive, the Presbyterian church has put in both the slide and movie machine and in connection with the evening service it will be used in addition to the regular service. This is done to increase the interest and attendance at these services, but is not done to draw any of the sister church's attendance from them, neither is it done for any commercial purpose as there is no charge, not even an offering will be taken on the evenings that these features are used, but to build up an appetite for the higher things which is for the welfare of the human family.

Anticipating a very great increase in church attendance in the town of Moro in the future, I close.

Elmer E. McVicker.

Farmers' Meeting Comes Saturday

The farmers' meeting arranged for this week has been arranged for Saturday, November 13th, at 2 p. m. at the court house. The business men of the county are also invited and urged to attend and see what the farmers' organization is doing. The business interest prospers only as agriculture prospers and the two are so closely allied that Farm Bureau officials are making a special invitation for all to be present Saturday.

Mr. Gray, representing the National Farm Bureau, and Mr. Mansfield, of the proposed state organization, are speaking to gatherings in all organized counties in the state. Let us show them that Sherman county is on the job and get these matters first hand so that we can act accordingly. C. C. Calkins.

Scarcity of Telephone Equipment

As new subscribers, a number of individuals have recently placed orders with us for telephones. Old subscribers have asked for service at new locations. They have been told by our representatives that immediate compliance with their desires was impossible owing to lack of telephone facilities in a particular locality. Why, one will say, "the poles and wires are on the street and the house is already wired."

We wish that the problem were as simple as it sounds. There may be poles and wires, but every wire may be in use in giving service to others. There may be a cable, but every circuit in it may be assigned to telephones already installed. There may be spare wires and circuits, but no switchboard apparatus at the central office to which they can be connected. There may even be sections of switchboard, but not available for operation on account of the lack of necessary accessories such as ringing keys, relays, etc.

The reason for the shortage of telephone equipment is simple. During the war period we were unable to maintain our reserve or stock plant as the same materials we use were required and taken for Government purposes and for industries properly controlled by the Government. Since the war, with the unexpectedly prolonged problems of reconstruction, production and delivery of materials needed to meet even current demands have been delayed. Every business concern is having similar experiences. The manufacturers of telephone equipment have been bending every effort to fill our orders, but they in turn are meeting the same difficulties in securing rubber, paper, silk, porcelain, tin, thread, shellac, metal parts and other articles not generally associated in the public mind with telephone service.

At the same time with this abnormal situation with reference to materials there exists an unprecedented demand for telephone service, and even under these circumstances our record is one of fulfillment of demand. In the first eight months of this year we have added 2882 telephones in the State of Oregon. In the eight months prior to our declaration of war we gained 2655 telephones.

We desire to give service as much as a patron wishes to receive it. We desire to promptly comply with the suggestions of public authorities who have taken a proper interest in the situation. We are facing abnormal conditions but we will of necessity gradually overcome our difficulties.
