The theme for next Sunday morning at the Presbyterian church is "Spiritual Medicals." In the evening in connection with the picture study will be the sermon, subject "The Runaway."

Chester Smith returned Wednesday evening from the hospital, surprising his many friends by his quick recovery from the accident. In appearance he shows but little effects of the horse kicking him.

We are indebted to Owen Thompson for a generous portion of delicious pork back bone. Owen appreciates the fact city residents haven't as favorable an opportunity to test such farm products.

Chris Anderson found one of his most valuable horses dead in the field Thursday. The animal had become badly cut on the wire fence and a passing hunter had shot it through the head.

Beginning this next Saturday the management of Moro Opera House will present but one moving picture show each week and that one on Saturdays. This will hold until further notice, with the exception of the matinee and evening on Thanksgiving Day.

Armistice Day in Moro in the year 1920 will be remembered as the beginning of the winter season this year. A near blizzard wind blew all day, with low hanging clouds and appearance of foggy weather to come which, about eleven that night changed to snow and next morning the new snow winter wheat fields were evenly covered by a protecting mantle of wet snow two inches or better in depth.

The Observer is informed that a change of management is pending for Hotel Moro. As told to us, a 6-year lease has been signed by the company and Mrs. W. M. Walker of Grass Valley. The new management takes over at cost all supplies such as bedding, dishes, silverware, etc., and has an option on the furniture for the first year. Mrs. Walker formerly was owner of the Vinton Hotel at Grass Valley and is a sister to Mrs. Rutledge, former owners of the old Moro Hotel, burned down July 4th 1919.

A letter received this week from Mrs. L. Grimes, who moved recently to Bend, from this city, among other information states that both her family and that of her son Lloyd are now settled in their new homes. Both father and son have invested in Bend property and own their new homes and are well pleased with the locality. Lloyd is millwrighting and Mr. Grimes senior is carpentering at the Brooks & Scanlon mill. The letter also states that the weather has been good with cold nights.

Chris Schmitt post 71, Moro American Legion, celebrated Armistice Day in Moro in royal fashion. It was open house for the public all that day at the Moro Opera House. In the afternoon a program consisting of patriotic songs, vocal and instrumental music, speeches and short talks, were the attraction; in the evening was presented a splendid moving picture show of two hours duration, followed by a dance until midnight stopped the revelry. Every thing was free to the public and the members of the post showed themselves as being most worthy hosts.

In the presence of the immediate relatives of the contracting parties, Miss Alvera Howard and Virgil Eugene Cushman were married Friday evening, November 5th, 1920, at the home of the bride's parents at Portland. A reception to the many friends of the bride followed the ceremony. Mr. Cushman is son of Mrs. and Mrs. E. A. Cushman of this city. Miss Howard is known to a large circle in this vicinity, having taught two terms in this school district. Their many friends all join in wishing them a pleasant life's voyage upon the matrimonial seas. The young couple are now at home on Mr. Cushman's farm near Wasco.

Assessor Otto Peetz and wife left for Portland over the highway the first of the week. While away Mr. Peetz will attend the annual meeting of Oregon assessors which meets at Salem on the 10th. This is an official convention of public men who each year give their time to the state for the purpose of exchanging ideas that may result in greater benefit to all the sections of the state alike. Among the leaders of this body of men the assessor for Sherman county is in the front rank; placed there by his brother assessors because of the knowledge he has of such matters as tax laws and their requirements.
