GERMANY MUST PAY,
SECRETARY STATES

Reparations Claims Held to Be Just, in Reply to Note
From Germany.

Washington.—The United States stands with the governments of the allies in holding Germany responsible for the war and therefore morally bound to make reparations, so far as possible.

This is the positive declaration of Secretary of State Charles E. Hughes, made by him in his reply to a communication from the German government, forwarded to him under date of March 29.

In his reply, Secretary of State Hughes expressed pleasure at Germany's "unequivocal expression" of its desire to pay to the limit of ability and said:

"This government believes that it recognizes in the memorandum of Dr.
Simons a sincere desire on the part of the German government to reopen negotiations with the allies on a new basis and hopes that such negotiations, once resumed, may lead to a prompt settlement which will at the same time satisfy the just claims of the allies and permit Germany hopefully to renew its productive activities."

The formal statement of the United States as to German reparations is contained in an exchange of communications with German government officials, made public by the state department. They are in the form of memoranda transmitted through Loring Dresel, American high commissioner at Berlin.
