Sisters Drowned Near Kent

Marie and Priscilla O'Sullivan, 20 and 18 year old daughters of Mike O'Sullivan of Kent, were drowned just before noon Sunday morning when crossing the John Day river near their home. Although a ford was close by, they headed the horses into deep water so they could arrive sooner at a bathing beach they had intended using, as they had done numerous times before. Evidently the horses became unruly when they slipped off a ledge and threw the sisters into an eddy estimated to be 20 feet deep. About 40 men answered the alarm, but it was after 3 p. m. when the older girl was found and near 5 p. m. when the second was taken from the water, both within ten feet from where they last went down.

Custer's Last Fight

The finest motion-picture of the year and one of the most artistic and fascinating contributions ever made to the screen is "Bob Hampton of Placer," produced and directed by Marshall Neilan, which will be shown at Moro Theater next Tuesday. The production is adapted from the Randall Parrish story of the same name. It not only tells a delightful story of love and adventure, but also immortalizes on the screen one of the most picturesque chapters of American history.

The undying fame of General Custer won in his last stand against the Sioux Tribes under Sitting Bull is given a new luster in this screen version, which reproduces the battle of the Little Big Horn.

And through it all runs an absorbing plot, interpreted by an exceptional cast. James Kirkwood plays the title role, and Marjorie Daw has the feminine lead. Pat O'Malley has the part of a gallant and lovelorn officer of Custer's staff. And the smiling freckled countenance of Master Wesley Barry shines throughout this exceptional First National attraction. The production was photographed among the scenic grandeur of Glacier National Park and on the actual scenes of General Custer's gallant fight against the Indians.

Board of Equalization

Notice: There will be a meeting of the county board of equalization for Sherman county, Oregon, at the court house on the 21 Monday in September, at Moro, Oregon, that being the 12th day of September 1921, to publicly examine the assessment rolls, correct all errors in valuation, description of lands or other property assessed by me, and it shall be the duty of persons interested to appear at the time and place appointed. All petitions must be made in writing and verified by the oath of the applicant and filed with the board within fifteen days from the time it is by law required to meet.

Otto Peetz
County Assessor.

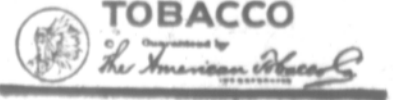

Engineer Wall this week moved the county rock crusher from its location near the W. W. M. Co. grain warehouse to a new location near the J. C. Hockman farm, where it will be set up in readiness for surfacing the 1 1/2 miles of highway that has been awarded the county by the state. The piece under construction begins at the end of the rock roadway near the opera house and continues in a practically straight line to in front of the J. C. Hockman farm gate. This location when completed will eliminate two railroad crossings.

About thirty ladies attended the Lawn Social held by the Dorcas Society Wednesday afternoon at the home of Mrs. T. C. Lee. Refreshments were served, consisting of ice cream and wafers. Mrs. Etta Moore and Mrs. Laura Ireland won championship honors in a final tie in the bean board throwing contest, six being tied at the conclusion of the first contest.

Quite a number of Kent farmers are through harvesting, some of the grain turning out much better than expected.

Mrs. Max Pluemke has returned from Sisters, bringing her baby who has been taken care of by Mrs. Guyton.

Mrs. Earl Gregg had the misfortune to fall down a flight of stairs a few days ago and is somewhat bruised and disabled.

Mrs. O. W. Hogue and daughter were visiting a few days in Kent last week. Babe seemed well pleased with her acquaintances.

W. F. Guyton and wife, also Miss Juanita Zerbe of California, returned from Metolious this week. "Dad" caught some extra big fish this time.

The entire community was grievously shocked Sunday to learn of the death of sisters Marie and Priscilla O'Sullivan in the John Day river. The accident occurred sometime in the forenoon, the bodies not being recovered until late in the afternoon, about 40 men were assisting in the rescue work. Mrs. O'Sullivan was convalescing from a serious operation and fears are entertained for her health. A brother, Lawrence, came from Pendleton. The father is working on a railroad in Alberta, Canada. Interment was made in the I.O.O.F. cemetery at Grass Valley. The family have the sympathy of all in their double bereavement.

"Brewster's Millions" Saturday

"Brewster's Millions" which has convulsed the thousands of readers of what is perhaps the most popular novel ever written by George Barr McCutcheon is a story of pure comedy romance, embellished highly, in the screen version, by the inclusion of a number of incidents that appear in neither the novel or the play, with the result that the production has a far greater comedy value than either of its forerunners. These additions are of such a character that only one living comedian can put across Roscoe "Fatty" Arbuckle.

It is the story of Monte Brewster who is left fatherless at the tender age of two years. His two grandfathers quarrel as to how the boy should be brought up, his mother's patience is exhausted, and she tells the grandfathers that she will bring up her child in her own way, just as she pleases, without interference from either of them. "Fatty" little reckons what the future holds in store for him. The grandfathers give it up as a bad job and wash their hands of the responsibility for his upbringing all of which is a good thing for the youngster. When he is twenty-five Monte, now an orphan, struggles along on a slim salary as a clerk in a steamship office. After a series of incidents in which his poverty is accentuated, his efforts to make both ends meet take on an extremely humorous aspect to the audience, it comes about that Grandfather Brewster offers to make a gentleman of his grandson, and presents him with a million dollars. The other grandfather makes a counter proposition to Monte, to take him into his business as an active partner, and give him five million dollars, if at the end of the year he is absolutely broke. How he carries out this compact, spends the million and experiences the strangest tricks of fate rounds out the story in an hour and a half of riotous laughter.

Vertebral adjustment is an art and a therapeutic procedure founded upon the theory that pressure upon a spinal nerve by a displaced, or more technically speaking, a subluxated, vertebra, is the physical and perpetuating cause of 95 per cent of all cases of disease; the remaining 5 per cent being due to subluxations of other skeletal segments. Chiropractic removes the causes of disease more promptly, radically and permanently than any other known method. Dr. G. H. Patchen, M. D., D. C., Editor Health Culture.

Dan McLachlan was a pleasant caller at this office this week, his conversation and remarks upon comparative conditions of the early days and the present were quite striking. The price of wheat interests Dan quite a bit, but when this is said to hinge upon the rate for foreign exchange, there is where Mr. Lachlan is at home as he had quite an experience with exchange, not long since, during a trip to New Zealand.

The state treasurer has apportioned to the common schools of Oregon for the year 1921 the sum of $384,985.00, based upon a per capita of $1.74 for the 221,288 pupils of school age in the state. Last year the per capita apportionment was $2.02. Based upon a census of 1,102 pupils, the amount apportioned to Sherman county is $1,917.00.

Summons by Publication

In the Circuit Court of the State of Oregon for Sherman County. Levon Moore, a minor, appearing by George B. Bourhill, her guardian ad litem, plaintiff vs

L. L. Peetz, administrator of the estate of W. B. Torey, deceased, and the State of Oregon, and all unknown heirs of W. B. Torey, deceased, defendants.

To all unknown heirs of W. B. Torey deceased:

In the name of the State of Oregon, you and each of you are required to appear and answer the Amended Complaint of the plaintiff in the above entitled suit on or before six weeks from the date of the first publication of this summons as hereinafter set forth, and in case of your failure so to do the plaintiff will apply to the Court for the relief demanded in her Amended Complaint, namely: For a decree of the above entitled Court that the agreement as set forth in her Amended Complaint between Lulu Moore, mother of Levon Moore, a minor, and W. B. Torey, deceased, be specifically enforced; that a trust be impressed upon the residue of the estate of W. B. Torey, deceased, now in the hands of L. L. Peetz, administrator of said estate, and that the same be ordered paid over to plaintiff's guardian for her use and benefit, for plaintiff's costs and disbursements, and for such other and further relief as to the Court shall seem meet and proper in the premises.

This Summons is served upon you by publication in conformity with an order of the above entitled Court, made and entered on the 27th day of June, 1921, which said order requires that you and each of you shall appear and answer plaintiff's Amended Complaint on or before six weeks from the date of the first publication of this summons, which said is July 1st, 1921.
