Several couples are moving around and some are finding it rather difficult to secure a location, evidently the first nest is hard to make.

A very interesting picture, "The Rivers End," was shown here Tuesday evening.

Judging by the heavy prices put on wood and coal, we are going to have a very hard winter.

The "Yager Family Entertainers," advertising the Olifon drugs, are with us again. Wonderful cures; operations avoided; pains guaranteed; new show every night; wonderful hair tonic—grows sideburns on a smooth-shaven poodle; "try Lewies' black cold cream"; complexions changed before your eyes.

The rain will prove whether your new shingles are put on right or not.

Dr. Thatcher was called out to see the small daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Carl Gregg. We did not learn the cause of his illness.

James L. Dellinger has most of his family gathered up and is nearly happy again.

We learn that John K. Craig, formerly in charge of the Methodist church in the neighboring city of Grass Valley.

J. S. Matthes and family are preparing for a trip to the valley by motor via the Columbia highway.

W. A. Young of this town was quite ill one day this week. "Whip Poor Will!" I should say not! In his sleep he is said to have said "I must have been to a smoker, which side won?"

Several people of our community are going to "see 'er Buck."

Mrs. Wilber Helyer took her son Durward to see the doctor one day last week. The youngster having run a nail in his foot. A young man and lady of this town accompanied her.

Erret Wilson made a business trip to Grass Valley this week.

Brain taxer: Big nigger, little nigger, a settin' on a fence; little nigger was big nigger's son, yet the big nigger wasn't the little nigger's papa. What was the relation? Prize: One convolution in gray matter.

Mrs. Max Plasmke and Miss Gertrude Hogue were passengers to Wasco Wednesday morning.

Several good hunters for deer left here for the Happy Hunting Grounds. Perhaps we will be able to tell you next week the number of deer massacred.

Old Jupe has blessed us with two very fine showers recently. There are good prospects for more yet.

W. F. Guyton and wife are now on their way home, spending a few days in The Dalles en route.

You have all heard the minutes; do we hear any corrections? If not they stand approved as read. Love and Best Wishes to all. Der Goat.

Mrs. Rae Mottern, who has been on the sick list, is greatly improved. Molly Annie is now Daddy's Girl.

The weather man decided it was time to wear something of a higher cut than a bathing suit, so sent us some quite cool weather.

L. W. Amick is peddling some very nice pears, peaches and prunes. Stay with it Lawrence, that's the way Bur-bank got his start.

Jack is still tunneling tons of coal; having as assistant Edwin Morrow of this town.

Dr. Thatcher of Grass Valley was in Kent Tuesday, performing two operations for tonsillitis. The two latest to be benefitted are Miss Margaret Dunlap and Ed. Justensen.

Mrs. Jesse Barry, who was operated on for tonsillitis last week, does not shine at conversation at the present time.

Our new school force appears to be doing good work. "The Boys' Cooking Club," like good yeast, is working. There will be eight fine husbands in the Sweet Bye and Bye.

Mr. and Mrs. Shelton Fritts of this community, we understand, have rented the Jas. Taylor farm just north of Grass Valley.

Attention of those interested in purebred cattle is directed to the auction sale of the Wheeler County Purebred Livestock Breeders' Association. This sale should secure a good representative attendance from this county as the cattle on sale is of the same breed brought into Sherman in the last few years under similar circumstances.

Sherman County Abstract Company, Moro, Oregon. If you care to sell your real estate, list it with us for sale since we have inquiries from time to time, and may be in a position to help you. We have a person with the cash who desires to buy a one-half section in a good district and to rent other lands. For further information inquire of George R. Bourhill, manager, realty department of Sherman County Abstract Co. Moro, Oregon.

Notice: Strayed away sometime last spring from the Bryant & Hansen ranch on the John Day river in Sherman county, Oregon, two mares both well built and shapely, the one a dark bay about 4 years old. Both should have the Bryant & Hansen brand which is a quarter circle over 15 on the right shoulder for horses, and the same brand on the left shoulder for cattle. Reasonable reward will be paid.
