Teaching Staff Moro School

Moro school opened for the current term on September 12th with a registration of 46 in high school and 89 in the grades, a total of 135 pupils. Since then several more have registered in both the high school and in the grades. The teachers for this year are:

Principal: Wm. Ridgeway, graduate of Willamette University; principal of Dallas high school for the past three years.

English and history: Mrs. Wm. Ridgeway, graduate of University of Oregon; has taught in Pilot Rock and Dallas high schools.

Home Economics: Miss Grace Pitts, graduate of O. A. C. has taught in Moro and Lebanon high schools.

Commercial: Miss Iola McCain, graduate of O. A. C. in class of 1921. Miss McCain has taught in the commercial department of the Corvallis high school. She will assist in girls athletics.

7th and 8th grades: A. M. Zevlev, formerly principal of Banks public schools and instructor in Grass Valley school for the past year.

5th and 6th grades: Miss Helen Peck, graduate of Oregon State Normal school has taught in Moro and Rainier public schools.

3d and 4th grades: Mrs. Ray O. Baker, graduate of Oregon State Normal school; has taught in Cove and Athena public schools. Mrs. Baker will assist in music.

1st and 2nd grades: Mrs. Nellie Muir, specialized in primary work at Kansas Normal school, our primary teacher for the past seven years; taught in Tygh Valley public school for eight years before coming to Moro; spent the past summer in a tour extending from Oregon to New York, studying primary school work at various educational centers.

After two meetings in which football was defeated in favor of valley ball, the boys gathered Thursday night after school and decided to play the former game. This unexpected decision came as a result of Wasco's determination to play football or nothing. No word had been received in Moro as to Wasco's stand until Thursday morning. Grass Valley had favored football from the start, but it was thought that they would yield if the other schools decided to play valley ball. Dale Lusk was elected Captain and Roy Messenger, manager of the new team.

None of the county teams are expected to be exceptionally strong but still some good lively games may be played. Moro has as good a chance as any of the other towns and is going to pull together for the best eleven possible.

The expense of the football season will not be great as the complete outfit used during the school year of 1919-20 is still in the county, and can be secured.

Although the boys will not play valley ball, the girls will. No games have been scheduled yet.

As unexpected as the decision to play football, the news came around Thursday that Dale Lusk had registered and returned to school. He will be a valuable addition to our football eleven and in other activities.

There is talk of having a high school football game at the fair grounds during the Sherman County fair. There is no definite dates set yet, however.

Friday evening the Seniors gave a party to the high school in honor of the Freshman. The interest of the gathering was greatly heightened by the initiation of those unfortunate beings belonging to the Freshman class. However, they are still alive to tell the story, and must compliment the Senior class on giving them such a thorough initiation into the lore of high school life.

Mrs. Baker who is to be the Glee Club director for the coming year, has organized a Girls Glee Club. The club, which has about twenty members, seems to be very enthusiastic and is trying its hardest to work up the very best Glee Club that the high school has ever known.

J. C. Company Convention
Portland has been selected as the place for holding a big convention of buyers and managers of the J. C. Penny company stores on September 30 and October 1 and about 100 managers and 15 buyers of that organization will be in the city for that event. The sessions will be held at the Multnomah hotel.

E. C. Sama, president of the company, will give his report. There will also be addresses by J. M. McDonald, general merchandise manager, and Dr. Francis Burgett Short, head of the educational department and editor of the home organ. In addition general business conditions will be discussed and ideas exchanged by the different managers.

The J. C. Penny Company now operates 213 stores in 26 states, 75 of these being in the three western states of Oregon, Washington and California.

In a report issued by the headquarters of the concern it was announced that prevailing conditions as they are generally understood to exist are not reflected in the financial report of this nation-wide institution. The report was said to show that for the first eight months of this year the gross receipts were $4,740,755.16 in excess of the figures for the corresponding period of last year.

President Sama announced that he attributed this increase largely to the fact that the public nowadays is shopping around and buying merchandise of quality at the lowest possible price.

The purchasing power of such a tremendous organization as the J. C. Penny Company makes possible the high quality so as to retail it at a low price," he declared.

The annual regular meeting of the Student Body was held Tuesday morning the 20th in the auditorium. In the absence of all the old officers Owen Elliot was chosen as secretary, chairman. The following officers were elected:

Forrest Peetz, president; Edmund Stephens, vice-president; Alida Ray, Messenger, treasurer; Ryan Peetz, sergeant-at-arms; Ruth Bryant and George Belknap, reporters; Alida Douma and Ray Messenger, yell leaders.

Following a tradition, the Seniors elected their officers a few days after school started, before any of the other classes had settled down to business. Those who will lead the graduation class this year are: Forrest Peetz, president; Marie Schadwitz, vice-president; May Lusk, secretary; Charles Gray, treasurer.

At a meeting in the laboratory last week, the boys decided to play valley ball rather than football and selected Rouscoe Moore as captain, and Ray Messenger manager of the team.

The girls also have held a meeting and elected Marjory Ginn as captain and Mildred Ginn as manager of the girls' volleyball team.

The Freshman came second in date of organization. They held their meeting the evening of the 20th after school and elected Annet McGarver, president; Linnie Belshee, vice-president; Quay Martin, secretary; Katherine Peetz, treasurer; Wallace Cochran, sergeant-at-arms.

The Sophomores gathered in the laboratory the Wednesday following and elected their officers for the year. They are: Owen Searcy, president; Marjory Ginn, vice-president; Opal Powell, secretary-treasurer. Miss McCain was chosen as the class adviser.
