Were His Antagonist Out.

Roosters have different tactics when fighting and often display considerable brainwork. Recently, in a Cuban rooster fight, where a little rooster was pitted against a big fellow, the little bird looked at his antagonist and started to run around and around, with the big rooster after him. Then, when the big bird was out of breath, the little one turned on him and whipped him in short order.

OREGON NEWS NOTES OF GENERAL INTEREST

Principal Events of the Week Briefly Sketched for Information of Our Readers.

The state irrigation and drainage securities commission has refused for the second time to approve plans for the proposed development of the Jefferson water conservancy district, once known as the north unit irrigation district of the big Deschutes project, which includes 106,000 acres in Jefferson county.

A. L. Leavitt, republican nominee for circuit judge of Klamath county, will assume his new duties immediately. Governor Olcott has appointed Mr. Leavitt to succeed Judge Stone, who was placed on the Klamath bench when Judge Kuykendall resigned. Governor Olcott's action followed the receipt of Judge Stone's resignation.

Although two municipal measures, presented to the voters of Salem at the special election, received favorable majority votes, it is possible that neither of these measures passed, as they did not receive the two-thirds majority vote required by the city charter, according to an unofficial opinion by City Attorney Smith.

Oregon has again scored above all states in the union, this time in matters educational. One person out of each 113 in the entire state was last year in attendance at some institution of higher learning—a record which is unparalleled through America, according to Dr. George F. Zook, specialist in higher education of the bureau of education, Washington, D. C.

Unless the public service commission intervenes, increases in cash and commutation fares on street railway systems in Salem and Eugene will become effective June 20. New tariffs providing for a fare increase from 5 to 6 cents in these cities were filed with the commission by the Southern Pacific company, owner of the Salem, Eugene and West Linn street railways.

Reports from the 279 banks of Oregon as of May 5, which have just been compiled by Franklin Bramwell, state superintendent of banks, give a total of $241,515,879 in deposits as against $232,568,694 on March 10. Loans aggregated $168,993,183, an increase of approximately $6,600,000 over outstanding loans on March 10, but money borrowed by banks shows a substantial increase.

War against the I. W. W. at Klamath Falls, said by officers to be attempting to organize among the timber workers who have been on strike since March 1, was declared by Sheriff Low and Police Chief Wilson, following the arrest of Morris Dailey, Adolph Vangness and Leonard Bolton, alleged I. W. W. organizers. The officers confiscated a suitcase full of I. W. W. literature.

Approval has been given by Secretary of Agriculture Wallace to several forest road construction projects in Oregon. These include a section of the Grants Pass-Crescent City road, to cost $10,000; a section of road between Neskowin and Devil's Lake, Tillamook and Lincoln counties, $100,000; 7 1-2 miles pinitia, $70,000, and the Cascadia road, of road between Mount Hood and Wa-Lincoln county, $38,000.

How many antelope are there in Oregon? Stanley Jewett of the Portland office of the United States biological survey is anxious to know the answer. He has been intrusted with the task of making a census of Oregon antelope and he has written to numerous residents of the state who have information on the subject, asking for estimates from 2000 to 10,000. He wants to find out whether herds of this animal are increasing or d

John Bangert, 27 years old, a rancher who resided seven miles north of Salem, died at a Salem hospital from a self-inflicted bullet wound in his left breast, and Clara Gruenfelder, 17, a sister-in-law, was in another hospital seriously wounded by a bullet fired by Bangert as the result of a domestic battle.

Gerald P. Israel, 18, employe on the farm of Fred Leboe, about eight miles southwest of McMinnville, shot and fatally wounded his employer and then committed suicide by shooting himself. The shooting was believed to have been the result of a row over wages which the boy alleged that the farmer owed him.

Louis E. Bean of Eugene, defeated candidate for the republican nomination for governor in the recent primaries, will succeed Bert Anderson of Medford as a member of the state game commission. Governor Olcott announced that he had tendered Mr. Bean the position and that Mr. Bean had accepted.

The Shevlin Hixon company and the Brooks Scanlon Lumber company announce that shipments from Bend during the month of May constituted a new record for all the time that the two plants have operated. Shevlin-Hixon shipments totaled 511 cars, and the Brooks Scanlon Lumber company used 414 cars.

Improvement of the Port of Umpqua appears to be assured by reason of the triumph in the rivers and harbors sub-committee of the senate appropriations committee of Senator McNary's amendment to the rivers and harbors bill providing for a government contribution of $276,000 to the work, to be matched by a like amount from local interests.

The system of the Dee Power and Irrigation company in the Hood river valley covering the Dee flat strawberry district, was badly damaged by winter freshets, and service has not been restored. Strawberries, growers declare, already have been cut 35 per cent by the water shortage, and it is feared the drought will seriously affect the district's tonnage.

Plans and specifications for the rebuilding of Happy Canyon, Pendleton's wild west town which runs wide open during the week of the round-up, are complete and the contract for the construction of the big pavilion will be let within two weeks. The heavy snow of last year brought the building to the ground. The cost of the new pavilion is about $6500 or $7000.

F. A. Elliott, state forester, has issued a statement in which he requests all slash owners to remember section 8958, Oregon laws, which provides, in part, that the burning of all slash, chopping, woodland or brush land during the period between June 1 to October 1 shall be done under written permission from a state-appointed fire warden. Burning done in violation of the law submits the party concerned to prosecution.

The county court of Polk county is enjoined from paying any portion of the expense of constructing the west side Pacific Highway, between Holmes' gap and the Benton county line, by a decision of Circuit Judge Kelly at Salem, in setting aside a contract between the county court and the state highway commission whereby the county assumed an obligation of $118,000 covering a period of four years for its share of the highway expense and attempted to divert at once $43,000 from the county's market road fund for that purpose.

The city of Coquille will vote on June 20 on a bond issue of $20,000, the money to be used on Rink creek to heighten the reservoir dam 10 feet.

The public service commission is requested to repeal its order for an 8-cent fare in Portland and restore the 6-cent rate, in a resolution adopted by the Portland Federation of Women's Clubs.

Gerald, 4-year-old son of Mr. and Mrs. Comli Huys of South Baker, was instantly killed when the lad was run over by a freight car being switched on the Sumpter Valley railroad at Baker.

Two loggers, Walter Wheeler, a hook tender of Kirby, and Alfred H. Mueller, a faller of Nehalem, were the only two men to lose their lives in the 446 accidents reported to the state industrial accident commission during the week ended June 1.

Half of Prineville's business section was wiped out Thursday by a fire which started in a frame apartment house and swept away five blocks, causing a loss estimated at $350,000. The authorities suspect that the blaze was of incendiary origin.

Russell Hecker was indicted by the circuit court grand jury of Clackamas county, charged with the murder of Frank Bowker, Portland musician, whose body was found in the Calapooia river after nearly a week's search, which started April 16.

From the standard four-year high schools of Oregon, 3676 students will be graduated this year, and 58 per cent of these, or 2133, will be girls, according to J. A. Churchill, state superintendent of schools. The total enrollment in these high schools is 29,235.

A million and a half trout eggs have been received by the Roseburg sportsmen's league from the state fish commission. The eggs were sent to the Rock Creek hatchery, where the fry will be cared for until large enough to release in the waters of the North Umpqua.

In order to build up the livestock industry of Klamath Falls, practically demolished during the war because of excessive prices offered for beef, prominent cattlemen of Klamath county are shipping in 10,000 head of beef cattle to be distributed over a number of ranches.

The Pacific Power & Light company of Portland has filed with State Engineer Percy Cupper an application for permission to use 3000 second-feet of the water of Snake river for power development of ten power plants along the Oregon, Idaho and Washington banks of the river.

You Are Choosing Today

between spending a little for paint now or spending heavily for repairs later

YOU can't escape the choice. Either your buildings are well protected by paint or they are rotting and will require repairing or rebuilding within a few years.

Check the costs. Find out how much more it will cost to repair or rebuild your property than it will to protect it with paint. Rotting buildings are a waste and an extravagance.

When you paint use the best paint. It costs less in the long run. It spreads more easily—saves labor cost. It covers more surface per gallon than "cheap" paint.

But most important, the best paint serves you five or more years longer than "cheap" paint.

We have been making the best paints for 73 years. They are scientific in formula and preparation. They meet the weather conditions in the West.

They contain the finest materials—PIONEER WHITE LEAD, pure linseed oil, pure zinc, and pure colors—combined scientifically in exact proportions with long-time skill.
