If you are contemplating buying anything in this line don't fail to look them over. Save from $5.00 to $20.00 on each garment and get a new stylish coat.

Roy F. Dean was appointed water collector for the city of Moro by the council at the regular meeting Tuesday night. A resolution was passed the same night instructing the city marshal to cut off all who fail to pay their water bills by the 10th of the month. A careful check of the water earnings shows an average of about $485 a month.

Unless loganberry growers of the Willamette valley are assured of not less than six cents a pound for their product next season, many of them will dig up their vines and engage in other business. This was the announcement made at a meeting of a large number of growers held at Liberty. Last year loganberries sold as low as 2 1/2 cents a pound, while this season most of the berries were marketed at four cents.

Starting in the dreamy moonlight of a tropical night in Tiva-Tiva, a South Sea island, and ending in the full glare of an Arizona desert sun, "Man To Man," the Universal-Jewel feature coming to the Moro Theatre next Tuesday, presents a variety of back-draws against which the inimitable Western star, Harry Carey, characterizes the figure of a lonely outcast, Lillian Rich, former British musical comedy star, plays the feminine role opposite him.

Mayor N. W. Thompson has received a letter from C. L. Tostevin, district sales manager for the Union Oil Co., in which Mr. Tostevin acknowledges receipt of communications from citizens of this vicinity urging the location at Moro of an oil distribution plant by the Union Oil Co. In part the writer says: "We appreciate the loyal support of the people of Moro pledged to our company. The subject of locating a distributing plant on the Shanniko branch is one that will have our very careful consideration. As soon as a decision is reached we will be glad to advise you."

Expenditures for educational purposes in Marion county for 1921 totaled $772,398.46.

September 15 and 16 has been set as the dates for the 12th annual Hood River county school fair.

Lloyd Murray, who escaped from the state hospital at Salem six months ago, was captured near Selo.

Work has been begun on construction of the foundation of Astoria's proposed new $300,000 hotel.

Rev. Joseph Heberg, well-known Methodist minister, died at his home in McMinnville. He was 94 years old. An organization for the co-operative marketing of their crops is being formed by grape growers of Josephine county.

Ten thousand persons are expected to attend the celebration September 9 of the completion of the new railroad to Vernonia.

Bartlett pear shipments started last week from the Rogue river valley, the first few carloads being consigned to Salem canneries.

With the opening of the annual hop picking season a few days away, Lane county growers are predicting a shortage of help in the fields.

Members of the Progressive Business Men's club of Portland presented 20 hand instruments to the state training school boys at Salem.

Plans are practically completed for the second annual northwest hay and grain show, which is to be held in Pendleton September 18-22.

Fire swept through a half block of the business section of Stayton, completely destroying the buildings and doing damage estimated at $45,000.

Damage estimated by fire officials at $50,000 was caused by a fire which swept through the Webster garage in Portland and burned 33 motor vehicles.

Plans for one of the most extensive displays ever made to represent Lane county at the state fair at Salem is being worked out by officials of the local board.

A measure authorizing the city council of Eugene to issue bonds in the sum of $15,000 for the purchase of a new fire pump truck, will be on the November ballot.

Approximately $13,000,000 voted for the relief of the ex-service men has been obligated by claims already approved by the world war veterans state commission.

A coyote suspected of having rabies was shot on East Main street in Klamath Falls by Frank Pecholt, after the animal had bitten a dog and frightened residents of the neighborhood.

Ole Paulsen, 50, gave himself up to Sheriff Ed Dunn at Marshfield, declaring that he had burned his $7000 dance hall at Coquille on July 15 after it had just been finished. The hall was insured for $5000.

The new grade of the La Grande-Joseph highway is now open and the old Wallowa hill grade, which was one of the most treacherous of mountain roads in eastern Oregon, is no longer used by automobiles.

Oil tests being made in the Sweet Home country are boosting the value of the land there, and in some cases persons owning property adjacent to the scenes of operation are asking prohibitive prices or refusing to sell.

Ground at Twelfth avenue East and Hilyard street in Eugene has been selected for the site of the new $100,000 hospital to be erected by the Eugene Bible university, according to announcement. In addition to the city building a 52-acre tract south of Eugene has been selected for a sanitarium and convalescent building.

The Shea hill section of the Foster-Cascadia road now has the official approval of the federal government. Copy of the agreement signed by Secretary of Agriculture Fall has been received by the Linn county court, whereby the government gives $38,000 to aid in the improvement of the roadway. Linn county will match this sum.

A new attendance record for national guard drill in a harvest and vacation month was set for July, 1922, by the Oregon national guard, according to the monthly report of drill attendance issued by George A. White, adjutant-general. A total of 1763 citizen soldiers attended each one of the four drills held in armories during the month.

Potato diseases are less prevalent in Deschutes county this season than last, according to Professor Hyslop, of the Oregon Agricultural college, who has completed his field inspection for seed certification. As a result 30 per cent of the registered fields passed inspection, which is a high percentage considering the high standard required.

Solution of the acute problem facing the pear growers of the Rogue River valley was reached when the Impiqua Valley Canning company leased the cold storage plant of the Roseburg Ice company. On account of the railroad situation the growers found themselves unable to ship any except their very best fruit, and it appeared that heavy losses would occur. The cannery has not sufficient capacity to take care of the surplus as it ripens, but by obtaining the cold storage plant can continue the season until the latter part of October, and will, in this manner, take care of all fruit which cannot be shipped in a fresh condition. The cannery expects to put up about 400 tons of pears this year.

"WE, THE PEOPLE OF THE UNITED STATES,—"

As decade after decade passes, we who live and prosper under the Constitution marvel more and more at the matchless wisdom, the almost prophetic vision of those early leaders of the nation who could devise a plan of government so perfect that it has endured basically unchanged for over a hundred and thirty years.

The story of the making of the Constitution and what it means to us is told in an absorbingly interesting manner in the latest of the Our Government stories now being issued by this Institution.
