Management, etc., required by the act of Congress of August 24, 1912, of the Sherman County Observer, published weekly at Moro, Oregon, for October 1922 State of Oregon,
County of Sherman,

Before me, a notary public, in and for the state and county aforesaid, personally appeared C. L. Ireland who, having been duly sworn according to law, deposes and says that he is the Editor, Publisher and Owner of the Sherman County Observer and that the following is to the best of his knowledge and belief, a true statement of the ownership, management, etc., of the aforesaid publication for the date shown in the above caption, required by the Act of August 24, 1912, embodied in section 443, postal laws and regulations, to-wit:
That the name and address of the publisher, editor, managing editor, and business manager is C. L. Ireland, Moro, Ore.
That the owner is the said C. L. Ireland.
There is absolutely no one who holds mortgage, bond, note or other debt against the said newspaper its equipment or building.
Signed C. L. Ireland.
Subscribed to and sworn before me this in town Wednesday from the Rutledge district.

L. R. Stoutt was in town Wednesday from his farm south of Bourbon station.

Virgil Cushman has moved to Gilliam county. He has rented a farm near Condon.

Dan McLachlan, Sr., has been visiting in the county this week from his home in Portland.

The usual Dorcas Society social for October will be held next Wednesday afternoon, October 4th, at the home of Mrs. O. L. Belshee.

Dr. C. L. Poley reports that the stork left a daughter, Janet Maxine by name, at the home of Mr. and Mrs.
C. E. Johnson, of this city, on Friday, September 22d.

Mrs. A. O. Anderson, mother of Mrs. A. S. Johnson of this city, has moved to Moro from Silverton, Oregon, with the expectation of making this city her permanent home.

Mr. and Mrs. A. C. Thompson had as guests the past week their son, J. R. Thompson, and his wife, of Portland. The visitors drove up and will return via the Columbia highway.

R. W. Kaseberg was a visitor in Moro on Tuesday, en route to Gilliam county from his home at Portland.
Mr. Kaseberg has large farming interests in the Ajax district, west of Condon.

at Salem during the state fair with Mrs. Robert Schand. Mrs. Schand was a former schoolmate of both Mr. and Mrs. Urquhart when they all lived at Ripley, Ontario.

Ben Shull, who has been developing an irrigation project near Hay Canyon during the last two years, was in town Monday. He said he had pipe on hand to be laid this winter that would put water on all his land.

Joe Peters, accompanied by Miss Alida Douma, sister to Mrs. Peters, drove to Sherwood, Oregon, last Saturday, where he met Mrs. Peters, who had been visiting there with friends.
All three journeyed on to Salem and attended the state fair.

J. M. Wilson and Roy Harbin, both of Kent, were business visitors in Moro Wednesday. Mr. Harbin expected to sell his wheat, but the price dropped over night. The wheat buyers were not disposed to pay the price quoted the previous evening.

panied by Mrs. Ina Axtell, drove to Eugene last week, where they visited with relatives. They planned to return this week, accompanied by Mr. and Mrs. O. W. Axtell, former residents of Moro, now living at Eugene.

A COLUMN OF BRIEF NEWS

Paragraphs on Community, County and State's Leading Events

Marius and Jake Douma were among those from Moro who attended the Pendleton Round-Up.

A. A. Dunlap and Charles Boardman were business visitors in Moro Wednesday afternoon from Kent.

Revella Calbreath has accepted a position with Virgil Cushman on a farm recently leased by Mr. Cushman near Condon.

J. C. McKean was absent from his duties as manager of the Farmers Elevator Co. last week. He attended the Pendleton Round-Up.

The usual silver tea for October, given by the Ladies Aid Society will be held at the home of Mrs. Truman Strong next Thursday afternoon, October 5th.

D. W. Wade and wife, from Waisburg, Washington, was visiting in Moro this week. Mr. Wade was formerly resident county manager for the Pacific Elevator Co.

L. R. French, accompanied by O. H. Buchholz, wife and two children, were in Moro Monday en route via auto to Portland from Grass Valley. It was the plan of the party to visit the state fair at Salem, before their return.

Fred Hennagin has bought the Locust-Grove farm property, known as the Woodworth place, from Herbert Root. Mr. Root, in making the deal, sold 605 acres; Mr. Hennagin buying 400 acres and the improvements and Fred Blau the remainder.

The lumber industry of the Pacific northwest, particularly of the lower Columbia river district, is enjoying one of the most prosperous periods in many years. All the mills and logging camps are running to their capacity.

Contracts for the erection of two buildings on the University of Oregon campus at Eugene to replace those destroyed by fire a few weeks ago, one as a home for the school of journalism and the other to house the school of architecture, have been awarded.

Portland was host last week to a party of mining and metallurgical engineers from eastern states, who passed through the city en route to the 126th meeting of the American Institute of Mining and Metallurgical Engineers, held at San Francisco September 25 to 29.

The man of a thousand faces will be the star at the Moro Theatre next Tuesday. Lon Chaney has won this name thru his admirable acting in many pictures. The story of "The Trap" is laid in the Canadian northwest. It is Chaney's first starring picture.

J. E. Coleman left last week for Carlsbad, California, where he will meet Mrs. Coleman, who has been visiting in California with the Coleman's two married daughters. Mr.
Coleman is making the round trip by auto and will probably return shortly after October 1st.

State Representative Charles Childs, Mrs. Childs, and their two children, Betty Marie and Gordon, were guests this week at the home of Mr. and Mrs. A. M. Wright of this city. Mr.
Childs is a member of the state legislature from Linn county. Mrs. Childs is teaching Dramatic Art and Reading at Albany College.

R. H. McKean, of Wasco, driving to the Pendleton Round-Up last week, broke a front wheel on his car when near Echo. He had to leave the car alongside the highway until it could be repaired. When he returned he found the headlights, spotlight, tires, and everything that could be taken off his car had been stolen by highway vandals.

To those who like the tang of the sea, George Melford's Paramount production, "Moran of the Lady Letty," featuring Dorothy Dalton and in which Rodolph Valentino, who won fame by his work in "The Sheik," is leading man, will prove a source of delight.
The picture caught on immensely in Portland theatres, and will appear here Saturday night at Moro Theatre.

The shortage of water in the city mains has been relieved by use of the new city deep well, equipped with an individual electric motor, pump jack, and air compressor that converts the jack into a double action pump. The electric motor is rated seven horsepower, operating with silent chain direct drive. The pulleys and chain were made to order, part in Seattle and part in Minnesota. A building is now being put up to house the new machinery.

Do your Christmas shopping early!
Only twelve weeks till the holidays.

Wireless telephones are popular, but wireless politics are on the eve of arriving.

Eventually we may be forced to concede that woman's sphere is the one on which we live.

The modest nickel is now becoming bold enough to venture out into the financial world unchaperoned by the usual guardian pennies.

A local pessimist says that the price of wheat will be so low next year that the farmers will have to give the laboring men all of the wheat as part pay for threshing it.

Professor Darling of Illinois has succeeded in obtaining pure grain alcohol from illuminating gas. Now we suppose that it will be correct to say that an inebriate is lit up.

The butcher man, he has a job That's really more like play:
He merely stands about the block And cuts up all the day.

The moonshiner should love his job Immensely, I should think;
For he can mix the livelong day,
And never has to drink.

Wanted—An old man. One who wants to live in the country on a small place by himself. The place can hardly be called desirable because besides living alone he would have to do his own cooking and do such work as called upon to do.

The one for this place should be a man used to hard work, but who wants a steady place, rain or shine, if he gives satisfaction. Don't care how old he is, if he is in good health, does not drink a drop of liquor, and who will not be bothered with relatives and friends calling upon him. It is not an attractive berth and would be too lonesome for most men.

Don't bother me with answering this advertisement unless you want the place and its disadvantages. It's even worse than I say it is. Address H7.

THE LITTLE BROTHERS OF THE NATION

There is no phase of the achievements of our government more creditable to us than that dealing with the acquirement and handling of our outlying possessions.

A foreigner speaking of the United States colonization work says: "There never was a colonizing power which set out so fast to teach and educate the native races with which it came in contact. One great fact in development which citizens of the United States understand is that money spent on essentials is bound to pay itself back."

An interesting account of our insular and other outlying possessions is given in the latest booklet of the series on Our Government being issued monthly by this Institution. Are you receiving them?
