Open Season on Deer Again Changes

When is the open season on deer in Oregon? The state game commission had their say; only to be overruled by a court injunction issued out of the circuit court for Marion county. We had thought that settled the deer season in this state for this year, but the attorney general for Oregon, from his office at Salem, issues a statement as to the open season on deer in which some differences from the previous dates are noted.

The attorney general holds that the legal season in which to hunt deer in Oregon this year are as follows: In the region west of the Cascade mountains the open season for deer will be between August 20 and October 30 with a bag limit of two deer. East of the Cascades the open season is from September 10 to October 31 with the exception of Union and Wallowa counties. In these counties the season opens September 10 and closes November 10.

Iowa Visitor Says Eastern Crops Short

C. M. Henn was a visitor in Moro this week, homeward bound to College Springs, Iowa, from a visit to Texas and California. The family live in Iowa, but have farming and property interests in Texas, California and Oregon. Their farm interests in this state is land close to Moro, operated by Wiley McDonald. Mr. Henn was well pleased with the returns from his land in this county, a total of 10,101 bushels having been harvested off 310 acres. He said that he had noticed the wheat crops of Kansas, Nebraska, and Oklahoma as he traveled west and that he considered the wheat farmers in that section would harvest very little wheat because of rain and rust conditions. Conditions in Texas were somewhat better, but would be far below a normal crop.

The Automotive Carriers' association of Oregon has filed with the public service commission a petition asking that the maximum work-day for automobile stages be fixed at 14 hours. The commission, in an order issued a few weeks ago, fixed the work-day for drivers at eight hours.

The Oregon public service commission has fixed a tentative valuation of $764,401 on the Great Southern railroad, which operates between The Dalles and Dufur. A tentative valuation of $507,982 has been placed on the Mount Hood railroad, which operates between Hood River and Dee.

Members of the public service commission have been invited by Frank Big Griffith, president of the Portland Railway, Light & Power company, to visit the corporation's properties in the vicinity of Oak Grove. The company is now expending more than $5,000,000 on a power project at this point.

The soldiers' bonus commission has loaned to veterans in Oregon a total of $11,600,000 out of a total authorized fund of $90,000,000, according to a statement issued by A. C. Hopkins, secretary of the commission. Of 4400 loans actually paid, approximately 1600 have been placed in Multnomah county.

Upon the suggestion of C. H. Faks of Salem, Ben Dey, attorney for the Southern Pacific company, has recommended to the state highway department and to the public service commission that approaches to all railroad crossings be graded up gradually, and thereby assist in the elimination of accidents.

The Eugene chamber of commerce has taken steps to have the name "Natron cut-off," which is the designation of the new railway soon to be built between Oakridge, in Lane county, to Kirk, in Klamath county, changed to "Eugene-Klamath cut-off." The Klamath Falls chamber will be asked to co-operate.

BRIEF NEWS

Paragraphs on State, County and Community's Events

Wiley McDonald and Carrol Sayra have had their outfit at work this week on the Chris Anderson farm at the southwest edge of this city.

The photoplay "The Three Buckaroos" billed for Moro last Tuesday failed to arrive in time, through fault of the transportation company.

Don't think because the showcase of china at Ginn, Coleman & Co. is all hand painted by Mrs. Coleman that it is expensive to buy, for nowhere will you get more for your money.

We acknowledge a gift of fine apricots this week from Truman Strong, raised on his farm north of Moro. They were of exceptional fine flavor and size, four nicely filling a berry container.

C. W. Smith finished threshing Saturday morning on the Johnson farm south of Moro, farmed by Fred Peetz. The outfit went through town shortly after noon on Saturday, bound for the home ahead.

Ray Williams, Edmund Stephens, and a young man by the name of Binder went to Portland last Friday for the purpose of making a driveway for Ford cars for the Williams Motor Co. of this city.

Starr Ruggles reports a heavy hail storm at his farm west of Moro last Monday evening. The hail practically ruined his garden, splitting open heads of cabbage and cutting the growing pumpkins off the vines.

Serena Hall, farming in the county east of Harmony school, reports a heavy rain at his place Tuesday night. He said the hard ground was wet to a depth close to two inches as a result of the storm.

W. B. Johnston and wife motored to The Dalles Monday evening, accompanied by C. M. Henn, who had spent the week-end at the Johnston home. Mr. Henn was on his way home to Iowa, intending to stop at Cheyenne to visit a daughter.

H. S. McDanel, from Portland, is visiting in Moro while looking after his farming interests west of Erskine. Mr. McDanel is authority for the statement that his 320 acres near Erskine has returned him better than $100 per month for several years.

Austin Foss received a broken left forearm Sunday, caused from a spill from his coaster wagon in front of the Moro Hardware store. He failed to consider the wet sidewalk, caused by rain, when attempting to make his usual quick action stop and turn.

F. E. Fagan and family, who have been visiting in this city at the A. M. Young home, returned to Woodburn late last week. Mrs. Fagan's mother, Mrs. A. M. Young, accompanied them on their return and will visit in Woodburn about two weeks.

Irwin Fahlraender has been nursing a painful right leg this week. He stepped backwards on the top step of the back entrance to the postoffice, missed the step and went to the bottom where a collision with an empty coal bucket cut his leg above the ankle.

A weed seed in the right eye of L. H. Martin caused him intense pain this week, until Dr. Poley removed it in small pieces. At first it was thought to be a piece of steel. When removed it left a clear impression on the eye ball the exact size of the seed.

Mrs. M. L. Hoskinson had fifteen chickens, just the right size for fries, stolen Tuesday night. The same night Deputy Sheriff Hickson heard chickens squawking in the willows bordering the municipal camp grounds, where it is thought the chicken thieves had a late supper.

An interesting account of naval operations of submarine vessels, written and illustrated with descriptive drawings by Irwin Fahlraender of this city, is published in the September number of Science and Invention. The article, while not technical, carries a fund of information.

Margery Land May, the prolific writer of photo play stories, has given the screen nothing more delightful than "Destiny's Isle," coming to Moro theatre next Tuesday. The story has been given splendid production and is presented by a hand picked cast of favorites for the leading roles.

The annual Harvest Ball "that am" will be given at Moro opera house Friday evening, August 31st. Music will be furnished by Bob Foister's old reliable orchestra. Supper will be served at Hotel Moro. Come on and dance, you fellows; the floor is fine, the music great, and supper above the average.

S. D. Montgomery, brother of C. L. Montgomery of this city, is up from Portland exercising in the harvest field at the L. V. Moore farm. S. D. and family are former residents of this city. He reports that he is now grandpa, a son having been born to their daughter, Mrs. Charles Blair, and family in Portland on August 1st.

The rain storm of last Sunday evening registered .30 of an inch at the government experiment farm. The rain fall at Wasco totaled .28 of an inch. Aside from delay to harvest operations, the rain did little damage to wheat crops in this vicinity. Kent reports a heavier rain than was recorded at this place, with longer harvest delay.

News Items From Kent and Vicinity

Carl Adams has sold his city residence property to Arthur T. Holt.

Miss Ruth Adams had her tonsils removed Sunday at the Grass Valley offices of Dr. Thatcher.

A number of farmers have sold their wheat in this locality, even if the price is far from satisfactory.

Frank Brown took his small son to Grass Valley last Sunday where the young man had his tonsils removed.

The rain on Monday and Tuesday evenings has delayed farm work in this section. A number of farmers will finish harvesting this week.

Herbert Smith and family, of Mitchell, are visiting with Mrs. Smith's mother and sister, Mrs. Ida Davis and Mrs. J. C. Wilson.

Residents of Kent can now secure fresh meats. The store is being supplied by L. W. Amick, who always has good quality this time of year.

There is quite a lot of wheat being received at the warehouses at this place. Hauling is also reported as being active to the warehouses at Bourbon and Wilcox.

The telephone company has a crew of men at this place building the new line being constructed through Sherman county. Their tent city makes quite an addition to Kent.

Judging by the length of time it takes to complete the Sherman highway through Kent from Grass Valley to the south county line, we will have a good one when it is completed.

Jos. Patterson and wife went to Moro Tuesday evening where they met Dr. Poley by appointment and accompanied him to Portland. Mr. Patterson was intending to submit to an operation if the doctors thought it would improve his general health.

The grain grown by the wheat growers association members at Kent is being delivered to and shipped through the Crocker Grain Co., operating warehouses at Kent and Wilcox. Manager Clifford says that he has orders to ship all association wheat as soon as it is received.

CHURCH NEWS

Notes of Interest to All Local Denominations

The usual morning services at the Presbyterian church, Sunday school at ten o'clock, with classes for people of all ages. At eleven o'clock the morning theme will be "Jesus Able to Save."

Rev. Elmer E. McVicker, former pastor of Moro Presbyterian church will be in town over next Sunday, spending a part of his vacation visiting friends here. It is quite likely that he will preach at the morning service.

At a recent meeting of the Teachers' Council of the Presbyterian Sunday School plans were started to observe Rally Day on September 23rd, the first Sunday after the opening of the public schools. A committee was appointed, and realization of plans will be published later.

Christian Science services are held every Sunday morning at eleven o'clock and on Wednesday evening at eight o'clock, at the church building on Main street. The subject of next Sunday's lesson-sermon is "Mind." Golden Text: 1 Peter 3:8. Finally, be ye all of one mind, having compassion one of another, love as brethren, be pitiful, be courteous. Responsive Reading: 1 Chronicles 28: 2, 4, 6, 8-10. Sunday school at 10:15 in the Sunday school room. Reading room open daily at the rear of the church. All are cordially invited to attend the church services and make use of the reading room.

Albany College, backed by the Presbyterians through the Synod of Oregon, will start out as a self-help college next month, the year opening September 17th. The directors are backing the faculty in the plan to create work this year for a hundred college students. All students must do at least one hour's work a day, while those who need it may get enough work, so that expenses can be reduced to one hundred dollars a year. The college starts out with a new president, Dr. Clarence W. Greene, who has back of him 17 years experience as an educator. The standards of a first class college will be observed in all the instructors; the standing of all the instructors; and the financial backing necessary. This ought to be a great boon to Oregon. Young men and women who really desire an education will not have to wait because of lack of money, at Albany they can earn their way while they study.

Sheriff Chrisman had a wild goose chase to Biggs last Sunday, accompanied by R. W. Blake of Grass Valley. They were hunting for a man who had been working in the warehouse at Bourbon, leaving the country owing Mr. Blake a store bill. Not being able to secure a warrant for his arrest, the man and his wife left by train for Denver, Colorado.

A thrilling photoplay of fine pictorial value is "On the High Seas" coming this Saturday to Moro theatre. It is an Irvin Willatt production, for Paramount, with Dorothy Dalton and Jack Holt in the featured roles and supported by Mitchell Lewis. It is acclaimed to be one of the best sea adventure photoplays of the year.

Board of Equalization Meeting

Notice: There will be a meeting of the County Board of Equalization for Sherman County, Oregon, at the Court house on the second Monday in September, at Moro, Oregon, that being the 10th day of September 1923, to publicly examine the Assessment Rolls, to correct all errors in valuation, description of lands or other property assessed by me, and it shall be the duty of persons interested to appear at the time and place appointed. All petitions must be made in writing and verified by the oath of the applicant and filed with the board within fifteen days from the time it is by law required to meet.

Otto Peetz, County Assessor.

Overweighted Dog.

There is a farmer in Virginia who for a long time good naturedly complied with the requests of amateur hunters for the loan of his dog. Finally, however, the farmer's patience was exhausted and he thus delivered himself to a man who asked for the dog one day: "See here, my friend, there wasn't a better water dog living until you shooting gets too hot to borrow him. Now his hide is so full of shot that he'd sink to the bottom like a brick."—Philadelphia Ledger.
