NIGHT SESSIONS BY SENATE ARE BEGUN

Filibuster Blocks Consideration of Important Legislation in Upper House.

Washington, D. C.—The 68th congress is leisurely writing the final chapter of its history.

The house, having disposed of all of the regular supply bills, is moving along slowly in the consideration of the general legislation on its calendar.

The senate, in less fortunate position with respect to appropriation measures, feels a keener urge for haste, but is blocked by a filibuster directed at several measures.

With the inauguration of regular night sessions Monday, leaders in the senate are hopeful of speeding up business, but are faced with real controversies over the emergency officer retirement bill, the Cape Cod measure and the conference report on Muscle Shoals.

House leaders have made no plans for night sessions.

Satisfied that all of the appropriation bills, including a huge deficiency measure still to be passed, will be in the hands of the president well in advance of adjournment on March 4, leaders of both the house and senate are concerned as to the fate of several other measures, notably the postal pay and rate increase bill and farm relief legislation.

Farm legislation still is in the formative stage, and until the house and senate agriculture committees can come to agreement on a bill to embody the recommendations of the president's agricultural conference, leaders can make no specific plans as to time for consideration.

BILL PROVIDES FOR MARKETING BOARD

Washington, D. C.—Creation of the federal co-operative marketing board, one of the principal recommendations of the president's agricultural conference, was proposed in the senate by Senator Capper, republican, Kansas, while the senate and house agriculture committees both continued examination of members of the conference with a view to proposing other legislation to carry out its findings.

The Capper bill followed exactly the terms of the measure offered in the house by Representative Haugen, republican, Iowa, chairman of the agriculture committee of that chamber, which has the approval, in principle, of Chairman Carey of the president's conference.

The measure was sent in the usual course to the senate agriculture committee, which plans to continue its hearings this week and begin formulation of a program next week.

The members of the president's conference appearing before both the senate and house committees continued to stress the importance of broadening the field of co-operative associations.

ARMY BILL IS APPROVED

President Signs Measure Carrying Total of $330,180,000.
Washington, D. C.—President Coolidge signed the army appropriation bill, carrying $330,180,000.

In addition to providing for the regular military establishment, the national guard and organized reserve, the bill provides $40,000,000 for continuation of river and harbor projects, $10,000,000 for flood control work on the Mississippi and $750,000 for the Panama canal.

The president also signed the naval appropriation bill, with its request for another arms conference.

The president affixed his signature without public comment on the conference suggestion.

House Gives Longworth Baby Cheer.
Washington, D. C.—Nicholas Longworth, republican floor leader and son-in-law of the late Theodore Roosevelt, was given a tremendous ovation Saturday when word was flashed, just as the house opened that his wife, Alice Roosevelt Longworth, had given birth to a six and a half pound girl in a Chicago hospital.

Humphrey O. K'd by Committee.
Washington, D. C.—After six weeks of investigation the senate interstate commerce committee ordered a favorable report on the nomination of William E. Humphrey, formerly of Seattle, Wash., to be a member of the federal trade commission. The nomination will now be considered by the senate.

Coolidge Approves Australian Cruise.
Washington, D. C.—President Coolidge has given final approval to the cruise of the United States fleet to Australia this summer.

W. S. GIFFORD

Walter S. Gifford, who has been elected president of the American Telegraph & Telephone company, the biggest public service corporation in the United States. He began his business twenty years ago as a pay roll clerk in Chicago.

GAS INVESTIGATION ASKED IN CONGRESS

Washington, D. C.—A select committee of seven members would be appointed to investigate recent increases in gasoline prices under a joint resolution introduced in the house by Representative Zihlman, republican, Maryland.

Under the resolution the proposed selection would be composed of those members elected to the next congress, and would have power to issue subpoenas, send for persons and papers, take sworn testimony and be empowered to sit where it desired.

The resolution would direct that the committee investigate stocks of crude oil and gasoline in the United States as of January 1, 1925, and their owners and holders, as well as the price of crude oil and gasoline at the refineries and in the open market on that date. It also would authorize the committee to inquire into the possible relations the recent crude oil price increases bear to the gasoline-price jump and if the increases were general among all companies throughout the United States.

JARDINE CHOSEN FOR AGRICULTURAL POST

Appointments to Cabinet For New Term Completed By President Coolidge.

Washington, D. C.—President Coolidge completed the cabinet that will serve with him after March 4 with the appointment of William M. Jardine of Manhattan, Kan., president of the Kansas State Agricultural college, to be secretary of agriculture.

All posts now are filled, the only hitch being the opposition in the senate to confirming the nomination of Charles B. Warren of Michigan to be attorney-general.

The special session of the senate on March 4, however, is expected to dispose of this stumbling block. Conforming to his policy of cleaning off his desk in preparation for his new administration, the president also sent to the capitol the nomination of Frank B. Kellogg of Minnesota, now ambassador to Great Britain, to be secretary of state, succeeding Charles Evans Hughes, March 4.

Cecil Creel, director of the University of Nevada Agricultural college, is expected to get the assistant secretaryship when Jardine takes office.

Jardine is a product of Idaho ranches, on which he was born January 18, 1879. Moving to Kansas about 1900, he took up agriculture from the academy standpoint, teaching several agricultural schools. Later he became affiliated with the federal government in experimental work. He was named president of the Kansas State Agricultural college in 1918 after eight years in connection with it. Recently he was a member of the president's agricultural commission, whose recommendations now are pending before congress.

FLOYD COLLINS IS FOUND DEAD

Sand Cave, Ky.—All operations to recover the body of Floyd Collins from the Sand Cave tomb in which he was trapped 18 days ago were abandoned after four friends of Collins and a coroner's jury of experienced men had verified the judgment of H. T. Carmichael, general supervisor, that further efforts were futile and would result only in further cost of human life.

The last members of the coroner's jury came from the shaft at 11:25 and H. T. Tucker, acting coroner, announced that he had seen Collins, recognized him, was certain that he was dead, and was equally sure "there is no way of removing the body without probable further loss of human life."

Floyd Collins was reached and found dead at 2:45 Monday afternoon, after rescuers had penetrated into the original sand cave where Collins was caught.
