Annual Clean-Up Day For Moro on April 22nd

The Moro post of the American Legion has set Wednesday April 22d as the date for the annual clean-up. Mayor Kunsman is declaring a half-holiday so that all may take part. The Legion asks that all rubbish be conveniently placed in the alleys so that it may be gathered up and hauled away. This service is free so everyone has a chance to get rid of undesirable rubbish and at the same time contribute to the better appearance of the city.

All Around Our Neighborhood

There's more than one way to handle these youngsters. It's no easy job trying to bring up young daughters these days. Mrs. Burns ought to know—she has three of them. And last summer she worried dreadfully—all the young people going on long auto-rides after night. So this spring she rummaged around in the garret and barn and unearthed some old chairs and a table or two and a porch swing they hadn't had up for years. Then she got some Acme Quality Enamel-Kote and copied some painted furniture she had seen in town—the prettiest pale green with decorations in lavender and pink and blue—and made a lot of cretonne cushions. Then she painted some old porch boxes and filled them with ferns from the woods and bought some new records for the phonograph. I wish you could see all the boys flock down there now. It begins to look as if she wouldn't be able to keep the girls at home after all—they say Gertrude is engaged already.

Picture Show News For The Current Week

The Universal Jewel feature, "The Family Secret," which is to be shown at Moro theatre on Saturday, April 18th, with Baby Peggy in the star role, is not by any means to be confused with her past comedy career. This picture is not a comedy but a multiple reel dramatic production in which a baby star, supported by a cast of famous grown ups, carries the interest of a powerful story of love and penalized misjudgment. Century comedies first brought this little child into the limelight and now big stories, and big casts give her exceptional opportunities.

"Sundown" depicts the story of a vanishing people—the American cattlemen—forced to leave the land they had conquered by incoming homesteaders who have been apportioned small sections of the great ranches. It tells how the cattlemen banded together their enormous herds and trailed them across the deserts and mountains, across the Mexican border, to once again pioneer a new land where their cattle may graze. A beautiful love story is interwoven with this theme.

The cast of "Sundown" includes Bessie Love, Hobart Bosworth, Roy Stewart, Charlie Murray, Jere Austin, Charles Crockett, Wilfred North, Charles Sellen, Arthur Hoyt and Margaret McWade.

The biggest kind of a laughing success. That is what Douglas MacLean has in "The Yankee Consul," suggested by the famous Henry Blossom and Alfred G. Robyn musical comedy of laughing memory. When MacLean appeared in "The Hottentot" the critics thought he had climbed the highest peak of film comedy. When they saw "Going Up," they declared he had surpassed "The Hottentot." Now he comes along with "The Yankee Consul," which the same critics unhesitatingly and unanimously proclaim is funnier than the others. It doesn't seem possible yet MacLean has accomplished it.

Easter Sunday Attendance Fills Churches

Easter Sunday was observed with capacity audiences at the various churches last Sunday. Owing to the fine weather it was an ideal opportunity for everybody to attend. The Christian Endeavor society held an inspiring meeting, combined with a breakfast, on the top of Gordon ridge knoll. W. E. Buell principal of Moro high school, conducted the devotional hour and told the Easter story. The young people after a hearty breakfast hurried back to town just in time to attend their various Sunday school exercises at 10:00.

More than 200 people gathered at the Presbyterian church Easter morning to listen to the singing and speaking by the children, which was thoroughly enjoyed by all present. An offering of more than $17 was taken up for foreign missions. Those who helped put on this program deserve special credit for the success of the service. At the Sunday school and at the morning service the junior vested choir of nineteen voices sang special numbers. At the morning service Mrs. Roy Kunsman sang "Open the Gates of the Temple." This was so greatly enjoyed that she was requested to repeat it at the evening service. The morning message of the pastor was "The Risen Christ."

The union evening meeting on Easter Sunday was largely in the hands of the Presbyterian choir. About 175 people listened attentively as the following program was rendered, Mrs. Feenstra presiding: Voluntary, Mrs. Roy Kunsman; solo, Mrs. Roy Kunsman; hymn, congregation; duet, Mrs. Hutchcroft and Mrs. W. Belshe; solo, Miss Linnie Belshe; prayer, Mrs. R. A. Feenstra; solo, Mr. Tom Fraser; scripture, Mrs. R. A. Feenstra; duet, Mrs. M. A. Armstrong and Miss Dorothy Perkins; trio, Misses Linnie Belshe, Laura Urquhart, and Evelyn Christianson; announcements, offering and offertory; hymn, congregation; anthem, choir; sermon, "The Meaning of Easter" Rev. H. G. Hanson; anthem, choir; benediction, Mrs. R. A. Feenstra; voluntary, Mrs. Roy Kunsman.

I. O. O. F. Will Celebrate 106th Lodge Anniversary

J. E. Norton and Fred Brown, members of the Kent I. O. O. F. lodge, were in Moro on Monday evening for the purpose of interesting the local members of the I. O. O. F. and Rebecca lodges in the plans being made by Kent lodge for their entertainment on Sunday, April 26th, when the Kent lodge will entertain the lodges of Sherman county and Antelope in honor of the 106th anniversary of the founding of the Odd Fellow lodge. The program as planned at present begins with a basket dinner at 12 noon in the basement of the high school building, followed by a program in the school auditorium. All members of the I. O. O. F. and Rebecca lodges and their friends are invited to attend.

High School Classes Enjoy Weiner Feast

The junior class of Moro high school entertained the freshman class last Friday evening at a weiner feast in return for a party put on by the freshman for the junior class last Christmas. The plans were that the festivities of the evening were to be held at DeMoss park, but upon arrival at that place it was found that a similar party was being held in the park by classes from the Wasco school. Following a conference, it was decided that Logans Grove be the objective point for the feed. In making the journey to the last named place, two cars became lost, but finally all gathered round the camp cook fire in time to join in the feast of weiners, buns, pickles, maple bars and marshmallows. Following the feed, games were played such as Three Deep, Little Brass Wagon, Last Couple Out, etc. Those attending the feed arrived home shortly after midnight, voting it a wonderful party and good time.

Several automobiles, containing members and their wives of Columbia Commandery No. 13, Knights Templar, left Moro early Easter Sunday for Goldendale to attend the annual Easter service of that order and a banquet given by the members of the Knights Templar of Goldendale. This Easter observance—known to the membership as the Easter Caravan—is obligatory upon the part of all Knights Templar throughout the world and is one of the principal Templar affairs of the year.

CHURCH NEWS

Notes of Interest to All Local Denominations

Moro School Plans May Day Celebration

The Moro public school is planning an elaborate May festival to be staged in the city park on the first of May. A Queen of the May will rule throughout the day. Each class in high school has its own candidate for queen and much rivalry is being shown in the election. The candidates and the classes for which they are representatives are as follows: Senior class, Gladys Gentry. Junior class, Gladys Gentry. Sophomore class, Jessie Belshe. Freshmen class, Evelyn Christianson. The voting for the queen will take place at the confectionery store and the pharmacy. One vote is counted for every cent dropped in the bell banks provided for that purpose. The standing of the candidates will be announced from time to time. The contest closes Friday, April 25th.

Boy Scout Troop To Be Fed On Weiners

The boy scouts of Rev. Feenstra's troop, who have been carrying on an interpatrol contest for the last few weeks, will enjoy a weiner feast at DeMoss park this Friday evening at the expense of the loosing side. Points in the contest were won on new memberships, personal neatness, regular attendance, good turns performed, and observance of scout rules.

The younger scouts, under the leadership of Rev. Feenstra, have so far had a very successful year. Scouts Chas. Burnett and Kenneth McKean are patrol leaders and in consequence of the contest just closed their patrols are filled nearly to capacity. Plans are being made by the local scout leaders for a week's camp in the mountains at the close of school and the boys are eagerly planning for their annual big hike.

Moro Team Plays Good Ball At Mosier Park

Moro base ball team journeyed to Mosier last Sunday where they put up a good game of ball that resulted in a 8-9 score in favor of the Mosier team. Batteries used in the game were Barzee and Ellsworth with Peetz being the bat for Moro while Mosier used Bonny as pitcher and Forest as catcher. Feature points of the game was the playing of Moore as short stop, the nine shut outs hooked by Barzee against Mosier and the home run swatted by Moore to right field when Moro had two men on bases. Those scoring for Moro were Barzee 2, Miller, J. Searcy, Moore, Peetz, Hanley, Johnson, total 8. Those who attended the game from here report a good game, a good day, and fine grounds upon which to play ball.

Pupils of Moro School Divided Into 3 Camps

Pupils of Moro school have divided into three camps for the purpose of staging a subscription contest for the Country Gentleman. The winning side will be banqueted by the two losing sides. The contest closes next Thursday, the 23rd. In addition to the subscription commissions, which goes to the school student body funds, each contestant who secures three subscriptions will receive an automatic pencil; those securing six, if a girl, will receive a small pen and, if a boy, will receive an automatic opening knife; those securing ten will receive a Conklin fountain pen. The three sides are designated by colors. Orange captained by Helen Bryant; red by Darold Belshe; green by Lloyd Hennagin.

MORO THEATRE
MORO, OREGON

"The Yankee Consul"
Friday, April 17

The story of a young New Yorker whom circumstances force to impersonate an American consul in South America. The photoplay is said to be even better than "Going Up," Mr. MacLean's first independent production.

"The Family Secret"
Saturday, April 18

Fate's Balance Wheel does queer tricks. It gives Garry Holmes a beautiful wife and child, and a father-in-law with a disposition like a homeless hornet. Was that the Family Secret? Did Garry get Stung? See "The Family Secret." It's a Universal Jewel, starring Baby Peggy.

"Sundown"
Tuesday, April 21

"Sundown" is a story from the pen of Earl Hudson, who also gave the production his personal supervision. It tells of the pioneers of today, the cattlemen who fought for what they had and then were forced by homesteaders to cross the Mexican border in search of new grazing lands for their herds.

"Dynamite Smith"
Friday, April 24

"Dynamite Smith" is so big, powerful and gripping that it lifts you out of yourself and sweeps you into a tumult of emotions. You laugh and cry, gasp and thrill. No human being can see this poignant drama and not be moved by its mighty heart appeal.

"The Reckless Age"
Saturday, April 25

It's a mad, merry whirl of complications—thrills and laughs crowded one on the other in quick succession—a love story to add a little sugar to the spice—and one of the best things Reginald Denny has ever done for Universal.
